Rocky Is After More Moderates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rockefeller campaign leaders wooed supporters of other Republican "moderates" today to join the Lodge camp in backing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's presidential primary.

They followed up quickly after leaders of the drive to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination urged his followers to vote for the New York governor in the June 2 primary.

The Rockefeller - Lodge alliance didn't surprise anyone, least of all Sen. Barry Goldwater, in view of Rockefeller's victory in the Oregon primary last week.

Only Rockefeller and Goldwater are competing for California's 86 delegates to the GOP national convention. No write - ins are allowed, and the Lodge people concluded their best bet was to throw in with Rockefeller.

Similar Philosophy

"We are convinced," said a Lodge backer, "that the Rockefeller slate closely parallels the moderate Republican philosophy of Ambassador Lodge.

Rockefeller, in a New York statement before flying out for four days of campaigning here, said he's enthusiastic and optimistic about his chances in California.

Goldwater, winding up a three - day stint in California Monday, said he had been expecting the Lodge forces to get behind his opponent. The Arizona conservative said it was nothing more than a "stop Goldwater movement."

No Deals, He Says

Rockefeller said, "I think the trend already had set in after the Oregon primary, when many of the Lodge people came over. I want to say again I have made no deals, nor will I make any."

Goldwater, who ran third to Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon, said he saw no visible signs of Lodge strength in California.

Paul Grindle of Boston, national campaign director of the Draft Lodge Committee, said followers of the ambassador to South Viet Nam constitute the largest single bloc of voters in California.

Not Giving Up

He emphasized that his group is not giving up hope of winning the nomination for Lodge.

Leonard K. Firestone, Rockefeller's Southern California chairman, indirectly invited supporters of other possible Republican contenders to help Rockefeller in his California battle.

He said Lodge "stands within the mainstream of Republican thinking, as do Gov. Rockefeller, Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, as well as other party leaders."

Registration for summer day session 1 is scheduled for June 19 and 20 from 9 a. m. until noon. Summer day session 1 meets Monday through Friday from June 22 to July 22.

Registration for summer day session 11 is July 27 from 9 a. m. until 12 noon with classes meeting five days a week from July 28 to August 27.

The summer evening session will run from June 22 until Aug. 13 with most classes meeting two evenings per week. A single exception to that evening schedule is beginning typewriting which will meet three evenings per week.

Full College Credit

In commenting upon this first summer program at Ulster County's new Comunity College, Dean Masten said: "We are most pleased to offer to the citizens of the community this opportunity for many of them to accelerate their college programs and also to offer an opportunity to those who desire to take courses for their own personal satisfaction and self-development. Summer session classes are also open to students of other colleges who may be spending the summer months in the Kingston area. College officials feel that offering an extensive program is an important responsibility of the college and will provide better service to the community."

Summer offerings carry full college credit and adhere to the same standards as the regular fall and spring course offerings. Students will be permitted to carry a maximum of six semester hours of credit at any one time during the summer program. Tuition will be charged residents and non-residents. A small registration fee is charged for all summer students.

Say Cuba on Wartime Footing

Invasion Reports Have Communists Desperate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Refugees from Cuba say the country is on a virtual wartime emergency basis because an exile group announced plans to be fighting on Cuban soil by Wednesday.

Highways Jammed

Exiles arriving here from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship said highways in Cuba were jammed with troop - carrying trucks, tanks and cannon, heading into mountain and coastal areas.

The Castro regime, they said, apparently is taking every possible defensive measure against raids such as that of last week when exile raiders burned a sugar mill in the eastern port of Pilon.

Ramon Espino, one of 48 refugees arriving from Cuba over the weekend, said "invasion jitters have made the Communists desperate."

Widespread arrests of Cubans suspected of anti - Castro leanings were reported by exile sources.

"It appears to be something like the situation which preceded the Bay of Pigs invasion of April 1961," said an anti-Castro leader, quoting underground sources.

The reports led to speculation among refugees that new attacks on the Cuban regime, expected today or Wednesday might be postponed.

Two Leaders Disappear

Manuel Ray, leader of one anti-Castro action group, recently disappeared from his headquarters in San Juan, P.R., and Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, a noted guerrilla fighter, has faded from sight here.

One exile leader said Ray's pledge to be fighting in Cuba before May 20 "would hot lead him into any foolhardy attack if the time is not ripe. Likewise, Gutierrez Menoyo, who has no timetable, would judge the situation by facts, rather than on the basis of emotion. Yet I would not say that attacks either today or tomorrow are out of the question."

New Paltz Asking That Rev. Porter Remain to Serve

The New Paltz Village Board of Trustees unanimously passed a resolution Monday night at a special meeting asking for reconsideration of the decision to transfer the Rev. Willett R. Porter, New Paltz Methodist minister to another church.

The board instructed the village clerk to write a letter to Methodist Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke asking for reconsideration in the matter. They pointed out that the Rev. M. Porter has earned the admiration and respect of everyone in the village and emphasized that he has taken an active part in all community activities.

He will be sorely missed, they said, not only by members of his church but by all the citizens of New Paltz.

The letter also emphasized that the New Paltz community is passing through a period of rapid growth with many of the problems which attend such growth. "We feel," the trustees said, "that the Rev. Mr. Porter is needed here at this time."

The Rev. Mr. Porter has served the three churches of the New Paltz Methodist Parish which include Lloyd and Plutarch for the past 13 years, coming directly to this area after ordination. He has been one of the leaders in the migrant ministry program so vital to the farming areas surrounding the village, as well as conducting an active church program for students attending the State University College there.

Through the years he has been a vital force in a variety of community endeavors.

Methodist appointments will be announced officially at the Annual Conference June 9 through 14 at Drew University. Merger of New York and New York East Conferences into the New York Conference will take place at that time.

180 Strike Today At Lehigh Cement Plant in Alsen

A grievance session Monday on undisclosed issues between Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Alsen, Greene County, and United Cement, Lime Gypsum Workers of America Local 129, was not resolved and approximately 180 plant workers went on strike at the plant this morning.

Neither management or labor would discuss the issues with the press. However it was reported that the grievance session which brought in Edward Eidt, federal mediator, involved certain fringe benefits.

Talks yesterday were apparently stalemated and no new meeting for further talks has been scheduled.

Union pickets were still patrolling the plant entrance at noon today.

Allen H. Uhler, plant manager and Audin Straub, union business manager were unavailable for comment as the Freeman went to press.

Russians Back Up Cambodia

Soviet Critical Of Policy in Asia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union unleashed a sharp attack today on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia at the very outset of debate in the U.N. Security Council on charges of aggression brought by Cambodia against the United States.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko did so in challenging the right of a delegate from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate. But the council overrode his objections and voted 9-2 to let the South Viet Nam representative participate.

Czechs Stand Fast

Only Communist Czechoslovakia supported the Soviet demand.

Fedorenko declared that the United States was responsible for alleged acts of aggression committed against Cambodia.

"It is the United States that sent its troops into the so-called Republic of South Viet Nam," Fedorenko asserted. "No representative of that regime should be seated here."

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said that council rules provide for seating of a representative involved in an issue before it.

Invited to Table

He said the only equitable procedure for the council to follow would be to seat the representative.

P. H. Am Khac Rau, charge d'affaires for South Viet Nam in Washington, was invited to the council table.

The council was called together to consider a Cambodian charge that U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had violated Cambodian territory, killed Cambodian civilians and threatened peace and stability in the area.

Diplomatic sources said the

Mayor Proclaims Eye Bank Day

Mayor John J. Schwenk has proclaimed Wednesday, May 20, as "Hadassah Eye Bank Day," granting permission to the members of the women's Zionist organization to man designated business corners throughout the day for the purpose of collecting funds to fight trachoma, a dread eye disease prevalent in the Middle East.

Noting that Israel is celebrating the 16th anniversary of its independence, the mayor said in his proclamation, "For all the years of its existence, Israel has been regarded by the United States as a truly democratic outpost in the Middle East." He urged local citizens to support Hadassah's effort to "Help Save An Eye" through contributions on "Eye Bank Day."

Hits Obnoxious Amendments

Won't Allow CR Voting This Week, Dixie Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today Southerners had concluded the package of amendments that Senate leaders are backing would make the civil rights bill "even more obnoxious."

He told newsmen also that the Southerners had decided at their weekly caucus to permit no votes on amendments to the bill for the remainder of this week.

Sponsors of the bill had forecast that a vote might be allowed on the pending jury trial amendment after today's Maryland primary.

Not Part of Strategy

Russell said "we are not counting on this in our strategy here" although he conceded the Dixie forces would welcome any psychological boost from a strong showing in Maryland by Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

The Southern caucus was the first to end of three morning closed meetings on the bill.

The other two were Democratic and Republican conferences at which the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was to be explained.

No final decisions are expected, but leaders believe they'll leave the sessions with a pretty good idea of which of the 70 changes are acceptable.

The Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he thinks additional GOP sessions may be necessary.

The assistant Democratic leader, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, told reporters he hopes one session will be enough for his side. But Humphrey said individual conferences with undecided Democrats will be going on for some time.

The amendments are designed to win over some of the senators who are lukewarm or cool to the House-passed bill. If they can be satisfied, the reasoning goes, they will support a move to silence the Southern talkathon that has carried the bill to 59 days of debate.

Machinery Available

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he feels each senator should search his conscience and determine whether the time has arrived for a vote.

After the weekly breakfast of Democratic leaders with President Johnson today, Mansfield said "the machinery for voting is available," an apparent reference to cutting off debate.

"It will soon be up to individual senators to determine whether they want to vote early or continue long and exhausting sessions which would delay not only the passage of

Turnout Spotty For Maryland's Democratic Vote

BALTIMORE (AP)—The early turnout of voters was spotty today for Maryland's Democratic presidential primary enlivened by the civil rights issue and intensive campaigning of Gov. George C. Wallace.

An expected heavy vote did not appear to be materializing in the inconclusive opening hours of primary day. The weather was pleasant — sunny with temperatures in the high 70s.

Brewster Confident

There was some whispering among Democratic leaders that the Alabama governor might win, but Wallace's opponent, Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, said "our side will win."

Brewster filed as a favorite son in an effort to make sure that Maryland's 48 votes in the national nominating convention go to President Johnson. The delegation will be committed to

No Action Taken on Renovation

Present Building Cost Was $75,000

Renovation of the existing Ulster County jail facilities is not the answer to the present overcrowded conditions at the jail and "serious consideration" should be given to the construction of an entirely new facility. That is the recommendation of the New York State Commission of Correction following an inspection of the jail on March 6, last.

In a report of the inspection submitted by Richard E. Woodward, senior inspector, he commends Sheriff Claude Bell and his staff on the excellent condition of the existing facilities and says:

"The authorities should give serious thought to providing the sheriff with adequate facilities but it is felt that completion of the upper or fourth tier of cells is not the solution to the problem."

New Jail Is Urged

The report states that during the past year the Commission approved preliminary plans for alterations to the present jail, "but there has been no positive action taken on any construction. It is felt that serious consideration should be given to the construction of an entirely new facility as the present jail was built in 1901 and it has been found that alterations and additions to a structure of this age are extremely costly."

Some time ago the board of supervisors authorized a preliminary survey to be made of the old courthouse and jail by Augustus R. Schrowang Associates, architects.

No Work on Jail

Much of the work on the courthouse has been completed but nothing has been done in regard to renovations or changes in the sheriff's department or jail.

At the last meeting of the board of supervisors the board authorized a study be made by the firm of Augustus R. Schrowang Associates of the courthouse facilities not included in the previous renovation plan. That authorization includes a study of the sheriff's department facilities but no specific mention was made as to the jail.

The report of the March 6 inspection by Senior Inspector Woodward states that at the time of the inspection there were 38 male prisoners confined to the jail, 28 being adults and 10 minors. Due to the limited number of cells it is not possible for the sheriff to comply strictly with the provisions of the Correction Law in regard to the classification, the report notes.

Records In Order

Records are properly kept and in good order and the report notes that there had been a high in jail population of 50 in both January and February and during the past year there were as many as ·60 detained in jail at one time. During the past calendar year there were 1,131 prisoners processed and during that period the daily average population was 48.

All areas of the jail were visited by the inspector and safety arrangements were found to be good.

"The present jail was first occupied on January 1, 1901, constructed at a cost of $75,000 and is a wing on the court house. The previous jail which was built in 1818 was also a wing on

Favorable Council Action Tonight May Mean Urban Renewal Start by Next Fall

Favorable Common Council action tonight on downtown's Broadway East Urban renewal project, expected because of almost unamious approval at a May 13 hearing, could mean actual start of the project in the fall.

The aldermen, meeting in a recessed session at 7:30 p. m. in the council chamber, City Hall, are due to legislate on urban renewal and on proposed consolidation of city bond issues prior to sale.

First difinite action toward getting a project started here came on Aug. 20, 1959 during the administration of former Mayor Edwin F. Radel, when a contract was approved for preparation of a master plan, an initial requirement before start of urban renewal.

On Oct. 28, 1959, the city received from Raymond & May Associates, local planning consultants, a formal bid for federal aid. Soon after that application was filed with the Housing and Home Finance Agency for $67,000 to be used for preparation of plans.

Prior to above action, however, urban renewal was first introduced to the city in 1955 by the Kingston Housing Authority through efforts of Alexander Yosman, who is now the city's urban renewal advisor, and George E. Yerry Jr., housing authority chairman. That was during the administration of former Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Many phases of legislation have been required since actual start of urban renewal planning here, and as former Seventh Ward Alderman and Council Majority Leader Frank C. Sass noted at the public hearing, the aldermen voted favorably 26 times for various measures dealing with it.

Tonight's legislation will deal largely with general approval, state and federal, and with a report on the feasibility of relocation. A report on the council's action is to be forwarded to the HHFA, which will report beck on its findings.

Proposed forming of a corporation by downtown merchants in support of urban renewal development is under consideration and the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters has indicated interest in construction of an apartment unit or units. UR officials have also reported interest in the project by developers from other cities.

Kingston's downtown and uptown urban renewal projects are under direction of Eric Hamphill, who was recently named UR director. He came here after experience with projects in Philadelphia. Plans for the uptown

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She's been away for two years, but now Hollywood is seeing a lot of Kim Novak. A whole lot.

After a period of picture-making abroad and staying at her Big Sur hideaway, Kim came back to town for "Kiss Me, Stupid," in which she plays a strip teaser. She made her entrance for her first scene in a costume that is little more than a couple of strategic bandannas.

The blonde actress with the passion for purple was feeling effervescent on her return to work, despite an aching back.

"I thought I was just stiff from a pulled muscle," she said. "I had a massage, what was probably the worst thing I could have done for my back. It turned out I had a pinched nerve or something and I had to go to the hospital and remain in traction for a few days.

This is Kim's first movie here since "Boys' Night Out." She spent a large part of last year making and remaking "Of Human Bondage" in Ireland.

Her nonworking time has been spent at her home in the idyllic Big Sur setting south of San Francisco.

"It's a marvelous place," she said, "and I get so much done when I'm there. It seems I don't have enough time to do all I want to. I write and I paint. I'm completely isolated when I'm there. I have a telephone, but only for outgoing calls. The thing I want to hear least when I'm in the middle of painting is a telephone bell.

"Social life? Yes, but it's done on an informal basis. People leave notes at the general store: 'So-and-so, drop by Kim's today.' Nobody has telephones."

Young Airman Is Charged in Deaths Of Four Children

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Police filed murder charges today against a young airman who they said confessed to cutting the brake lines on his car before driving into a river in a plunge in which his four young children drowned.

Charged before Justice of the Peace John Cabanisss was Airman 1.C. Rudy T. Davis, 22, stationed at Connally Air Force Base near this central Texas city. Officers said he was originally from Montesano, Wash.

Police said Davis told them he stopped his station wagon, cut the left front brake line, then drove off a 15-foot bank into the Bosque River seven miles north of here.

Davis earlier claimed the brakes had failed. The children ranged in age from 10 months to 4 years.

Davis said he and his wife, Edith, 22, escaped from the submerged car through an open window. Mrs. Davis was treated for shock and a leg injury.

Location Changed For Cooperstown Trial Over Book

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A judge has ordered a trial away from Cooperstown in a $625,000 suit by a housewife who charges that she was libeled in the paperback novel, "The Sex Cure."

Cooperstown is the setting for the book by Mrs. Isabel Moore, who writes under the pen name of Elaine Dorian.

In granting the author's and publisher's request for a change of venue, Justice Robert O. Brink of State Supreme Court found Monday that a fair and impartial trial might not be held in Otsego County (Cooperstown) because "truthfully or not," the book "allegedly exposes the private mores of some of the local inhabitants."

The appellants had asked that the trial be held here. Brink, however, ordered it moved to Cortland, which is about the same distance from Cooperstown—70 miles—but geographically and traditionally less associated with the historic village than is Binghamton.

The judge gave no reason for his choice of Cortland.

No date was set for the trial. Defense attorneys say Mrs. Moore, who has homes in Cooperstown and New York City, has been ill.

Mrs. Walter Dieterle of Cooperstown filed the suit in December 1962 against Mrs. Moore and the Universal Publishing and Distributing Corp. of New York City. Mrs. Dieterle argued that she had been portrayed in the book and had suffered as a result, including loss of customers in her baby-sitting service.

Coed Is Indicted With Official's Son in Drug Case

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—An Ithaca College coed and the son of a college official are under indictment on charges of possession of marijuana and selling or giving away the drug.

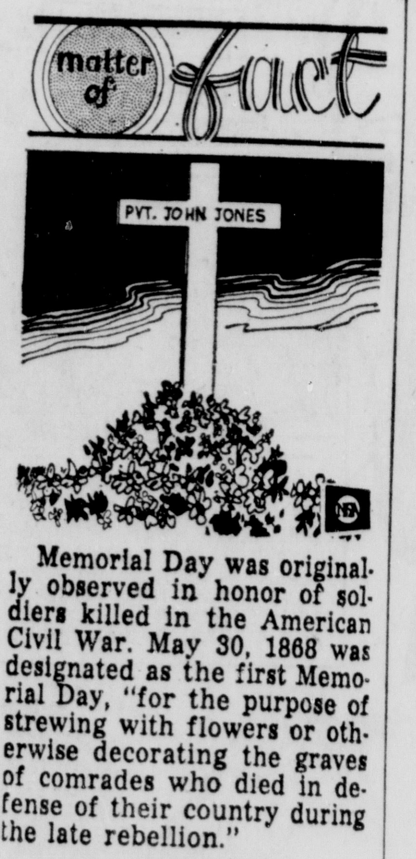
The two were arrested May 13 as the result of what authorities say is a continuing probe of drug traffic in this community, home of Cornell University as well as Ithaca College.

The indictment handed up Monday against the coed, Mona A. Silverman, 20, of The Bronx, contained three felony counts alleging violations of the state penal law and one misdemeanor count under the public health law.

Gordon Light, 23, son of Ben Light, Ithaca College secretary, was charged with one felony count under the penal law and two misdemeanors under the health law.

The indictments were handed up in State Supreme Court, then were referred to Tompkins County Court for trial. No date was set.

The two students are free in bail of $1,000 each.



Memorial Day was originally observed in honor of soldiers killed in the American Civil War. May 30, 1868 was designated as the first Memorial Day, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion."

Court Is Against Taking Away of Citizenship Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a section of the Immigration and Nationality Act that strips naturalized Americans of citizenship if they return to their native land for three years.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-3 decision.

Justice Tom C. Clark wrote a disssenting opinion, in which Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White joined. Justice William J. Brennan took no part.

Validity of the section was attacked by Angelika L. Schneider, who was born in Bavaria, Germany, in 1934. In 1950 she became a naturalized American. Four years later she was graduated from Smith College with a bachelor of arts degree.

In 1959 she returned to Germany to marry Dieter Schneider, a lawyer in Cologne. Three years later the American consulate in Dusseldorf asked her to surrender her naturalization certificate. She did so under protest, then had attorneys begin action in federal courts in this city.

Mrs. Schneider contended the law violated the Constitution by imposing cruel and unusual punishment. A special three-judge court here ruled 2-1 that the challenged section represented a constitutional exercise by Congress of its power to regulate foreign affairs. Her appeal to the Supreme Court argued that the section arbitrarily discriminated against naturalized citizens.

86 Dead, 200 Arrests

Britons Back on Jobs After Bloody Weekend

LONDON (AP)—Britons went back to work today after the three-day Whitsun weekend that left 86 dead on the crowded roads and 200 arrested for teenage violence.

The traffic deaths were twice last year's figure. The teen-age battles were the worst the country has seen.

Thousands of youngsters in the garb of "Mods" and "Rockers," rival cults, battled on the beaches of resorts along the southern coast, wielding chair legs, knives, bottles and studded belts.

Reinforced police hauled them in by the dozen. At Bournemouth, a resort normally inhabited by retired colonels and aged widows, more than 40 were arrested.

Thus was celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles.

The Rockers ride powerful motorbikes and wear leather jackets, jeans and cowboy boots. The prototype was Marlon Brando in "The Wild One."

The Mods, aggressors in every battle over the weekend, are a home-grown cult.

They dress expensively, ride motor scooters and often are as vain of their appearance as their "birds"—their girls.

Many male Mods use eyebrow pencil, eye shadow, transparent lipstick and even rouge. Hair styles change every week.

On weekends they get "purped up" on a stimulant which enables them to go without food and sleep. The government is drafting a law to outlaw possession of the pills without a prescription.

Deaths

DETROIT (AP) — William Ledyard Mitchell, 82, a founder of Chrysler Corp. in 1925 when it was formed from the remnants of the old Maxwell Motor Corp., died Monday at his home. OUR RESERVES OF FOOD

There has been so much thunder and lightning about burdensome crop surpluses during the past couple of decades that an important fact has been ignored or at best minimized. It does cost money to store surpluses of food and fiber. Too much of a supply is indeed burdensome, in this sense. But is is nevertheless still important to keep a large supply on hand in case of emergency.

Arthur Thompson, director of the grain policy staff of the Agricultural Stablilization and Conservation Service, had something to say about this at Iowa State University's recent seminar on weather and food. His remarks seem worth noting if only to help put the matter of food supply in better perspective.

It is the policy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Thompson said, to maintain a reserve supply of wheat equal to a normal year's consumption. As to feed grains, the policy is to keep about a third of a year's supply on hand. The present wheat reserve is about 600 million bushels, and the feed grain reserve is about 1.6 billion bushels, three fourths of which is corn.

There are several reasons for maintaining such large supplies. One is that bad weather may seriously cripple production, even though farm technology has made such advances. Planning also takes into consideration possible emergency needs, including requirements in war and the demands of other countries that depend on U. S. grain to supplement their own food production.

The problem of surplus grain and other agricultural products remains. But the other side of the coin — the blessing of abundant production — is more readily apparent when one considers the policy of maintaining adequate reserve supplies.

'NEW' COMMUNISM

The man who devised the U. S. postwar policy of "containment" against communism has taken a new look at the Communist world.

George F. Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union, believes, in fact, that it is time we stopped using all-embracing phrases like "Communist world" — indeed, to suspend use of the adjective "Communist" altogether.

In a new book, "On Dealing With the Communist World," Kennan states that while there once may have been a single Communist world, a monolithic entity ruled with an iron hand from Moscow for some 40-odd years, today that world is polycentric.

It is a world of many different Communist nations, a world in flux, with the two great Red powers — Russia and China — competing for leadership and the allegiance of smaller ones.

To Kennan, the great danger for the West is the growth of an attitude that refuses to see the changes that have taken place within world communism. It looks for a simple, uniform solution to a complicated problem, and dreams of the ultimate destruction of communism in one final blow.

In this black-and-white view, Poland seething with intellectual revolt, is the same as primitive, Stalinist Albania. Communist Yugoslavia is no different from Castro Cuba.

Therein, believes Kennan, lie the seeds of mutual nuclear destruction.

Opposing this is the exciting opportunity confronting the West — to take a hand in guiding the evolution of communism by encouraging the liberalizing tides that are beginning to sweep against the rock-ribbed regimes of certain Communist nations, including Russia herself.

It is a time of great troubles in the "Communist world," says Kennan — which is to say, a time of great hope for the West and great challenge to our statesmanship.

SCHOOL PRAYERS IN MARYLAND

The question of overturning the Sureme Court decision on voluntary prayers or Bible readings in public schools is a big issue in Maryland primaries, coming up today. The issue is posed against a background of a concerted effort in the U. S. House of Representatives to approve a new constitutional amendment designed to clarify what should already be the plain fact that our forefathers who wrote the Bill of Rights did not intend that the federal government should interfere with local decisions relating to prayer in educational institutions.

The opponents of a voluntary prayer period in the schools are making much in Maryland of the news that Gerald L. K. Smith, who has been an anti-Semite, is pressuring the U. S. Congress to undo the anti-prayer ruling of the Supreme Court. This, of course, is a not-too-subtle way of imputing guilt by association: if you are for voluntary prayers, you must be an anti-Semite because Gerald L. K. Smith is for prayers, too. This is an almost exact parallel to the tactics used by extremists of the Right when they argue that the push of the Negroes for civil rights must be a Communist plot simply because some Communists have identified themselves with some civil rights organizations. When the Right indulges in such argument, the Left yells "McCarthyism." But Leftists are not above McCarthyism when it serves their own purpose.

A more defensible, but still pretty slippery, tactic used against those who think the Supreme Court made a mistake in its prayer decision is to argue that any questioning of the Court's ability to read plain English is a "plot against the Bill of Rights." The truth is that the language of the First Amendment merely prohibits Congress from making a law respecting the establishment of a religion. The prohibition relates to a federal body, not a state. Under any strict reading of the law, a state or a school board can do as it pleases in the matter of ordaining religious exercises.

That our constitution-writing forefathers did not construe the First Amendment in the same fashion as the Warren Court is proved by Thomas Jefferson's proposed curriculum for the University of Virginia, a tax-supported institution. Jefferson wanted the professor of ethics at the University to present "the proofs of the being of a God . . . the author of all the relations of morality, and of the laws and obligations these infer . . . ." Jefferson, of course, is known as the Father of the Bill of Rights. If he could advocate public school presentation of "the proofs of the being of a God," could he have been against voluntary school prayers?

The pragmatic evidence of 170 years of our national history is that prayers in school have not had the slightest tendency to create an "established" religion. The U. S. has had a vast profusion of sects, both Christian and anti-Christian. It has had its agnostics and village atheists. Its Colonel Robert Ingersoll was, perhaps, the most famous atheist in the world — and Bob Ingersoll lived a perfectly free life, with no attempt on the part of any bishop or prelate or meddling minister to suppress his freedom of speech. During our 170 years of history under the pre-Warren Court interpretation of the First Amendment, the secular weakening of religion steadily increased. Under a different clause of the same First Amendment people in America are free to argue whether this is a good or bad thing. But one thing is certain: the weakening of the hold of the churches on the people is proof positive that prayers in school have been powerless to "establish" a religion.

The argument that one is an "enemy" of the First Amendment if one contests the Warren Court's reading of the religious clause which forbids Congress to establish a church thus falls by the wayside. If it be illegal for a local school body to make provision for voluntary prayers, or for Bible reading as part of education, then it is illegal for the government to print "In God We Trust" on currency, or to open a Congressional or court session with a prayer, or to pay for chaplains in the armed forces, or to ask anyone to take an oath on a Bible.

I don't want to impeach Earl Warren or any of the other justices. I just want to take up a collection to give them a course in remedial reading. The Chief Justice needs it before he swears in the next President of the U. S. on a Bible.

Scarlet Fever Controlled By Penicillin Injections

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My son recently had scarlet fever. No one would come near our home for fear they would get it. In what stage can a person transmit this disease to others? How long does the contagious stage last?

A—Scarlet fever can be transmitted during the period three or four days before the onset of the fever and for about a week after the onset. Prompt treatment with penicillin shortens this period, but unless the antibiotic treatment is continued for 10 days, the victim may become a carrier. Because the disease is so easily controlled with penicillin, quarantine is usually not required unless an epidemic develops.

Q—What causes a person to have a sore mouth and tongue? I read that anemia could cause it but I have had blood counts and am not anemic.

A—The commonest cause of sore mouth and tongue is taking food that is too hot. It may also be caused by eating raw pineapple, by smoking and by trench mouth and other infections. When the cause is found the proper treatment can be prescribed.

Q—If a person recovers from rabbit fever, is he likely to have any after effects in later years? If so, what?

A—Tularemia or rabbit fever is an acute infection. Inadequate treatment is sometimes followed within a week or two by a relapse, but after effects in later years are rare. One attack usually confers permanent immunity.

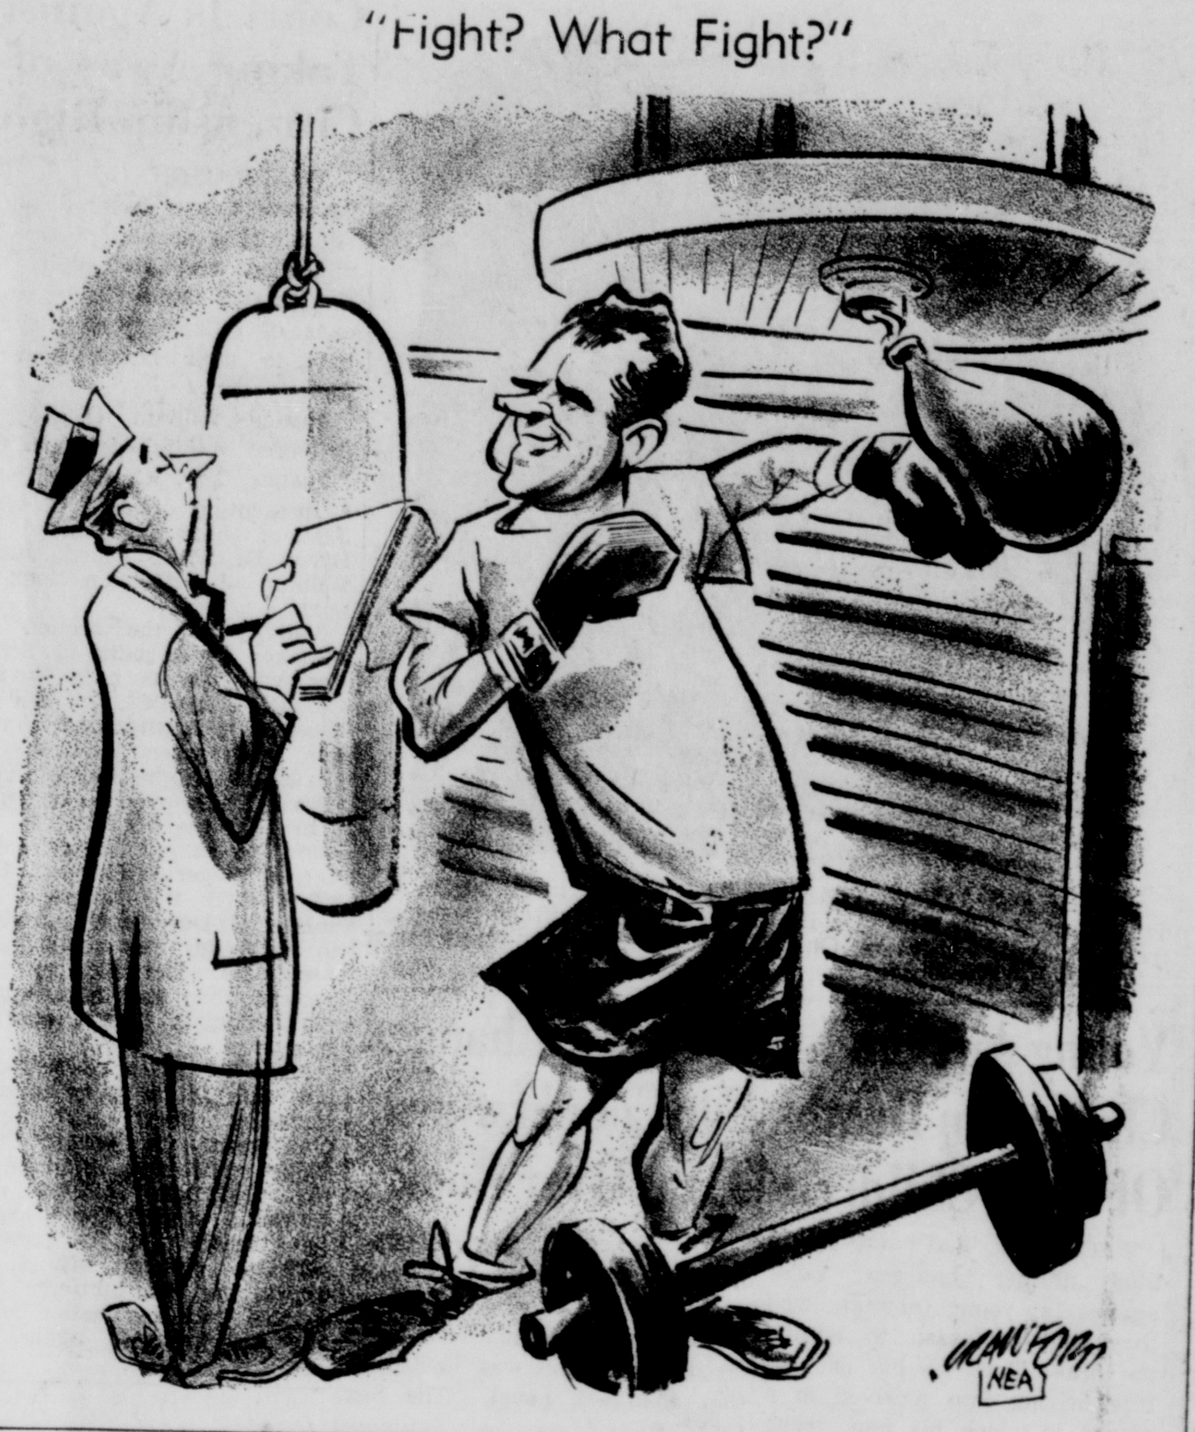
Q—I am an albino. I have had nearsighted astigmatism, since birth. Doctors tell me nothing can be done to improve my vision. I have tried glasses but they do not help. What causes albinism? What can be done to improve my vision? Is this condition likely to be passed on to future generations?

A—Yours is a recessive hereditary condition that is more common in men than in women. It is passed only if there is some albinism on both sides of the family. Thus it may skip a generation only to reappear in the grandchildren. It is characterized by a lack of pigment throughout the body. For this reason the albino becomes severely sunburned on slight exposure to the sun and will never acquire a tan.

Because the inside of the eyeball lacks the usual protective pigment, even normal daylight makes the albino very uncomfortable. His vision is often poor because of astigmatism and other errors of refraction but these could be corrected were it not for poor development of the central portion of the retina. For this there is no treatment.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"Fight? What Fight?"



Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some U. S. strategic planners are watching for a blowup in East Germany.

Their agents report increasing signs of discontent.

In Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Hungary, the Communist rulers have been forced to relax their controls a little.

There is more independence in their business and industry, more approaches to the West for closer commercial and diplomatic relations. There has been more freedom to associate with Western peoples in these countries.

Even more important, U. S. diplomats report there has been more freedom of personal speech and action (compared to the past, that is. Freedom, of course, is still slight when compared with the freedoms in Western democracies).

THESE U. S. ANALYSTS see a general weakening of the ability of the Communist governments of the Eastern European countries to handle their people. The American experts expect this weakening to continue. They therefore expect the Soviet Union to keep a huge military force in Eastern Europe, even if Khrushchev cuts back Russia's army overall.

U. S. officials see the posibility that several of the Eastern European countries — Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — may be reaching for a more independent status within the Communist bloc.

The U. S. planners are determined to egg this shift along, through trade, aid and propaganda. These officials are certain they cannot swing these countries away from communism short of a war. But they believe the more they can help to weaken the "monolithic unity" of the Soviet bloc, the better for the United States and the West.

THE SAME PRESSURES for more freedom exist in East Germany. But the East German Red rulers have rigidly held the line.

Says one U.S. official: "Things are happening under the surface in East Germany. The situation is made even more tense because the East Germans know what's happening in the rest of Eastern Europe. They see no reason why they can't get these same relaxations. Something could blow there any time.

"And if it does blow, it would certainly put pressures on the Russians, the West Germans and ourselves.

"We think the Russian troops would put down any uprising hard and ruthlessly. We're not certain the West Germans would stand still for that.

"This would put us through a lot of soul-searching here on what to do."

U.S. PLANNERS haven't made up their minds yet what the United States should do if and when the East Germans do rise up in strikes, street demonstrations or revolts.

To act might lead to war, they say. To not act might lose the United States the faith of peoples in Eastern Europe and around the world who want freedom from Red repression.

It might result in less will to fight the Reds in South Viet Nam, Africa and in Latin America. The planners are still stinging from the reproaches that resulted from U.S. failure to act positively during the Hungarian and East German uprisings several years ago.

The plain and simple fact is that the United States is no more prepared to handle an East German or any other East European uprising today than it was the last time.

But policy men are working on the problem.

Hot War Develops Without United States Congress Act

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress are rubbing their eyes as they awaken to the fact that the United States is engaged in a hot war in Southeast Asia. Yet not a single resolution or law has been passed authorizing the use of America's armed forces in the conflict, 7,000 miles away from our shores.

The Constitution of the United States provides that only Congress can declare war. The executive has occasionally used military forces to safeguard American lives and property in foreign lands. But usually when such an affair takes on large proportions, the Chief Exxecutive asks Congress for specific authority.

Today the Administration is requesting more money under the foreign aid program to assist in achieving its objectives in Viet Nam, but the purpose in reality is to help fight a war.

Perhaps even more striking is the lack of explanation from the Administration as to why American forces are in Viet Nam. More than 200 American lives have been lost there. The Secretary of Defense and the chief of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff periodically visit the South Viet Nam battle zones, but still there is a hesitancy not only to declare a state of war officially but also to tell the American people just who is doing the fighting against the United States. The Assumption is that it is a local war. But certainly the arms and ammunition and supervisory military officers for the North Vietnamese are being provided from outside Viet Nam.

On top of the Viet Nam situation, now comes an attack upon the government in Laos by the Communist forces. In fact, the whole of Southeast Asia appears to be crumbling under the pressure of the Communists. One American military man says that originally the Russians were supplying most of the military and financial aid to Southeast Asia, but that later on they turned the task over to the Red Chinese.

If the Peking government is responsible for the war, surely the American people ought to be told. There are, moreover, areas in which the Red Chinese interests could be made the target for some kind of counter-offensive which would assist the cause of South Viet Nam. There is for example, an army of Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, many of whom would gladly enter the war in Southeast Asia, if the United States furnished arms and supplies.

Certainly the United States is not using all its facilities — including a trade embargo by Western powers — in the battle against the Red Chinese in Viet Nam and Laos.

The United States faces a serious situation also in Thailand, which is supposed to be protected against Communist invasion as a consequence of the 14-nation agreement reached in 1962 in Geneva.

One wonders what the United Nations is doing while all the fighting is going on in South east Asia. For a long time the United Nations has been represented as the instrumentality which can maintain peace in local areas. The experiment in the Congo was acclaimed in many quarters as an example of a successful effort with an internationalized army. The war to repel Communist agression in Korea was under the auspices of the United Nations. But all through that conflict, Russia supplied arms and ammunition to the North Korean forces.

If the United Nations is to be the means through which international peace is to be maintained, then Southeast Asia would seem to be a region in which its influence should be brought to bear. Certainly there should be an investigation as to who is behind the military movements in Southeast Asia so the facts can be disclosed at least for discussion in the General Assembly. Many people in this country do not feel that American boys should be sent to Southeast Asia. But if there were an international expedition, the American government would unquestionably play its part and continue to contribute its share of the cost of the war.

Oddly enough, the whole subject of Southeast Asia has not been brought formally before the United Nations. Possibly this is due to the feeling that action in the Security Council would be blocked by the Soviet government. Even a discussion there, however, would be constructive, because it could mobilize world opinion and would fix the responsibility for war-making clearly on Red China and the Soviet government.

Although the war in Southeast Asia appears at the moment to be local, it could spread. The charter of the United Nations declares, in effect, that it is the function of that organization to intervene in any situation that might develop into a larger war. But the problem in Southeast Asia has not been tackled effectively by the UN, and hence this country is bearing the burden of a hot war against Red China.

The hour if decision now is approaching, and certainly the continued loss of American lives in a war in which the best equipment has not been furnished and military support has not been adequately extended is bound to be an issue in the coming Presidential campaign.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Herman C. Gazlay of Accord, sent me an interesting letter, part of which reads: "Having lived in the Rondout Valley since 1903, so am interested in reading about it, especially about my home town of Accord. After your Friday, April 24th column, the bell did not stop ringing, so this letter . . ." It seems he retired for the third time so now he can enjoy his hobbies and other things.

He writes that he has read in New York papers, in Albany papers, in our local paper, and now in my column, that the Post Office department was given the credit for the naming of Accord, New York. He wrote, that he had heard, that around the 1820's his section was promised a post office. On the D & H Canal the place was also known as Port Jackson, but there was a post office in another Port Jackson of New York state, so this name could not be used.

It seems, according to Mr. Gazlay that a meeting was called at Lewis D. Bevier's home, but the committee arrived before Mr. Bevier had come home, and they started to argue about a name, then Mr. Bevier came home and said: "According to the discord, you have not made progress, why not call it, Accord"? Thus the Accord post office was first opened July 13, 1826, and Lewis D. Bevier was the first postmaster. The question of the location of the first post office at Accord, N. Y., is also a mystery. Mr. Gazlay mentions the John J. Schoonmaker Hotel, a stage coach stop on the Kingston to Ellenville run, (now route 209), the corner of the road which goes to Whitfield.

He mentions, "after several post masters in the 1890's, John J. Schoonmaker was post master, and in 1897, William O. Haines. "It seems Mr. Haines lived on the other side of the Rondout Creek, where he had a Country Store on Main Street. Where the street met the old tow path along the D & H Canal, and so the post office was moved there. In 1907 one of Mr. Haines' assistants became a sister-in-law to Mr. Gazlay.

There is an Accord, Massachusetts, and once while Mr. Gazlay traveled from Boston to Cape Cod they stopped there, and asked how that place was named. They were told that three men were in boats fishing in a small lake nearby, and "were all in one accord."

Mr. Gazlay writes the following on his experiences, "some 30 years ago, a fire broke out in the mountains above Dr. Ford's Sanitarium, south west of Kerhonkson. I took a truckload of fire-fighters to the Sanitarium, and got as near to the fire as we could. In time word came back to the truck that they had control of that section and where to follow the fire line to meet fire fighters from Ellenville who were working on the other end. We were to take sandwiches and ice water and come up the Old Mine Road, which started in at the foot of the Mountain and meet them. The road was so grown over that we could not get very far with the truck, so we carried the ice water and sandwiches up the mountain over the rocks and through the brush the rest of the way." He further describes this mission that he and the men did not have a chance to investigate the lead Mine, for it was the middle of the night and they were all busy working to put out the fires in the mountains, with a guide from the Sanitarium guiding them. This old lead Mine had been mentioned in Mr. Clayton Smith's articles in this column.

Wille New Bank Head

NEW YORK (AP)—The new state superintendent of banks is a 33-year-old bachelor lawyer from New Rochelle, a former aide to Gov. Rockefeller.

Roland Frank Wille was sworn in as superintendent Monday by Rockefeller, who said it was significant that "one of the younger men is taking on additional responsibility."

The post pays $28,875 a year.

Wille had been first assistant counsel to the governor, whose staff he joined in 1960 after practicing law with a Wall Street firm.

He succeeds Oren Root, also a lawyer, who resigned last month to return to private practice.

Gets 9-Month Term

In County Court Monday afternoon County Judge Raymond J. Mino sentenced Ronald S. Sprauve, 327 Broadway, Kingston, to nine months in the county jail on a plea of guilty to illegal possession of a narcotic drug. He was one of several picked up by Kingston police on a possession charge. He had entered a plea of guilty on April 29. Judge Mino allowed credit for time already served in jail. Several arraignments of defendants indicted by the April grand jury and named in a partial report on May 8, were arraigned and moved to future dates. Several cases were set down for July 6 at 2 p. m. and others were moved over until the opening day of the September trial term.

Kong Le Digs In for Another Pathet Lao Drive

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Gen. Kong Le dug in today to await a new onslaught by pro-Communist Pathet Lao, who forced him from his command post east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The neutralist commander and his force set up headquarters at Ban Khong, several miles southwest of his former headquarters at Muong Phanh. The latter was overrun by Pathet Lao Monday after a two-day mortar and artillery bombardment.

Orderly Withdrawal

Western military observers who flew to Ban Khong said Kong Le's troops had staged "an orderly withdrawal" to the hilltop village. They said it appeared more defensible by infantry than Muong Phanh.

Chartered American planes airlifted refugees and wounded to Vientiane, 110 miles southwest of the Plaine des Jarres, and flew in medical supplies as Kong Le prepared for a new Red attack.

Ban Khong remained quiet but the rumble of shell fire could be heard in the distance. Western observers said the Pathet Lao and their Viet Minh allies from North Viet Name were consolidating their position at Muong Phanh.

Western military men who visited the scene said they had no idea how big a force faced Kong Le or how many neutralist troops were massed at Ban Khong.

Some Defections

Earlier estimates had said 7,000 neutralist troops were strung out on a 22-mile semicircle of high ground running north and south along the eastern fringe of the strategic plain. It was believed they were outnumbered about 4 to 1 by the Reds.

With the fall of Muong Phanh and nearby Phou Kheng Hill and Kong Le's retreat southward, it appeared that his neutralist force had been split.

Kong Le admitted that some of his troops had gone over to the Pathet Lao, but he denied Communist claims of mass defections.

The Pathet Lao already control two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mountainous jungle and flatland. Apparently they want complete control of the plain to increase their hold on northern Laos. Major communications trails pass across it.

Dedication Slated Wednesday of NYC Water Dept. Lab

Dedication ceremonies will be held Wednesday at the new York City laboratory building at Brown Station when the new laboratory facilities will be dedicated to the memory of the late Benjamin C. Neisen, who for many years was director of the laboratory system.

The new building which was completed some time ago will be occupied by the laboratory and also house the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity offices which for many years were located in the Burgevin Building on Fair Street, here.

Water Commissioner Armand D'Angelo is expected to be present at the ceremonies along with other New York City officials when the building is dedicated to the memory of the late Director Neisen. Prior to the ceremonies Wednesday, the laboratory building has been known as the Catskill Laboratory.

Pays $5 Fine

Vincent J. Mitchell, 20, of 180 Tilden Street, Port Ewen, who is serving in the U. S. Air Force, was arrested Sunday night by Deputy Sheriffs Vincent Van Demark and Ronald Dietz on a charge of making an improper turn. It was charged that Mitchell drove a car owned by James V. Mitchell of 61 Marius Street, Kingston, out of East Main Street in Port Ewen on to Route 9W and struck a pole. He paid a $5 fine when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie of Town of Esopus. Mitchell sustained a nose injury.

Announce Feature of Legion Show Slated for Saturday

WILLIE MAHONEY

A nationally-known comedian, Willie Mahoney, will headline the 45th annual presentation of Kingston Post 150, American Legion Saturday at Twaalfskill Country Club.

Meyer Kaplan, chairman for this year's program, announced today, "We are presenting a traditionally fine entertainer whose split-second timing and rapid-fire delivery ranks him as a master showman. He is a sure-fire laugh-getter with fresh side-splitting comedy routines. Howlarious audience participation, comedy juggling, funny pantomime, nostalgic dancing and nonsense galore."

Mahoney appeared in many musical shows and revues in leading theatres, supper clubs, hotels and night clubs. He is admired and respected throughout the entertainment world for his unparalleled versatility. In fact, many of his fellow comedians have paid him the dubious tribute by patterning their material after his.

When Billboard Magazine first acclaimed Willie Mahoney as a "one-man show," they set a precedent that critics and reviewers everywhere have followed in their notices year after year.

Born in the tradition of the theatre and dedicated to giving the public a brand of comedy that is clean and wholesome, Mahoney continues as one of the most sought-after and formidable comedy stars of the 1964 season. He has just returned from a successful night club tour of the west including Las Vegas where all standout entertainers are scheduled for appearances. He has made several TV appearances including the Ed Sullivan Show.

Albert O. Sonnenberg, co-chairman of this year's Legion show and dance said more entertainers will be announced this week. He also advises the capacity is limited and ticket sales will be cut off before the end of the week. Sonnenberg made it clear, however, that ticket sales are still permitted outside the Legion membership.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Senate subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency is expected to resume its interest in television's "sex and violence" themes with new hearings within the next few weeks.

Some of the programs which were under sharp scrutiny, if not attack, during the original hearings four seasons back, are still around in syndicated reruns.

Sexual themes have been prominent this season in many of the so-called "social drama" series—the doctor, psychiatrist, nurse, social worker and even social teacher shows.

Almost all the late - evening dramatic shows have dealt rather frankly with subjects traditionally considered too adult for youthful eyes and ears, and so — occasionally — has an early evening program like "Mr. Novak" obviously scheduled for the family audience.

However, it appears to one whose viewing has been fairly concentrated upon this season's output, that the good—or bad—old days when every action-adventure series ended in a long, messy fight in a warehouse are definitely over.

The Emmy Awards pot continues to boil. Today, Herbert Brodkin, head of the production company that turns out "The Defenders" and "The Nurses" for CBS broadcast, followed network policy by saying he would not attend the awards show, an NBC special on May 25. He added that anyone associated with the production company was free to attend "as an individual."

E. G. Marshall, star of "The Defenders," is under NBC contract to appear as East Coast host on the show.

Much more important than Marshall's one-shot appearance, however, is the fact that New York appears to have lost the production of the two television series. Brodkin said that the move to Hollywood, made when a strike—now settled—of a New York scenic designers union closed down production, is for "an indefinite period."

"We have no thought of moving back to New York," he said.

Overmatched by Hippo

MADISON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Theodore C. Sari was double overmatched when his small European car rammed into the rear of a truck on Route 9 Sunday.

The truck was carrying a hippopotamus. Neither the hippo nor the truck driver, Cyril Gorr, 58, Deland, Fla., was injured.

Sari, 48, Old Bridge, was in fair condition.

The hippo, bound for a circus, weighed 1,600 pounds — about the same weight as Sari's automobile.

Dragged to Death

MANSFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Dan Wesley Hughitt Jr., 12, was dragged to death Sunday by a horse on a gravel road near his home.

He apparently fell while riding or leading the horse and became entangled in the lead rope.

'Floating Furnace' Rages

Tug Keeps Vigil, Fear 10 Are Dead

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A tugboat stood by a burning freighter 20 miles off a remote Mexican coast today after a grim night's vigil.

Crewmen awaited a chance to board the ship. There was little hope of finding anyone alive.

Ten persons, including the captain, were unaccounted for from the Norwegian freighter Sandanger, hit by fire and explosions Monday.

Doubt Survival

It was not known if the missing were still aboard, but rescuers doubted they could survive the flames or the choppy seas.

An air and sea search was halted after life rafts were found either empty or overturned, the Coast Guard said.

The body of an unidentified woman was recovered from the sea by a Japanese ship, the Boston Maru.

Forty-five survived the disaster, the Coast Guard said. They were taken aboard the German freighter Bodenstein, which went to the aid of the stricken ship.

The 450 - foot Sandanger was sailing southward en route from Long Beach to Le Havre, France, via the Panama Canal when the ship caught fire off Baja, Calif., 400 miles from Long Beach.

Cause Unknown

The cause of the fire was not known.

None of a half-dozen rescue ships was able to board the Sandanger due to the intensity of the fire, feeding on a cargo of cotton bales and wood pulp.

The tug Sea Eagle reached the Sandanger Monday night and described it as a "floating furnace."

The stricken vessel's agent said seven passengers, all of California, the captain, John Kellmer, and two stewardesses were unaccounted for.

Age Heaping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study at Ohio State University seeks to determine the extent of "age heaping"—the tendency of persons to report an approximate, rather than actual, age—in census figures for non-whites. Prof. Melvin Zelnik is conducting the study under a $13,700 National Science Foundation grant.

"Where do you get your rebozos?"

"The same place I get my cement!"

Many years ago, rebozos (colorful hand-woven shawls) were a major export of Mexico. Today, Mexican exporters are more apt to be offering cement.

Like other nations, Mexico became industrialized and more technically accomplished. Now, Mexico exports more than 1000 manufactured articles ranging from ball bearings to electric toasters.

Half of the imports of our number one Latin American customer are machinery, equipment and supplies to keep production booming.

The tradition of quality synonymous with rebozos is kept alive in today's products. You can still get rebozos—the same place you get your cement.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

U.S. Hopes to Cool Situation in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities say loss of the Plaine des Jarres to pro-Communist forces in Laos would be a psychological setback. They insist it would not by itself alter control of the mountainous Southeast Asian kingdom.

However, if the Red-leaning Pathet Lao should drive onward and threaten positions close to Thailand's Mekong River border, U.S. officials would regard the current offensive as serious.

At this stage, key officials said today, they are trying to evaluate the intentions of the Pathet Lao—to gauge how hard and how far the pro-Reds are likely to push.

Meanwhile, the United States is making a strong diplomatic bid to cool the situation. The effort includes roundabout approaches to Red China.

Any thrust by the pro-Reds toward the administrative capital of Vientiane or Paksane, right across the Mekong from Thailand, might well trigger some U.S. move like that of two years ago.

In 1962, the United States rushed 6,000 soldiers, Marines and airmen to Thailand, supported by Marine and Air Force jets. The infantrymen were posted in northeast Thailand, in position to defend the border against the Pathet Lao, which had broken a truce and driven Royal Laotian troops from northern Laos.

An Air Force spokesman said a squadron of F100 Supersabre fighter-bombers, perhaps 18 planes, has been maintained in Thailand since that 1962 threat. Otherwise, there are no U. S. combat forces in Thailand.

ADA Medicare Opposition Cited 1964 Key Issue

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. James P. Hollers, president of the American Dental Association (ADA), said today that opposition to President Johnson's proposal for a federal social security health care plans is the dental profession's "most important legislative concern for 1964."

Hollers, of San Antonio, Tex., made the statement in a speech prepared for the 96th annual meeting of the Dental Society of the State of New York.

He said the ADA strongly opposes the administration plan—the King-Anderson bill, which is tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee. The bill would provide a health care program for the aged financed through the social security system.

Latest Electronic Techniques

NBC to Provide AP With Vote Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and NBC News entered into an agreement today to provide to Associated Press members "NBC's electronic vote analysis" of elections.

The announcement was made jointly by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president in charge of NBC News, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

Part of Daily Report

The National Broadcasting Co.'s service, called "electronic vote analysis," utilizes a bank of RCA 301 and RCA 3301 computers to furnish extensive data explaining and comparing the results in the presidential election—nationally, and by state—and in all gubernatorial and senatorial races. The material will be used by AP in its daily news report to its 8,000 members and subscribers around the world.

The Associated Press will continue its traditional comprehensive vote tabulations of all races in all states separately from NBC's tabulation.

"Use of our EVA data by the world's foremost wire service is testimony to its effectiveness, as demonstrated in NBC News' coverage of the Oregon primary elections last Friday," McAndrew said.

Supplemental Feature

"This analysis of voting trends and speedy interpretation of returns brings to Associated Press members the advantages of the latest electronic techniques to supplement The Associated Press's basic task of tabulating election results on local and national levels," Gallagher said.

"To gather this information manually would take months of work and tens of thousands of man hours," he added. "By use of electronic vote analysis this information will be available election night."

Although the agreement with The Associated Press is exclusive, NBC News may, at its discretion, provide the same service directly to AP newspaper members.

The analysis is based on a mass of detailed information that has been prestored in the computers, including all vote histories and data on "tag areas." The tag areas are precincts, wards and counties that have been selected by NBC News to represent the political behavior pattern of groups within an electorate.

The computers can provide differential analysis, showing any deviation from the norm, as, for example, that the Eastern states are voting differently from another group of states or the country as a whole. They can compare results in any part of the country with its previous history or with another area.

The data is transmitted by Teletype lines directly from the computers without human intervention. However, key members of the NBC News team are allowed to add news values to the differentials by Teletyping information directly to the computer's memory while it continues to analyze and tabulate.

The computers print out the information in English, as, for example, that one candidate "is running behind in Chicago because of the heavy Negro vote."

Injuries Are Fatal

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Richard Farnham, 25, of Albion, was injured fatally Monday when a flat-bed trailer jarred loose from a truck, rolled over a curb and down a sidewalk and struck him.

Police said the trailer was loosened from the truck when it and a trailer hooked to another truck, sideswiped on Lyell Avenue. The trailer struck two parked automobiles after hitting Farnham, police said.

Drowns in Lake Outlet

PENN YAN, N.Y. (AP)—Harry Butler, 59, of Penn Yan was drowned Monday in the Keuka Lake outlet in this Yates County village.

Butler, an unemployed laborer, apparently fell from the bank into the swift - moving water, police said.

Ulster Kiwanis Will Give Shrubs To Town Library

An offer of dogwood trees and other shrubs for the proposed Town of Ulster Library has been made by the Ulster Kiwanis Club.

The offer, accepted by Edward Crosby on behalf of the library board, said that it was made at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the library by Arne Aho of Kingston Kiwanis Club. Aho, an honorary member of the Ulster group, is project chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee of both the Kingston and Ulster groups.

Will Maintain Items

Aho pointed out that the Ulster Kiwanis Club would plant and maintain the trees and bushes they planted on the library grounds.

Announcement was made at a recent meeting of the library directors that test borings for the type of footings have been made. Meetings also have been held with Leon Karpel, director of the Mid-Hudson Libraries of Poughkeepsie to arrive at plans for a building that would remain attractive and in keeping with other buildings in the area.

Albert E. Milliken, architect for the libraray building, also is planning the town board building on the adjacent lot of the Chambers School property on Morton Boulevard and it has been proposed to have the library and town buildings face each other with a parking area and center planting with a flag pole to serve both buildings.

WASHINGTON (AP — Personal income continued to climb at a steady rate in April, the Commerce Department said today.

It reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $483.1 billion, a gain of $2.2 billion over March and about $25 billion higher than April 1963.

Personal income includes wages, salaries, rents, dividends, profits from a business, profession, or farm, and other payments to individuals.

council would hear a speech by Cambodian Ambassador Voeunsai Sonn and then probably would adjourn until the arrival of a delegation from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate.

South Viet Nam is not a U.N. member. Its observer mission at U.N. headquarters said it did not know when the delegation from Saigon would arrive.

The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, the Communist members of the 11 - nation council, were expected to give strong support to the Cambodian charge.

France already has voiced support of the call by the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, for an international conference to guarantee the independence and neutrality of Cambodia. Sihanouk has praised President Charles de Gaulle as a loyal friend of Cambodia.

Cambodian Charge

The Cambodian complaint before the council charges that South Vietnamese armored vehicles raided a village almost two miles inside Cambodia May 7 and killed seven villagers and that on the following day the same force crossed the border again.

The second day the Cambodians destroyed an armored vehicle, wiped out the crew and captured a wounded soldier, the complaint reports. Cambodia claims U.S. officers took part in both operations.

The United States denied any of its officers had been involved.

Christmas lasts 22 days in Mexico, from Dec. 16 (Holy Family's journey to Bethlehem) to Jan. 6 (Three King's Day).

Welfare Parley Slated on June 4

Representatives of business, industry and social welfare will participate in an all-day meeting of Region VI of the New York State Welfare Conference on Tuesday, June 4 at Singer's Lakeside Manor in Spring Valley, to consider their common stake in the blight of poverty.

Miss Rose Marie Feeney of Ulster County Department of Welfare is the local representative.

Under the general theme, "Business, Industry, Social Welfare: Facing the Challenge of Poverty," more than 200 community leaders of the seven-county region—Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster, Westchester — will discuss the causes and effects of economic and social deprivation and consider ways and means to attack the roots of poverty. The keynote address during the opening session will hear Robert L. Popper, formerly vice president of Dellwood Dairies of Westchester County, on the subject, "A Businessman Looks at the Problems of Poverty."

Workshops will convene, led by representatives of business, industry and social welfare, so that there can be a full discussion of varied points of view. After the luncheon following the workshops Joseph H. Louchei n, first deputy commissioner of the Department of Welfare, City of New York, will discuss "Community Action in the War on Poverty."

Three Fail Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—A plumbers union examination chairman says a Negro and two Puerto Ricans—central figures in a civil rights dispute—have failed qualifying tests for union membership.

The results were announced Monday night by William Dalton, chairman of the examining board of Local 2 of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, minutes after the written tests were completed.

Dalton told newsmen the three "weren't even close" to the passing grade of 70 per cent. He said the local never makes the grades public.

Another Puerto Rican involved in the dispute couldn't appear for the test for "personal reasons," it was announced in his behalf.

Utah Teachers Off Again, Court Is Asked for Order

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Most of Utah's 10,000 teachers, faced with possible court action, planned to stay off their jobs again today to decide the next move in their efforts to get more money for education.

Virtually all public schools remained open, as Monday, when the two - day teachers' protest walkout began, and the State Board of Education sought a court order to keep teacher leadership from prolonging the walkout.

The order would prevent Utah Education Association officials from "encouraging teachers or other personnel to breach their contracts or to strike against the state or any of its school districts."

Judge Makes Study

Judge Joseph G. Jeppson of 3rd District Court took the request under advisement.

The UEA planned a statewide meeting for teachers at the State Fairgrounds in Salt Lake City.

The teachers were to discuss at a mass meeting today proposals that included prolonging the walkout and continuing to refuse to sign next year's contracts.

They hope to force the hand of Gov. George D. Clyde and get more school money.

Refuses to Go Along

The walkout was triggered by Clyde's refusal to heed the recommendations of his study committee and call a special legislative session to consider an emergency $6-million appropriation for schools.

The success of the teachers' action was being watched in neighboring Idaho and throughout the nation by teachers not content with local conditions. A walkout by 620 union teachers hit East St. Louis, Ill., Monday.

The walkout drew some student support in Salt Lake City, where demonstrators carried signs reading, "Fair play for the UEA" at the State Capitol.

Clyde told the demonstrators, "Every step is going to be taken that can be taken to see you don't lose your opportunities." He was hanged in effigy by other students at a local high school.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary and leader of the protest action, called Monday's walkout successful.

The UEA had demanded more money for salaries and school facilities. It says Utah teachers' salaries rank 23rd in the nation. They receive between $4,400 and $7,000 a year, with the average $5,900, it said.

The UEA claims it represents 96 per cent of Utah public school teachers.

Policy Experts Sent to Back Up $125 Million Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent top makers of military and foreign policy to Capitol Hill today to support his request for an extra $125 million in aid for South Viet Nam.

"Increased Communist terror requires it," the President said Monday in a special message to Congress asking for an additional $55 million in military aid and $70 million in economic assistance.

Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are likely to go along with Johnson.

Advice From Barry

"This nation should not be penny wise and pound foolish on this thing," said Republican Rep. Robert Barry of New York. "For us to nit-pick at this stage would be most unwise."

Still, to play it safe, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and foreign aid director David E. Bell were sent before the committee.

Would a Watch It

An ardent Republican economizer, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, said the boost would be hard to vote against.

"We want them to have what they say they need," he said. "But by the same token, I don't want it to go down the drain as supplies and everything else have gone down the drain in Viet Nam."

"All I can say is, I want to hear their reasons and it better be good," Gross added.

The first order of business was a memorial service in memory of 16 members who answered their last alarm during the past year. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. R. Porter, chaplain of the New Paltz Fire Department. This service was followed by an address by Lt. A. F. Van Blarcum of the New York State Police. He spoke on the duties of the fire police at the scene of a fire and on other emergencies. He also mentioned sections of the Vehicle and Traffic Law and the Penal Law which Fire Police should know and also the cooperation between Fire Police and other law enforcement officers. The address was followed by an excellent question and answer period.

The convention closed after a heavy schedule of business, including some changes in the bylaws, a lengthy discussion on Section 209-C of the General Municipal Law and a report by Jerome Kornfeld, chairman of the Law Committee.

A banquet was held at Reggie's Inn, New Paltz, Saturday night.

Prior to adjournment the convention adopted a resolution extending its gratitude and appreciation to the merchants of Ulster County who donated financially and with merchandise toward the success of the State Convention which was held in New Paltz.

Po'keepsie Plan On Renewal Is Voted by Council

The Poughkeepsie Common Council passed legislation at a meeting Monday night, authorizing the Greater Neighborhood Urban Renewal Plan, the first phase of the municipal UR program. The project is scheduled to start in the West View area.

In other action, the board heard a discussion on whether there should be a referendum to amend the city charter to provide for a direct mayor-common council type of government or whether the city should retain the city manager form of government. No action was taken by the council.

City Manager Kenneth E. Pearce, in answer to question by the council, told members that he would have a reply "within the next few days" to a council recommendation that George Copans be relieved of his duty as city urban renewal director.

The council also referred to the finance committee and the city manager a letter from City Judge Milton M. Haven asking for more help in the traffic bureau where a backload of 10,480 unpaid parking tickets has accumulated. Judge Haven said the backlog has built up from 1962-63 and since January of this year some 6,400 unpaid tickets have accumulated from "scofflaws" persons who decline to pay the fines, making it "utterly impossible" for traffic clerks to keep up the clerical work involved.

They were not listed in the department's guide for 1963-64, which shows other waters where the use of fish as bait is forbidden.

Justice Retains Slim Margin in Harrisburg Race

HARRISBURG (AP) — Justice Michael A. Musmanno today continued to hold a narrow lead in the race for Pennsylvania's Democratic U.S. senatorial nomination while Genevive Blatto sought court action in an effort to win the nomination for herself.

Musmanno, who has taken a leave of absence from the state Supreme Court, led by a bare 163 votes.

The Associated Press figures include the complete vote, with absentees, from 62 counties and unofficial totals from Philadelphia, Lackawanna, Washington, Lawrence and Somerset. Unchallenged absentee ballots from all but Lawrence, however are incorporated in the total.

Official returns were certified by the state for 33 counties Monday. The big change was a gain of 30 votes by Miss Blatt in Northumberland County. This trimmed Musmanno's lead to 157 but he later picked up six votes in a recount ' totals from six voting machines in Philadelphia.

In a petition filed Monday in Dauphin County Court, attorneys for Miss Blatt held the door open for a possible challenge when and if Musmanno is certified the winner. The court agreed to accept Miss Blatt's contingency challenge because Monday was the last day for filing protests stemming from the April 28 primary.

In another legal move, Musmanno attorneys asked the Supreme Court to permit the resumption of tabulating absentee ballots in Philadelphia, which had been halted by Blatt forces.

Miss Blatt is the 50-year-old secretary of internal affairs who was the first woman elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania. She has been reelected twice.

Musmanno, a judge in the Nuremberg war crimes trials, was elected to the State Supreme Court in 1951. The 67-year-old bachelor had the endorsement of the state Democratic organization in the primary race with Miss Blatt.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POVERTY — EDUCATION: "The roots of poverty in this country are, simply, lack of education and the deprivation it brings," Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told the National Committee for Support of the Public School Monday night.

Wirtz said a study of 2,500 young men who had failed the Selective Service mental test showed that 80 per cent of them were dropouts, and 40 per cent of the dropouts had stopped school at the eighth grade or below.

RECONNAISSANCE PLANE: The American RB66 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Russians in March took photographs over East Germany without the crew realizing they were in Red territory, the Washington Evening Star reported Monday.

The three men aboard the jet were Capt. David I. Holand of Holland, Minn., the pilot; Capt. Melvin J. kessler of Philadelphia, the check navigator, and Lt. Harold W. Welch of Detroit, the navigator.

RESEARCH URGED: A crash program of research to find new methods of controlling plant and animal pests to replace hazardous chemical pesticides was urged today by the National Agricultural Research Advisory Committee.

Reporting to the Agriculture Department—which created it—the committee said pesticides are essential, at least in the foreseeable future, for efficient production, storage and distribution of foods and other farm products.

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—A plot to overthrow the Paraguayan government was scotched with the arrest of nine Paraguayans and an Argentinian, the government announced Monday night.

THE MAN AMPLIFIER—Why not figure out a way to increase man's physical capabilities by attaching little motors to him and let them provide the muscle power? Good idea, said scientists at the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, N.Y. So they devised an external "skeleton" which can make a superman out of a mere mortal. The motors strapped to the man in the above photo amplify his normal muscular actions so that he can lift and move objects too heavy for circus strong men. These motors aren't powered yet. The scientists are working on it.

Saugerties Board Favors Restoring Local Lighthouse

The possibility that the Saugerties Lighthouse, a 129-year-old village landmark is slated for destruction by a demolition crew shortly, brought various comments from members of Saugerties Village Board at Monday night's meeting.

Members of the board of trustees are expected to inspect the lighthouse tonight.

Mayor William Ziegler said he was optimistic that something could be done to save the lighthouse possibly for the purpose of establishing a museum and park on the 4½-acre island.

He said there were various problems including access to the island by rowboat.

The mayor said the board seemed to favor some sort of cooperative agreement with the town to acquire the property and lighthouse from the federal government. He said if the cost of restoration is not too high some agreement is possible to put the structure in good shape.

Mayor Ziegler said that quite possibly residue from dredging of the mouth of the Esopus could be piled along a route from Lighthouse Drive to the island. The base would have to be rocks or boulders. Such a solution to the access problem is still under discussion.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed a dull decline late this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

General Motors and Ford, however, lost more than a point each. Losses of a point or so were spotted here and there among other key stocks.

The trend among steels, coppers, utilities, drugs and chemicals was generally lower. Rails, tobaccos and aerospace stocks were mixed. Airlines were slightly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 305.2 with industrials off 1.3, rails off .1 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.61 at 818.70.

Sears, Roebuck lost a couple of points despite the company's report that it is now the world leader in retail sales and that a dividend increase is being considered.

A 3-point loss by Xerox also was laid to profit taking on this issue's rise to one high after another.

IBM advanced 5 points as it rebounded in the direction of 1963 peaks far in excess of its current price. Polaroid gained more than 3 in a partial recovery of recent sharp losses. U.S. Smelting, up about 4, and Control Data, ahead 2 or more, also were caught up in technical price swings.

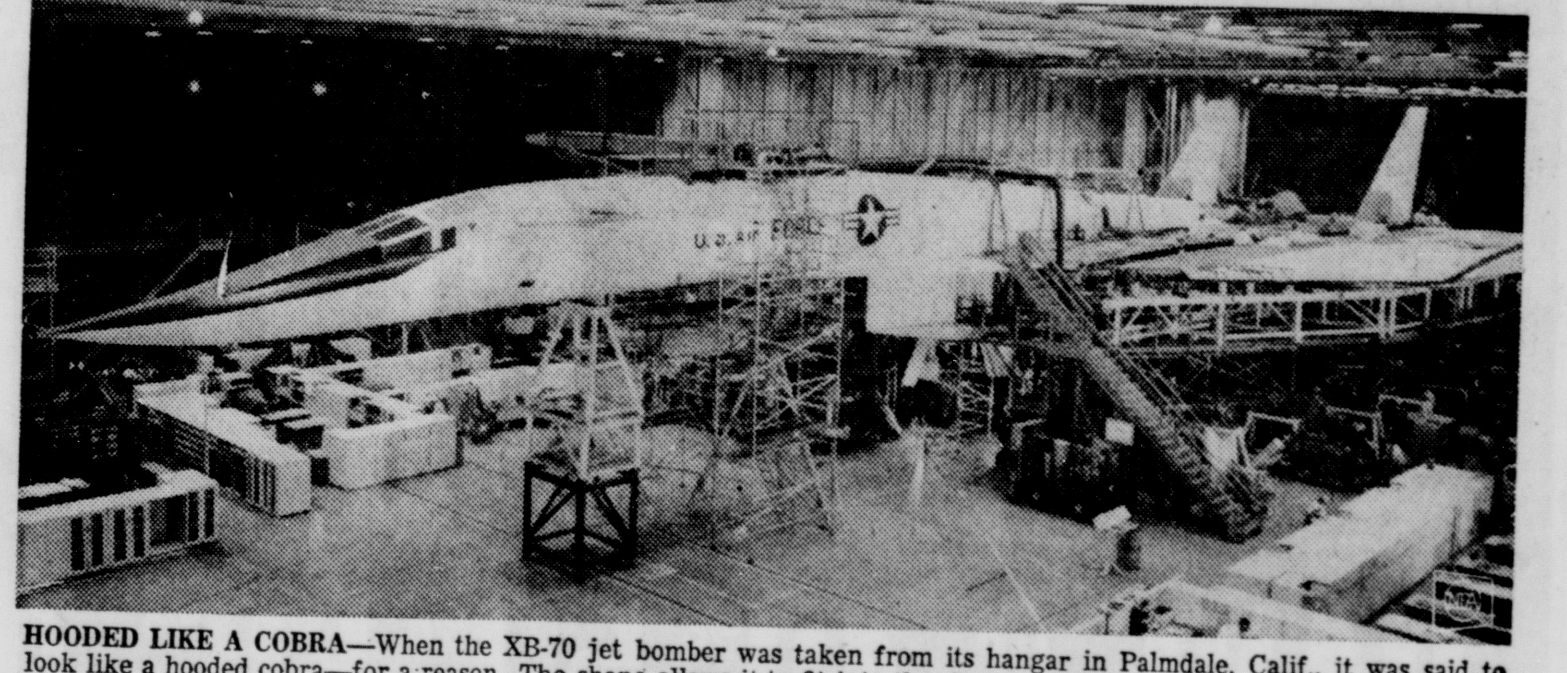
BOMBER'S POWER—The jet bomber XB-70 is shown in recently released photo of it while under construction in Palmdale, Calif. Six jet engines supply the power that allows speeds of up to 2,000 miles an hour. The power produced by the six engines could deafen a man standing 50 feet away with earplugs in his ears.



HOODED LIKE A COBRA—When the XB-70 jet bomber was taken from its hangar in Palmdale, Calif., it was said to look like a hooded cobra—for a reason. The shape allows it to fit into the shock wave produced by its supersonic speeds. It can travel between New York and Los Angeles in 90 minutes.

Ulster Kiwanis Circus to Benefit Scholarship Fund

Members of the Ulster Kiwanis Club were reminded at their regular meeting Monday night at Ang-El's Restaurant that proceeds from the club-sponsored 18th annual Von Brothers (formerly Hunt Bros.) Circus on July 6 will go to the organization's local Scholarship Fund.

Orvil Norman, project chairman for the club, said the club decided to sponsor the three-ring circus "because we feel there are thousands of children and young-hearted adults, who will welcome an opportunity to see America's second largest and greatest - tented circus." He said that the local club receives a high percentage of all tickets sold by the organization and that purchase of tickets on a family basis now would eliminate standing in line on circus day. The Von Bros. show, which have two performances, will include seven black-maned Nubian lions, and performing elephants, liberty horses, llamas, dogs, monkeys and camels.

Nikita Assails 7th Fleet Doings

PORT SAID, EGypt (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev aid today the Arabs would be exposed to great danger if the United States introduced Polaris missile submarines into the Mediterranean.

Listening Posts Cited

The Soviet leader evidently referred to negotiations between the United States and Spain for use of the joint U.S.-Spanish naval and air base at Rota as a headquarters for the missile-firing subs. The U.S. submarine tender Proteus moved to Rota in February.

In an obvious reference to U.S. 6th Fleet operations in the Mediterranean, Khrushchev said the "imperialists use aircraft carriers and warships to lie in wait for nationalist movements."

"They use warships as observation posts and to bring pressure on the policy of nonalignment," he said. "Aircraft carrier imperialism aims at restoring reactionary systems in Asia and Africa."

Standing on an anti-imperialist monument to Egyptian war dead, he condemned the British-French and Israeli attack of 1956 on Suez and said many of the West's politicians have failed to learn the lesson of that defeat.

"Many of the West's politicians are still unable to realize the truth behind this shameful end," he said.

He added that the goal of Britain and France in that attack was "to destroy Egypt's independence." He called Israel "the agent of imperialism."

The Soviet leader paid tribute to this city, saying:

"Port Said is renowned among the world's cities because it is a national bastion before which the dreams of the invaders collapsed."

Appears Rested

Khrushchev said that in the past it was in the power of the big nations "to enslave all of Africa's and Asia's peoples."

"But today the time is gone when the imperialists can commit their brutal crimes."

Catskill Water System of NYC At 70 PC Mark

New York City has entered the summer season with one of the largest water storage supplies in recent years. The Ashokan Reservoir for the first time in several years was full and at the end of the spring thaw was spilling over the Spillway into Esopus Creek. Gilboa Reservoir was also full and spilling over into Schoharie Creek.

The Rondout Reservoir as well as the Pepecton and Neversink Reservoirs, however, are far from full. They were both drawn very low last year and spring thaw and rains failed to fill them.

It is estimated however that the city's Catskill Mountain reservoir system is presently at about 70 per cent of capacity.

Rochester GOP Hears Newcombe

During the regular meeting of the Town of Rochester Republican Club held at Accord Grange Hall, the guest speaker was Lloyd A. Newcombe, Catskill business man, who is a Republican candidate for nomination for the office of State Senator.

Sen. E. Ogden Bush of De-Lancey, incumbent, is also seeking the nomination.

Newcombe spoke on several topics of state government as they related to this area of New York state and asked for the support of enrolled Republicans in his campaign to gain the Republican nomination at the June primary.

Franklin Kelder, town supervisor, also spoke briefly about town board activities.

Phillip Davis, chairman of the Town of Rochester Republican committee, said that the next Republican Club meeting will be held Tuesday night, May 26 at the Accord Firehouse and Senator Bush or his representative will be the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by Jean Bollin and a committee from the second election district of the town of Rochester.

Won't Allow

civil rights but of other vital legislation as well," Mansfield said.

He said the package of amendments which has been worked out does not represent everything that individual senators who favor the bill would like to have, "but it does represent complete agreement with Sen. Dirksen and it is a good bill and a strong bill. It deserves to reach the floor of the Senate to be voted up or down on its merits."

Dirksen and Humphrey insist that the proposed amendments would not weaken the bill.

Humphrey said some Democrats told him the amendments go too far. A number of Republicans have complained that the changes do not go far enough to meet this objections.

The amendments originated with Dirksen but were altered considerably in meetings with Humphrey, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others.

The two sections chiefly affected are public accommodations and equal employment opportunity.

The amendments would remove the government's power to file antidiscrimination suits in individual cases, an authority contained in the bill as it came from the House.

They would leave the attorney general the right to go directly into court if he found a pattern of discrimination. Aggrieved individuals would have to file their own suits.

The amendments would give states which have public accommodations and equal employment laws specified periods to handle complaints before federal power could be invoked.

The amendments also contain explicit language banning any federal court orders to bus school children from one district to another in an effort to remove racial imbalances.

Humphrey said that even if the package proves widely acceptable, it is highly unlikely any move will be made to get cloture to shut off the Southerners before June 2.

That is the date for the California Republican presidential primary. Humphrey said he understands Republican senators who back Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona would be unwilling to consider cloture before the primary.

Goldwater has been opposed to the civil rights bill and to cloture, the Senate's procedure for cutting off debate.

Father of Seven Should Sell Stock and Bank Cash

Q) "I am 46 and earn $14,000 per year. However, with seven children, my living expenses are high and I have no savings account or other reserve. I recently inherited 100 General Motors, 30 Jersey Standard, and 6 Madison Fund. I feel I have too much of my assets in General Motors. Do you believe I should sell a major portion of that stock and put the proceeds into a savings account, E bonds, or other shares?" J.S.

A) You are a very fortunate man, both in your family and in a fine heritage.

I agree that your General Motors holding is disproportionate, much as I like that stock.

With your big family, I would sell 60 shares and use the proceeds to build a strong savings reserve — equally divided between E bonds and savings account. All stocks fluctuate, sometimes very widely, and you should never be forced to sell in a down market to meet a sudden contingency.

Q) "I have invested rather poorly some of my hard-earned money as a registered nurse. My husband is on social security, and I am unemployed because of ill health. I have some good stocks such as Pacific Tel. & Tel. The poorly advised ones are Permanente Cement; Colorado Fuel & Iron, Texas Eastern Transmission; Richhold; California Water Service. What should I do about these?" C.H.

A) I offer you my sincere sympathy on your ill health and hope it will not keep you long from your profession.

You're not nearly as bad off financially as you think, I'm pleased to say. The stocks you list as poorly advised issues are not growth stocks, but in most cases they offer safe and liberal income and should be retained.

The only stocks I would switch are Reichold, where the cash dividend has been suspended, and Colorado Fuel, which is a marginal steel producer with erratic earnings and no cash dividends since 1958.

Mother Silent As 5 Children Are Blamed for Thefts

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — A mother stood silently in Union County Juvenile Court as five of her 10 children were arraigned Monday on charges of burglarizing scores of homes.

The five, ranging in age from 12 to 17, admitted taking television sets, radios and cash from the homes, said police, who added that the loot was worth thousands of dollars.

The woman only shook her head when Judge V. William Di Buono asked: "Can you explain this shocking thing, Ma'am?"

Calling the case "deplorable," he sent the youngest child, a 12-year-old girl, to the State Home for Girls in Trenton. Her 15-year-old brother was sent to the Jamesburg State Home for Boys.

Two other boys were placed on probation. The eldest child, a 17-year-old girl, was deprived of her automobile driving privileges.

The judge said that sending the younger children away might help to rehabilitate them.

Many of the stolen items were recovered, police said.

Turnout Spotty

the primary winner for at least one ballot.

State Democratic Chairman Harry Gross conceded Wallace 25 to 30 per cent of the vote, but insisted the governor doesn't have a chance of winning.

Running against Gov. John W. Reynolds last month in Wisconsin, Wallace pulled 33.7 per cent of the Democratic vote. Earlier this month, he got 29.8 per cent in Indiana's primary against Gov. Matthew E. Welsh. Reynolds and Welsh, like Brewster, were favorite sons pledged to Johnson.

Democrats in Wisconsin and Indiana claimed Wallace was helped by Republicans who switched to the Democratic primary in an attempt to embarrass Johnson.

There'll be no cross-over voting in Maryland. Voters are restricted to the primary of their party.

Voters who don't like Wallace or Brewster can vote to send an uninstructed delegation to the convention.

Wallace, a segregationist, based his campaign on opposition to the civil rights bill pending in the U.S. Senate. But long before he arrived on the scene, civil rights was a touchy issue in Maryland, a border state with strong Southern traditions.

Negro demonstrations set off violence last year in Cambridge, a town on the predominantly conservative Eastern Shore. National Guard troops were sent in to stop the fighting. Last week troops used tear gas to break up a Negro demonstration after Wallace had spoken in Cambridge.

A dozen Senate colleagues, including Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president, campaigned in Maryland for Brewster.

Officials predicted that half of Maryland's 933,000 registered Democrats would vote. That would be 20 per cent more than normal for a presidential primary.

Rally Falls Short

NEW YORK (AP)—The 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court decision against school segregation was marked across the nation by scattered boycotts of schools and by study-ins and marches.

A New York City rally fell short of civil rights leaders' expectations.

Only 3,000 to 4,000 persons turned out Monday in warm sunshine for a rally at City Hall. Organizers had said they wanted more than the 15,000 who demonstrated March 13 in snow against a plan to bus pupils to improve racial balance.

"Freedom schools" for boycotting pupils were set up in Marin City, Calif., Milwaukee, Wis., Buffalo, N.Y., and other cities.

The 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court ruling was May 17, which fell on Sunday this year.

State Advises

the present court house and in the same general location as the jail structure. When the present cells were installed there were provisions made for expansion by the installation of exercise corridor gratings but no cells, on the fourth or top tier. There are no stairways to this section and no cell work of any description," the report states and then says that while adequate facilities would be provided "it felt that completion of the upper or fourth tier of cells is not the solution to the problems."

"Prisoners, food and supplies would have to be transported up and down three flights of stairs and the number of additional cells would not entirely eliminate the housing difficulty."

The report states that all cells were found to be in clean condition, a spot check indicated no contraband was found. Bedding was good and clean.

Inspection of the kitchens disclosed them clean and food served of good quality.

Commenting on the use of four cells located in the basement of the jail and used by the Kingston Police Department for detention purposes, the report states that it is "problemetical" if this is not a violation of the Correction Law.

Twelve cells located on the two upper floors of the administration building are used for female prisoners. The top floor has not been used in many years but was found to be clean, orderly and ready for occupancy. The women's jail is entered through a barred gate in the corridor and the keys to the gate are in possession of the matron at the jail.

All prisoners are entitled to medical aid by the jail physician and the record shows that since January 1, 1964, to the date of the inspection the jail physcian had made 37 visits to the jail.

Drivers Fined

Three drivers booked on vehicle and traffic charges, were fiined $65 in city court today. George Westfall, 19, of 98 Murray Street, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50. He was also charged with driving a vehicle with an inadequate muffler, and a fine of $10 on that was suspended. Eugene Freer, 23, of 199 Greenkill Avenue, charged with passing a flashing red light, paid a $10 fine, and Mark J. Berry, 17, of RD 5, Box 372, Kingston, charged with driving a vehicle with an unsafe tire, was fined $5.

Licensed Practical Nurses

Editor, The Freeman

We have just learned that the Kingston School of Practical Nursing is to be closed next semester. As a class, we feel very badly about this not only for ourselves but also for the students who would have followed us. Many applications have been received to date and some of these applicants have already paid to have their physical examinations in the hope of being able to become Licensed Practical Nurses. As for our class and the class preceding us, we have all worked very hard to become good L.P.N.s in order to be of service to the community. All of the girls of the first class are currently employed locally.

The school is fully equipped with a fine library, hospital beds, linen, etc. A good deal of time and money have been spent to furnish and equip the school and it certainly seems most unfortunate for all concerned to discontinue the course after only two terms of usefulness.

We understand that this move was made in order to cut expenses in the school budget. We feel, however, that this is not the place to cut corners. The need for nurses is great and is increasing steadily. Our local hospitals are expanding or will expand in the near future. The population of Kingston is steadily increasing. Many R. N.'s are employed in a supervisory or an administrative capacity, which increases the need for L.P.N.'s.

It is our fervent hope that the Board of Education will reconsider their decision in order that the Kingston School of Practical Nursing might continue to serve the community.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, May 19th, the 140th day of 1964. There are 226 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1921, Congress passed an act limiting immigration to this country, the first step restricting one of the greatest immigrations in history. It limited immmigration to three per cent of nationalities already here as shown by the 1910 census.

On this date

In 1802, Napoleon Bonaparte created the French Legion of Honor.

In 1942, President Roosevelt conferred the medal of honor upon Lt. Gen. James Doolittle for leading the first aerial attack on Tokyo.

In 1943, Prime Minister Winston Churchill addressed a joint session of the U.S. Congress.

In 1944, American Fortresses and Liberators bombed Berlin.

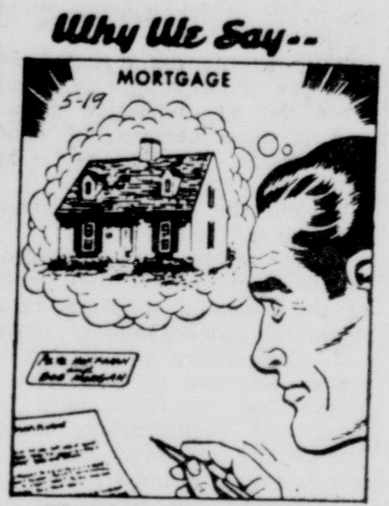
In 1945, American planes made a bombing run on Tokyo.

Ten years ago . . . Defense Mobilization Director Arthur Fleming reported the United States had stockpiled more than four billion dollars worth of strategic and critical materials.

Five years ago . . . The Senate Commerce Committee recommended the confirmation of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce after lengthy hearings produced considerable opposition.

One year ago . . . Air Force Maj. Leory Gordon Cooper received a tumultuous welcome at Cape Canaveral, the blast-off point of his epochal space flight.

The U.S. post office at Penasse, Minn., was the northernmost in the United States before Alaska's admission to the Union.



DEATH PLEDGE: When we buy a house with just a down payment, we might sign a mortgage. The word is actually derived from the Latin word "Mort" death, and Old French "gage" for pledge. Originally when an older son wanted to borrow money, he would sign a pledge to pay when he inherited his estate, which was after the death of his father.

This Year's Primaries Are As Dizzy as Any in History

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1964 presidential primaries are as dizzy as any in memory.

Some voters like best the man they know least. For some noncandidates hope is their oxygen tent. Actual candidates get rebuffed and rehabilitated.

Take Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. He's been running in Democratic primaries without a chance for his party's nomination which at this point belongs entirely to President Johnson.

Wallace said last March: "I have no illusions about becoming president." He said he was just running to express opposition to Johnson's civil rights program.

Changes His Mind

But after he got 33 per cent of the Democratic vote in the Wisconsin primary and 29 per cent in Indiana, he switched to: "I am a serious candidate." Today he was running in the Maryland primary against a stand-in for Johnson.

Then there's former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the 960 presidential contest and the race for the governorship of California in 1962. He said that was "my last campaign for public office."

As if to show he meant it, he moved to New York and said "under no circumstances" would he accept a draft. Came 1964 when the political sap stirred in the states' presidential primaries.

Without setting foot in New Hampshire, he got 17 per cent of the vote there, finishing behind Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Becomes Willing

Now he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides" although still insisting he was not seeking the nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton, who has won some modest votes in state primaries and did well in his own state, repeats he's not a candidate while refraining from saying he won't accept the nomination.

Lodge was the stunner in more ways than one. He ran unsuccessfully for the vice presidency in 1960 but has been out of politics since. Now, 3½ years later, probably few voters know what he stands for.

Yet, while in Viet Nam, never saying anything, he beat Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon in New Hampshire with a write - in vote, although the first two had actively campaigned there.

There was only one conclusion: Even though the voters there knew very little about Lodge they preferred him to the ones they had seen and listened to.

Before Oregonians cast their ballots last week polls indicated Lodge would wind up the No. 1 man there, too, even though Rockefeller and Goldwater were actively running there and he wasn't.

Fresh Life for Rocky

Rockefeller campaigned the state. Goldwater, smelling defeat, stayed away. Rockefeller came in first, Lodge second, Goldwater third, Nixon fourth. This was fresh life for Rockefeller. He hadn't been doing well.

His divorce and remarriage were expected to ruin him and professional Republican politicians, not the sentimental type, stayed away from him. Goldwater was their boy. He looked like the winner in the end.

But the Oregon results gave everyone second thoughts, for the very important California primary was coming up June 2. Rockefeller and Goldwater are on the ballot there, but not Lodge, and write-ins are not permitted.

Monday, the Lodge people, hoping to stop Goldwater, threw their California support to Rockefeller, not because they want him to get the nomination but because they think that if Goldwater loses in California maybe Lodge can get the nomination at the Republican convention in July.

Curiously, the bidding and play went the same at both tables. West opened his singelton spade. East cashed the ace and king and continued with a small spade. South ruffed with the nine of trumps and both West players overruffed. This gave the defense the first three tricks, but they could only add one more, so that both declarers made three diamonds doubled.

Really inspired defense will beat the hand one trick. West must discard a club on the second spade and another club when South ruffs in with the nine of diamonds. Once he makes these two plays there will be no way for declarer to keep the defense from getting three trump tricks.

He will have plenty of ways to try to make his contract, but they will all fail because of the fact that he will have to play one trump in order to get rid of East's eight spot.

Snapped Cable Cuts Radio, Phone Service

LITTLE VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) —A snapped aerial cable cut off radio, telephone and teletype service for 11 hours Saturday in a three-county area of Western New York before repairmen could restore service.

The cable was cut by a back hoe, a ditch-digging implement attached to the rear of a truck, said Wesley Vanderhorst, commercial manager of the New York Telephone Co. office at Olean. The cable was 18 feet in the air and was cut when the back hoe was raised, he said.

Crews restored service to Cattaraugus, Chautauqua and Allegeny counties early Sunday.

Long - distance telephone operations between Buffalo and Olean, Wellsville and Salamanca were disrupted. Emergency calls were rerouted. Local telephone service in the communities was not affected. officials said.

State Police at Troop A in Batavia said teletype and ground radio communications with substations in the three-county area were affected.

Dear Abby . . .

A Salute to Alaska!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I write with compulsion tonight. I can no longer contain my pride in my town, my state, my nation. Where do I start? I have seen people who have lost dear ones. People who have lost only some of their worldly possessions, and people who have lost everything. But no backs are bowed. The cooperation and organization is astounding! From teen-agers who offer to baby-sit for their neighbors so that they may salvage what they can from their wrecked homes, to engineers and survey crews already working to rebuild. Restoration of transportation, mail service, water, newspapers, power, has begun, and even the corner grocery store is swept up, mopped up, and sometimes propped up, but open for business. What a heroic job our radio hams did, working night and day to relay messages to loved ones. And the American Red Cross! And the generosity of our sister states! I could go on and on. Let no man say that we are "soft." that we Americans are weak. I have seen our strength and I am overwhelmed.

A PROUD ALASKAN

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: This is for the cocktail waitress who complained because she had to wear a short, low-cut, sexy-looking uniform on her job: A decent girl wouldn't go out in public that way. Girls who show off their bodies in the line of duty, such as strippers and models, have no shame or modesty, and would just as soon stand naked in a department store window as say "How do you do?" Any woman who would be ashamed to have her child go into the place where she is working and say, "There is MY mother!" should change jobs. And if she is standing there with most of her front exposed, and half her of behind sticking out, I mean HER!

FOR DECENCY IN N. Y.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: You advised that short-skirted cocktail waitress who complained about her hours and the men customers making passes at her to go get a job with shorter hours and longer skirts. That is easier said than done. Six years ago my husband walked out and left me with five children under ten years of age. I had never worked a day in my life and was trained for nothing. I took a job as a short-skirted cocktail waitress. It wasn't easy, but it beat charity. I have been able to support my family and provide insurance for their future educations. If men customers get rough. I tell them in a nice way that I have five children to support and a scene could cost me my job. They never give me any trouble after that. I work five days a week from 7 p. m. until 2 a. m. and take home about $160 a week. I am a P-TA president, Cub Scout den mother, blood donor and a one-day-a-week hospital volunteer. I am also—

A SHORT-SKIRTED WAITRESS

DEAR SHORT-SKIRTED: You are also a far-sighted woman. And justifiably proud.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am graduating from eighth grade in June and all the girls in my class are wearing white dresses. My older sister was graduated from eighth grade two years ago and my mother wants me to wear the same dress SHE wore. I am afraid everybody will remember it and know that I am wearing my sister's old dress. We haven't got the money for a new dress and my sister's is very pretty and as good as new, but I still feel funny about it. I hate to hurt my mother's feelings but I would sure like a new dress. What should I do?

HAND-ME-DOWNS

DEAR GIRL GRADUATE: Wear the dress, honey, and don't give it a second thought. It is the way a person wears a garment that makes it lovely. And chances are, not one person will remember having seen it before.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If those yokels who accuse you of using an old picture with your column had any sense they could see that you have a 1964 hair style! Sincerely,

SMITTE IN MILL VALLEY

Trucks, Pipes Are Death of Small Railroad

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — One of the nation's smallest railroads—12 miles long—is closing down because of pipeline and truck competition.

W. J. Winkle, vice president, said the Okmulgee Northern Railway received authorization Monday from the Interstate Commerce Commission to end operations.

The line, which has two diesel engines, 10 employes and assets estimated at $237,751, connects this eastern Oklahoma town to a Kansas, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad junction. The little line was one of the few that operated at a profit during the depression years. It was built in 1916 to serve two oil refineries.

Will Urge Strict Regulations

To Consider Report Blaming Senate and Not Bobby Baker

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee investigating Bobby Baker goes behind closed doors Wednesday to consider a proposed report that blames the Senate for putting Baker and others in places of responsibility without imposing "enforceable standards of honesty."

To remedy the situation, it urges a strict set of ethical regulations for Senate employes and senators.

The report, submitted to the Rules Committee by its special counsel, L. P. McLendon, alleges that as a Senate employe Baker was guilty of gross improprieties but holds he was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Baker, 36, resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority Oct. 7 after conflict-of-interest allegations.

The proposed report said disclosures in the Senate investigation "convincingly prove the existence of a breeding ground of practices inimical to the public interest."

Criticism of Senate

"No amount of sophistry," it said, "can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it.

"The Senate, as a body, and senators individually have suffered the loss of much respect and prestige because of conditions this investigation has brought to light."

To put the situation to right, McLendon's report urges:

1. A system of compulsory public disclosure of the identity of the financial interests of all senators, officers and employes.

2. Compulsory prohibition "of all associations by senators, officers and employes with persons and organizations outside the Senate who are engaged in conducting business with the government or have business before the government officers or agents."

3. A requirement by the Senate, as a matter of permanent policy, that all senators respond to requests from any of its committees to appear and testify about any knowledge they have of a subject under investigation.

The report was submitted to the committee 10 days ago and was leaked to newsmen Monday. Wednesday's closed meeting is for members to go over the draft and offer suggestions.

Expects Some Changes

Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., has said he expects the committee to make some changes in the proposed report before submitting it to the Senate.

The committee's Republican minority, which has attacked the Democrats' handling of the investigation, was reported drawing up a separate report.

Dismissing 75 Teachers

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — A packed hearing was told Monday night that 75 teachers from the Vancouver school district are being dismissed because voters in the area defeated a $1.3-million levy proposal twice.

Robert Simpson, assistant superintendent of the school district said the dismissals have nothing to do with the teachers' qualifications.

School Leader Is Fined $50 on Conduct Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The superintendent of public schools in Geneva has been fined $50 after pleading guilty to a disorderly conduct charge.

Melvin C. Livingston, 60, of Geneva, was arrested here Monday and arraigned in City Court.

Livingston said he was in Syracuse to attend a meeting of school officials. He has been superintendent of schools in Geneva since 1957.

Police said Livingston allegedly made improper advances to a male member of the Syracuse police vice squad.

Livingston resigned as superintendent Sept. 27, 1963. The resignation is effective July 1 of this year. He had been superintendent at Geneva for seven years.

Previously Livingston served in various capacities at schools in Valley Falls, Peru, Schroon Lake, Mechanicville and Garden City.

Service Award Goes For Saving Duck Farms

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Agriculture Department said today that a Superior Service award to its Farm Products Promotion Section was the first ever given outside of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The U.S. department makes the award on recommendation of a committee of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture.

The New York department said the award was given to the promotion section for "overcoming a disastrous marketing situation which faced the Long Island duck industry."

"From a dying Long Island industry, Long Island duck farming was transformed into one of the state's most vigorous agricultural enterprises," the state department said.

Grows in Role Every Day

Lady Bird Is Most Active First Lady Since Eleanor

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — In just six months, Lady Bird Johnson has become the most active First Lady since the late Eleanor Roosevelt.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson says she has "an unashamed love affair with the American people. She is making no secret of her affection for them and they are making no secret of theirs for her."

Ease, Grace, Zest

Mrs. Johnson has pitched in to join her husband in every endeavor from outright politicking to polite and formal entertaining at the White House. She does it all with ease, grace and zest.

Crowds in one state after another have shown their enthusiasm for Mrs. Johnson on appearances with the President and on her own. They found her "charming," "prettier than her pictures," "a real Southern lady."

And every month, her calendar, issued by her press secretary, seems to get longer.

It's no secret she plans to start downright campaigning before long. But not now, Lady Bird says only wait until Johnson gets nominated.

Every day, the petite, dark-haired Mrs. Johnson is growing in her role, finding more assurance as a speaker, planning to say more in support of her husband's declarations against poverty and prejudice.

'Shot in Arm to Women'

Watching the 51-year-old First Lady in action, Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg, wife of the Supreme Court justice, commented that "Mrs. Johnson has been such a shot in the arm to women in their middle years by being so active and attractive."

She is proving, says Mrs. Goldberg, that women don't have to go on the shelf, but can "keep being forward - looking and inquiring."

In the first tragic days in the White House after President John F. Kennedy's assassination Mrs. Johnson said she felt her own role "must emerge in deeds, not words."

She has since been referred to as "vice president to the president."

She does just about everything from holding Johnson's Texas hat while he speaks, to watching the clock for him.

Almost from the start, Mrs. Johnson has been compared to Mrs. Roosevelt who traveled widely and was deeply interested in social and economic problems.

Embarrassed by Comparison

At a recent luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation in New York, Mrs. Johnson found herself given the mission by Stevenson to "carry forward the imperishable work of Eleanor Roosevelt.'"

Far from seeking such an inheritance, Mrs. Johnson is somewhat embarrassed by the comparison to the wife of the World War II president, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

One great similarity to Mrs. Roosevelt, however, lies in Mrs. Johnson's early decision to make trips and speeches on her own.

She started the personal inspection tours of poverty areas when she traveled to the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Pa., area in January.

While her husband has been pushing a policy of getting qualified women into top government posts, Mrs. Johnson has launched small, informal monthly luncheons at the White House to spotlight the contributions of "women-doers" in a variety of fields.

When she went along on Johnson's six-state Appalachia, tour, Lady Bird spoke everywhere he did.

But Mrs. Johnson was not always so ready to speak before crowds and had to take a course in public speaking to overcome severe "stage fright."

But since becoming First Lady she has graduated from brief "thank you" remarks to making 20-minute speeches.

All Her 'Friends'

From steelworkers to League of Women Voters, she addresses audiences as "friends."

Her Southern drawl and sometimes sugary delivery have not always been assets. But, Lady Bird is working on that too. She's been calling on her speech teacher, Hazel Beall Provensen, to hear her read speeches and give advice.

She is working now on what she considers an important speech, a baccalaureate address to Radcliffe College next month.

First Ladies in recent years haven't had speech writers of their own and Lady Bird has become "a brain-picker," asking for suggestions from experts and counting on her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, a veteran newspaperwoman, for help.

"Mrs. Johnson is a great one to weigh every word," says "Liz" Carpenter, "and she does not want to say anything that isn't her own belief."

In one of his poverty-area talks, the President jestingly noted that his own wife is "unemployed," but then added that she's far from out of a job.

He told a news conference she was forced to give up her longtime job of operating KTBC, the Austin, Tex., radio and television station she is credited with building into a million-dollar enterprise. It has been placed in the hands of trustees while the Johnsons are in the White House.

A spokesman for the First Lady said she used to draw a salary in five figures as chairman of the board of KTBC. Now, she's finding there are no public funds for a wife anxious to do a job in the White House.

When Lady Bird makes her frequent speech-making trips, for appearances at universities, the Huntsville, Ala., space center, the YWCA and the Cleveland housing project for the elderly, she pays her own way.

When she invites wives of Congress members to go along, White House staffers report with some embarrassment the guests are advised to expect to foot their own bill.

Stamp Group Meets

Kingston Area youths interested in stamp collecting as a hobby have organized a group called the Stamptraders.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, June 6 at 2 p. m. in the new Britt Department Store Community Room. A sponsor is being sought to cover the costs of a meeting place. Anyone under high school age may attend.

More About Veterans

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Gilroy, a prize-winning playwright two-season ago with his first play off-Broadway, continues to be concerned with the problems of Army veterans. "The Subject Was Roses," a new work being presented at the Royale, concerns a mother, father and a son just returned from service.

NEW YORK (AP)—The big spurt in industrial production this spring may be borrowing from the future—the future in this case being the second half of the year.

Output leaped ahead impressively in April to cheer the majority believing that the economy is heading onward and upward as far as the eye of the prognosticator can see.

Push From Cars, Steel

But the big push that carried the Federal Reserve Board's industrial production index in April a full point above the March level came largely from autos and steel. And there are signs that both are crowding more of their annual production than usual into the first half of the year.

If so, any big gain in the fall would have to be sparked by other segments of production, such as consumer goods. And this will depend on the consumer himself.

In compiling its index, the Federal Reserve gives automotive products a weight of only 3 per cent. But the industry carries a bigger weight in actuality because when it is booming so are many producers of supplies and materials, from metals to glass, from textiles to rubber. The suspicion that the auto industry is producing more just now than it normally would arises from two factors: 1. Statistically, it is now turning out cars at an annual rate of around 8.7 million, although its estimates for the year's total average 8 million; 2. The labor negotiations this summer are expected to be unusually rough, and auto management may be loading up dealers with cars ahead of time, both to ease its own bargaining position and to hedge against any possibility of a strike.

Has Big Orders

Steel is getting its big orders from autos, construction, makers of machinery and business equipment. But steelmen also are predicting total output this year considerably lower than the present annual rate would call for. A summer slowdown is expected. A fall upturn is anticipated, but many think the rate of increase will be much slower than this spring's strong spurt.

Primary and fabricated metals account for 12 per cent of the Federal Reserve's index. And a thriving steel industry also aids others, such as transportation.

So the steel and auto industries between them can swing the index considerably.

Stone Ridge Seeks Members

For a very nominal fee, a woman is entitled to join the Stone Ridge Unit of the Home Extension Service. A membership campaign is now being conducted by the unit which offers women in the area countless benefits.

The Home Demonstration program brings to Ulster County the latest in research and homemaking skills from the Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics at Cornell University, cooperating with the U. S. Department of Agriculture Cooperative Extension Service.

It is part of a vast educational enterprise throughout the United States, supported by county, state and federal funds and carried out through the cooperative efforts and professional leadership.

Specifically, the home demonstration program is designed to help people develop an appreciation of the job of homemaking and of the home as the fountain head of all human enterprise. It offers opportunities to increase homemaking knowledge and skills, to develop self confidence and leadership abilities, to improve understanding and competence in human relationships, to grow through social contacts.

Membership is open in the Stone Ridge unit to any interested woman, however, but those interested may attend any meeting without financial or membership obligation. In this way, it could be determined whether or not an individual wishes to join the unit.

We The Women

Gossip Barometer Tells All

BY RUTH MILLETT Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

How can you tell on short acquaintance whether or not another woman is a gossip? Well, beware of such phrases as these:

"If you repeat this to anyone don't dare say I told you!"

"Promise you won't tell this to a soul because it was told to me in the strictest confidence."

"I feel so sorry for so-and-so; you know about the trouble she's having, don't you "

"There may not be a word of truth in it, but everyone is saying that. . ."

"So-and-so is such a gossip. Just wait until you hear all the stories she told me in a telephone conversation this morning. The first bit of news was . ."

"I don't like to believe the worst of anybody, but . . ."

"Don't you know ANY news at all—about anybody we know?"

"I can't wait to tell you about so-and-so. It's a long, long story."

"I wouldn't tell this to another soul, but I know you won't repeat it."

"I can't tell you who told me this, but it is someone who knows the Smiths intimately—and SHE said . . ."

"I'm not one to gossip about my neighbors, but . . ."

"I certainly didn't intend to eavesdrop, but I couldn't help overhearing . . ."

Those are all phrases dear to the heart of a born gossip. After all, a gossip has to have some way of introducing her subject—and these phrases are the ones most frequently used by gossips to launch a choice tidbit.

BEHAVIOR AT A WAKE

Q: Unfortunately, I have to attend many wakes and every time I go to one I am appalled at the behavior of some of the people. Other than the immediate family and a few close relatives of the deceased, the visitors behave as though they were present at a social event. They gather in groups talking quite audibly and laughing. Maybe I'm an old prude but I think such behavior in very bad taste. Will you please be good enough to print something in your column on the proper conduct of visitors at a wake?

A: I agree with you thoroughly. In fact, I can't imagine anything more ill-bred. Those going to a wake should conduct themselves with quiet dignity and reserve. To turn this very sad occasion into a gay social gathering is not only shocking but heartless as well.

Flowers for the Altar

Q: Are all white flowers the only correct ones to use as decoration at a church wedding? The altar of our church (a very beautiful one) is all white marble and I'm afraid white flowers will scarcely be visible against it. Would colored flowers be in good taste I was thinking of using them.

A: Although white flowers are usual, it would be quite all right to use colored ones to decorate the altar. As a suggestion, should you decide on white flowers after all, if you add a generous amount of greens as a background, it will make the flowers stand out.

Selecting Place for Wedding Reception

Q: Is it necessary to ask the bridegroom's mother to go along when selecting a place for the reception. My fiance's mother is making quite a fuss because she was not asked to accompany my mother and me when we went to look for a place.

A: The bridegroom's mother neither contributes toward the expenses of the reception nor has she anything to say about where it is to be held or how large it is to be.

Baptists Focus Attention on Racial Question

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The nation's Baptists focused on the racial issue today as they began meetings which will culminate in a joint celebration of the 150th anniversary of Baptist work in America.

Northern and Southern Baptists are meeting separately. About 40,000 Baptists are expected for activities this week, including joint meetings of seven U.S. Baptist groups.

The American (Northern) Baptist Convention, which has taken strong stands against racial discrimination in the past, gets down to work today.

The group will be addressed tonight and Wednesday by two leaders in the civil rights movement, the Rev. Dr. Ralph Abernathy and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., both of Atlanta.

The racial issue likely will hit the Southern Baptist Convention floor Thursday when the Christian Life Commission makes its report. There have been indications that an effort will be made to get endorsement for a strong Southern stand against segregation.

Harold E. Stassen, president of the American Baptist Convention, called Monday night for a middle-of-the-road policy on civil rights.

"Segregation or discrimination on the basis of race or color is clearly wrong; on the other hand the forceful insistence upon complete fulfillment of rights as individually interpreted is not sustained by our religious principles as I see it," said Stassen.

Apportionment Approach Topic For State LWV

The president of the Woodstock League of Women Voters, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, announced today the report of the delegates to the State Council held at Utica May 12-13, as follows: For the past year we have been studying, "Evaluation of Methods of assuring equitable apportionment among New York state legislative and congressional districts."

At the council sessions all delegates were asked to express their membership feeling on the study item.

After evaluating the feeling of all the leagues in the state the following statement was expressed: "The League of Women Voters recognizes that the primary importance of population as a factor of representation in the state legislature, but agrees some other factors in addition must be considered.

We believe that population should be the only basis of representation in one house. In the second house population should be a factor, but we have not as yet determined what weight should be given it nor what other factors should be included." Out of this evaluation has emerged the direction for our study in the following year.

The League derives all positions from independent studies and discussions, taking into account all points of view and does not support any party or candidate.

Portable Pump Exercise Proves Major Success

Questions concerning the possible output of a portable pump supplying a fire engine pumping at near capacity were answered Sunday morning as the four units of the Woodstock Fire Department held a drill on Yerry Hill Road in Bearsville.

Line officers of the department, including the captains of the four fire companies, planned the drill to foster better cooperative effort on the part of the firemen of the township.

Portable pumps from Woodstock and Lake Hill were utilized to pump water from the creek into the thousand gallon portable tank owned by the village unit. From this tank the engine from Wittenberg drafted water which was relayed up Yerry Hill to a second pumper from the village, which in turn pumped water onto a mythical fire. The pumper from Zena was also in use at the drill.

Officials of the fire department expressed satisfaction with the performance, noting that recent additions to the town's equipment was making it possible to cope with fires which in the past had been found extremely difficult due to lack of available water.

Police Checking Local Burglary

Woodstock police were checking out leads yesterday in connection with the burglary at the Gulf gas station operated by William Weigel of Yerry Hill Road.

The gas station, located across from the Grand Union, was entered some time after 10:30 p. m. Saturday night. Entrance was made through a rear, side window.

The cigaret machine was rifled and damaged and cash loss of $17.00 was reported. A desk drawer was also jammed.

About 2:30 a. m. Sunday, Officers Snyder and Reynolds were patrolling the Rock City Road area when they became suspicious of a car in that area. They sought to check the car but the driver raced from the scene at high speed and eluded the partol on the Glasco Turnpike.

The local police would not speculate on a possible tie in between the gas station burglary and the suspicious car, but reported they had a lead on the car and were checking it out.

Schimmerling Heads For European Trip

Another of his recently finished vocal compositions, "The Song of Panevnik" with lyrics by Josef Luitpold Stern is scheduled for its first performance in Vienna, Austria in 1965.

Alex Gerlak-C. Young Capture Senior Pro-Junior Pro Golf

Alex Gerlak, veteran Twaalfskill pro, and Claude Young of Winding Brook, the all-winning 1963 professional, won the Northeastern New York PGA's first annual Senior Pro-Junior Pro tournament on the first extra hole Monday at Winding Brook.

The winners tied the team of George Ramsden, Shaker Ridge, and Ed Bosse, Colonie, with 68s in the regulation 18 holes. Gerlak and Young posted 34-34-68 and Ramsden and Bosse had 33-35-68, four under par scores.

They birdied the 10th, 12th and 15th holes for a 2-stroke lead going to the 16th tee. Bogies followed at the next two holes, however, and par shooting by Gerlak and Young closed out the match all even.

3-Run Sixth Decides Tilt; Bach Is Winner

Keeping their DUSO flag hopes alive, Kingston High players scored three runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock and defeat Middletown, 5-2, yesterday at the losers' diamond.

In the other circuit game, Pete Petrillo fired a two-hitter as Newburgh blanked Poughkeepsie, 7-0.

Brian Bach went the distance for coach Al Gruner's nine, spacing four hits. He was touched for a first inning home run by Dennis George and a pair of singles in the third. Aside from those mild threats, the sophomore was in complete command of the situation.

The locals nipped loser Fran (Butch) Warnke for a run in the third when Lou Perry walked with two outs and came home on successive singles by Nick Berardi and Paul Gruner.

Hits by Bach, Berardi and Gruner knotted the count in the fifth.

Warnke's defense deserted him in the sixth. John Eccleston began the frame with a single. Gary Johnson reached first on an error. A walk to Bach and two more errors accounted for the three winning runs.

Kingston has a 4-2 league mark and is 7-3 for the season. The Maroon players will host Newburgh Thursday in a DUSO attraction.

Phils 1st After 4-0 Decision

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson.

The Colts got nary a one.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning proved most ungentlemanly to the ladies and the Colts Monday night, ruining a "Runs for Johnson" promotion by allowing Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

The Colts staged the promotion in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-luck knuckleballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record. In the three losing efforts, including a no-hitter, the Colts had managed only two runs for Johnson.

The gimmick was simple: All ladies who arrived at the ball park with runs in their nylons were to be admitted at a reduced rate. Of the 5,284 people on hand, 186 were ladies with mashed mesh.

The result also was simple: Not only were the Colts unable to get a run, they had difficulty getting men on base. Only two reached first, Nellie Fox when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning and Jim Wynn, who lashed a ground single over third base leading off the fifth inning.

Mauch Watches

Otherwise Bunning was untouchable, bringing his record to 5-1 with his second shutout while Manager Gene Mauch watched from the stands. Mauch had been fined $150 and suspended for two days following a run-in with umpire Lee Weyer in Sunday night's game.

Mauch's suspension will last through tonight's game against the Giants at San Francisco. The Giants, beaten by the New York Mets 4-2, are in second place, 10 percentage points behind the Phillies.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Steve Blass won his first major league start with a seven-hitter as Pittsburgh ended Don Dyrsdale's five-game winning streak by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2.

Detroit edged Washington 7-6 in the only American League game scheduled.

Bunning got the only run he needed in the fourth inning when Johnson was touched for singles by Wes Covington, John Herrnstein and Bobby Wine. The Phillies added two runs in the fifth when Richie Allen doubled, John Callison singled and Tony Gonzalez doubled. Gonzalez doubled in another run in the seventh after Allen singled.

Johnson struck out nine and allowed nine hits before being replaced in the eighth inning.

The Mets had been unable to score against San Francisco pitching for 31 innings and trailed 1-0 in the eighth when Bob Taylor singled, Rod Kanehl beat out an infield hit and George Altman homered. That provided Galen Cisco with the victory and tagged Bob Shaw with the defeat.

Mays Down to .407

The Giants used Willie Mays as a defensive replacement in the eighth inning. Mays got to bat only once, flied out and had his average trimmed another four points to .407.

Trailing 2-0, the Pirates struck for three runs in the sixth. A double by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon's single scored the first run off Drysdale in 17 innings. A single by Roberto Clemente and a walk that filled the bases chased Drysdale. With Ron Perranoski pitching, Gene Freese hit a sacrifice fly and Donn Clendenon stroked a single to push the other runs across.

The Tigers defeated the Senators despite two homers and four runs batted in by Don Lock. Gates Brown and Norm Cash each collected three RBI for Detroit. Brown doubled home the tying runs in the ninth before Cash doubled home the clincher.

Palmer Rallies To Win Tourney

By NORMAN ROWLAND
Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "When did you know you had it won, Arnie?" someone asked Arnold Palmer.

"When he stepped off the plane," Ernie Vossler interjected.

Palmer trailed Lionel Hebert by three strokes going into the final round of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Monday, then put together one of his typically brazen, blistering finishes for a two-stroke triumph.

Palmer, boldly going to his driver at every opportunity, whipped over the 7,042-yard Quail Creek Country Club course in a final-round five-under-par 67 for a winning 277, including birdies on the last two holes.

"I've been playing pretty well from tee to green," Arnie said. "The difference was in the putting. I was rolling in some of the little ones I haven't been getting lately."

He also got a little help from the weather.

The tourney start was delayed by two days of rain. On one of those days, Thursday, Palmer had shot a 75 before it was washed off the boards. When the first round was finally played Saturday, he had a 72, added a 69 Sunday and had another 69 on the first 18 holes of Monday's 36-hole windup.

It was his first tourney victory since he picked up his fourth Masters title at Augusta, Ga., earlier this year. The $5,800 first-place money increased $44,298.

Hebert, who shared the halfway lead with George Bayer and was in sole control after 54 holes, blew his lead with bogies on the second and third holes of the final round.

Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead to stay with another birdie on the sixth hole. Hebert never caught up, but he, Jack McGowan, South Africa's Bob Verwey and Mike Souchak stayed in contention until Palmer charged home with two closing birdies.

Hebert finished with a par 72 for 279 and $3,500 second-place money.

Verwey had a closing 70 for 281 and third place, his best PGA tour finish. McGowan, 73, and Souchak, 72, tied for fourth at 282. Dave Marr had a closing 68 for 283 and sixth place.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

How to be a hit with the misses

The answer, obviously enough, is to become a 1964 Dart owner. For this young-at-heart beauty is winsome—and then some.

Take 1964 Dart styling, for instance. Handsome, dashing, suave, and far from stuffed shirt. Here's a car anyone could love for looks alone. Inside, leather-grained vinyls are every bit as soft and supple as they appear. And how many other compacts can you name that offer a choice of standard or bucket seats, carpeting, and engines ranging from an Economy Run winning Six, to a sizzling, new 273 cu. in. V8.

So, if you want to be a hit with the misses, see your Dodge Dealer. But hurry, there are bound to be many other fellas with the same idea.

Innocent Pleas Given by Millers In Price-Fix Case

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Innocent pleas to charges of conspiring to fix prices of flour purchased by commercial bakeries have been entered in federal court by a dozen flour-milling companies and six officers of some of the companies.

The pleas were entered Monday when the defendants appeared before Judge John O. Henderson of Federal Court.

A federal grand jury returned an indictment April 28 accusing the companies and officers of subjecting commercial buyers of flour to artificially high and non-competitive prices.

The companies do a total annual business of $305 million and produce 65 per cent of the bakery flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains.

An 18-month investigation into the pricing, purchasing and sales policies of most of the nation's largest milling companies was conducted by the grand jury.

The industry's two largest firms, General Mills and the Pillsbury Co. both of Minneapolis, were among those indicted.

Worker Burns Toes, Disrupts City Power

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.m(AP) — Julian Salazar, 29, suffered small burns on each of his big toes Monday when he made accidental contact with a 138,000-volt power line. The mishap knocked out electrical power in a large section of San Antonio for 20 minutes.

Salazar told investigators he was working at a City Public Service Board substation when a steel reinforcement rod he held touched the power line.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall on Friday, the 19th of June, 1964, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, commence selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1962 for 1963 and Kingston Consolidated School District taxes for the year 1963-64 on properties outside the City limits, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the rights of persons in the military service as defined and established by section 500 of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act as amended October 7, 1942, and all subsequent amendments, thereto.

Bids Dems Seek More School Aid On U. S. Platform

NEW CITY, N.Y. (AP) — An official of the State Democratic Committee says more federal aid to education should be sought, to take some of the tax burden from suburban homeowners.

Mrs. Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the committee, urged such a plank for the party's national platform at a hearing in this Rockland County community Monday.

She said property taxes "have reached the saturation point."

"Today, many who have moved with their children to suburbia are returning to New York City because they cannot cope with local taxes," she said.

The hearing was the first of a series throughout the state to tap grass roots sentiment. The next will be in New York City Wednesday.

Missing Whistle Back, Sent to Retired Dean

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The mystery of Georgia Tech's missing steam whistle is over.

Polished and mounted on a base, the whistle was delivered to the residence of retiring Dean George C. Griffin bearing this inscription:

"In behalf of all Tech men, this silenced memento is presented in the spirit of infamous Tech traditions to: Dean George C. Griffin, who has contributed so much to the legend of Georgia Tech."

The heavy, 2-foot brass whistle was stolen Oct. 31, 1963, from atop a campus building.

Three Men Die In Fiery Crash

MONTOUR FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Three men were killed early today in the fiery collision of an automobile and a tractor-trailer on Route 224 in this Schuyler County community.

Sheriff's deputies identifed the dead, all occupants of the car, as:

Joseph J. Barber, 20, of Montour Falls; Curtis R. Baker, about 20, of Port Allegheny, Pa.; and William Wolverton, 62, of Dundee.

Authorities said the car went out of control, crossed the highway and collided headon with the truck. Explosion of the truck's gas tanks wrapped the car in flames.

Ernest Parker, 38, of Batavia, the truck driver, escaped with minor injuries, deputies reported.

It was not determined immediately whether the fire or the crash had caused the deaths of the three.

Think Woman Swept To Death Over Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A Canadian woman was "most likely" swept to her death over the falls Monday, police in Niagara Falls, Ont., report.

The body of Mrs. Erica Foxman, 40, of Downsview, in suburban Toronto, was recovered along the Canadian shore of the lower Niagara River near the Maid of the Mist tour boat landing.

A verdict on the cause of the death was not issued pending further investigation, police said.

Mrs. Foxman and her husband, Louis, had been visiting here and were staying at a hotel, police said.

Murder Charge Dropped; Stirs Religious Faith

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — "It caused me to become a true Christian ...," says a 49-year-old man, who has been cleared of a first-degree murder charge after spending five years in prison, including 1½ years in the death house at Sing Sing.

Ernest Jackson expressed himself Monday in a letter to Judge Jacob A. Latona of Erie County Court, who had been one of three judges in Jackson's case.

Jackson, who still is being held on a fugitive from justice warrant issued by Illinois authorities, wrote from his Erie County Jail cell, "I want your honor to know (from) my heart how it does forever thank you for the sentence of my natural life in Attica (State) Prison over five years ago in which the final result gave me my freedom."

Sentenced to Life

Latona sentenced Jackson to life imprisonment at Attica State Prison following his conviction on charges of first-degree murder in the April 19, 1959 holdup-slaying of Henry Duscher, a delicatessen owner.

Jackson and Willie J. Robinson, 38, who also had been sentenced to life imprisonment, filed appeals in the case after they reached Attica. Alfonso Williams, 30, also sentenced to life imprisonment, did not appeal.

The convictions were set aside and new trials ordered. Jackson and Robinson were returned to Erie County, stood trial a second time and again were found guilty of first-degree murder.

Judge William J. Regan of Erie County Court sentenced the men to die in the electric chair.

Taken to Death House

They were taken to the death house at Sing Sing Prison at Ossining in July, 1962. The Court of Appeals, after reviewing the case, ordered new trials.

Earlier this year, Jackson and Robinson returned to Buffalo. On April 13, the murder indictment against Jackson was dismissed by Judge William W. Serra of Allegeny County Court, presiding in Erie County Court, because of "no competent proof" presented to the county grand jury that would connect Jackson with the crime.

The fugitive from justice warrant charges Jackson with a parole violation stemming from a 1928 robbery conviction in Illinois.

Poodle Adopts Three Small Mocking Birds

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "It's more the dog wanting them to be puppies than the birds wanting to be puppies."

That's the way Mrs. Orbun T. Moore described relations between her white female poodle, Shalley, and the three young mocking birds the dog has adopted.

Shalley took the fledglings to raise two weeks ago when they were about a week old. Their real mother had abandoned them.

Fed a diet of soft-scrambled eggs, egg yolk, ground meat and bread soaked in milk, they flourished. Shalley, who has never been a mother, took care of them as if they were puppies.

Williams Asks Stay of Order To Raze Lighthouse Station

Action has been taken to stay the razing of the 129-year-old Saugerties lighthouse at the mouth of the Esopus on the Hudson River.

In letters mailed Monday night to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of this district and Capt. G. R. Boyce Jr., chief of operations of U.S. Coast Guard, Supervisor Peter M. Williams has asked for a stay of execution of the orders to demolish the landmark and start construction of a steel tower for a beacon light.

New York Senators Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating will also be contacted in order to present a solid front against any action to dynamite the lighthouse.

Supervisor Williams asked for sufficient time to permit further study by the village and town to acquire property. The building contains about 10 rooms and the lighthouse is situated on about 4½ acres of land.

It had been suggested by the supervisor that a small park could be established at the lighthouse site and the building could be restored for a marine museum.

Supervisor Williams said he had inspected the place with carpenters, contractors and other members of the building trades to determine if the structure is worth saving and if restoration could be made at small cost.

Preliminary estimate indicate it would cost about $5,000 to restore the building and make it safe for occupancy. As no such amount is available in either town or village budget, the projects must be paid for by subscription of the public.

Members of the Village Board of Trustees inspected the site Monday night prior to the regular board meeting.

VFW Auxiliary Sets Installation, Lists Activities

Installation of new officers, the coming antique show and sale, and the setting of the memorial services were the highlights of last week's session of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW.

A joint installation of the newly elected officers of the Post, Auxiliary and new Junior Unit of the Auxiliary will take place Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Ceremonies will be followed by a covered dish supper for the members and their guests. Mrs. Margaret Wade is the incoming president.

Twelve exhibitors will display on Friday and Saturday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day in the Post Home. Monies realized will be used in the hospital and rehabilitation work.

Memorial Day, May 30, will start with the Post and Auxiliary attending the annual Gold Star Mother's Mass in St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, at 8 a. m., after which the Rev. Archibald Damm conducts services at their monument. VFW services at the Post Home will follow. The members will then join the Legion in their services at the Legion monument, John Street, and march in the Legion parade and observances at the Main Street School. At the conclusion of these services, the VFW members will conduct memorial tributes at the Maine Monument, Malden. All Auxiliary and Post members are expected to attend all the days observances.

Mrs. Mary Bonack, rehabilitation chairman, reported that 18 corsages had been sent to the Gold Star Mothers on Mothers Day. Mrs. Arold stated that 76 bed pads were made, and six johnny coats totaling 25 hours and $107 value.

Sincere thanks was extended to the Auxiliary members who helped to promote the Loyalty Day program by the co-chairman, Mrs. Isabel DeCelle, who stated that the ladies gave their fullest cooperation in order to make the events so successful.

The Community Service chairman, Mrs. Ethel Jehle, received notice from the Department of New York that Saugerties Post and Auxiliary placed 10th in more than 400 Auxiliaries in the state in its community service work. Mrs. Jehle received a standing vote of thanks from the membership for her work in compiling the scrap book. A certificate will be presented to her at the Department Convention in June.

A mother-daughter tea sponsored by the Junior Unit of the Auxiliary is slated for Sunday, June 7, at the hall, according to the group's organizer, Mrs. Marie Sheehan. The girls now meet the first Thursday of each month from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. New members are welcome.

Local DAR Hears Washington, D. C. ConferenceReport

A report of the 73rd Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held recently in Washington, D. C., was presented at a meeting of Saugerties Chapter held at the home of Mrs. Charles Abbott.

Mrs. Daniel Lamouree, regent, was unable to attend, but she read a report sent to her by the other local delegate Miss Helen Vrooman.

Following are excerpts from the complete report:

The theme was "The People Who Know Their God Shall Stand Firm and Take Action," Book of Daniel XI:32. A stirring address was given by Harry Flood Byrd, United States Senator from Virginia. The subject was, "Today's Challenge." Sen. Byrd criticized the foreign aid policy with particular reference to the amount of money expended, especially amounts going to Communist countries. He also criticized the usurpation of power by the Supreme Court with reference to religious practices, state sovereignity, executive power and the powers of Congress.

Reports were heard from the national officers. A presentation of the United States Treasury Citation to the National Society Daughter of the American Revolution was made by Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, chairman National Women's Committee for U. S. Savings Bonds.

About 200 top officers of the DAR were entertained by Mrs. Johnson "The First Lady" at a tea held in the state dining room of the White House.

A resolution to expand the facilities of the DAR Library by renovation of the balcony section, which had previously been approved by the delegates was passed.

After another session by special arrangements, a courtesy tour of the National Gallery was made available to interested delegates.

The results of a poll conducted by the DAR in seven key states was reported by Mrs. Joseph Janowski, vice chairman of public relations. The seven states selected were California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia. Eight categories selected for the poll were newspapers, teachers, students, clergy, business, club women, salaried persons and friends of the DAR pollsters. The five questions posed to the public for simple yes, no don't know answers were:

Do you know what the initials DAR mean?

Do you know why DAR was organized?

Do you think DAR patriotic aims benefit you?

Do you approve of DAR policies?

The national average showed that 94 per cent knew what the initials DAR represented, 50 per cent thought DAR patriotic aims benefited them. Illinois with the largest DAR state membership (9,781) made the poorest showing —only 35 per cent knew why DAR was organized and what the DAR does. The most favorable public opinion came from South Carolina.

In Indiana the highest rate of DAR policies approval was the newspapers with 70 per cent agreement. In Texas and Virginia the lowest rate of DAR approval came from the clergy.

Approximately 3,000 delegates were present at the Congress, 1000 of whom wished to attend "DAR Day" at the Worlds Fair in New York. A luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel officially closed the congress.

Sally R. Brinnier, publicity chairman, announces June 13 is the last meeting for the summer. The topic will be Flag Day. This will be a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. William Young, Lighthouse Drive.

Faculty Help Is Cited on Teacher Recognition Day

In observance this week of Teacher Recognition Day, Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association wishes to acknowledge the support and assistance to the organization of the faculty members of the Saugerties Central Schools.

Ever since the establishment of the Parent-Teacher Association in Saugerties, faculty members have been active as committee members and officers. They have assisted with the planning and presentation of programs, with the raising of funds for scholarships and other purposes, with conducting membership drives, with preparation of publicity materials, and with working on many other activities of the organization.

Almost half of the former presidents of Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association have been members of the faculty. Considering the proportion of parents and teachers who have been members, this has been an unusually high percentage of presidents to have been elected from among the teachers.

The newly-elected president, William Provost, is a Fourth Grade teacher in the Glasco School.

For their outstanding leadership and contributions, several faculty members have been honored by being chosen as life members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Among honored who are presently members of the faculty or who have recently retired and are residing in Saugerties are Mrs. Sam Adams, Patrick Buonfiglio, Mrs. Maurice Clements, Miss May Evans, Miss A Frances Larned, Miss M Elinor Lente, and Dr. Grant D. Morse.

There is still time to enter the annual Page One Queen contest for young ladies in Ulster County in the 16 to 24 age bracket. The Kingston Newspaper Guild's queen and two attendants will be chosen Sunday 3:30 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties.

The Page One Queen and her attendants will preside at the annual Page One Ball of area newsmen on Saturday, June 6 at Wiltwyck Country Club.

The winners are chosen by a panel of judges on the basis of poise, personality and charm. Entrants will compete in gowns or fancy ensembles. There is no judging in bathing suits.

Those wishing to enter the contest may contact Miss Rose Bruno, P. O. Box 153, Rondout Station, Kingston. The most recent girl chosen was Miss Sara Imhoff of Mt. Airy.

Many Horses Die In Kentucky Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Officials hoped to determine today exactly how many thoroughbred horses died from fire that turned Miles Park Race Track into a blistered arena of panic-stricken animals.

As best as could be determined Monday night, 17 thoroughbreds perished in the flames Monday afternoon, five more were injured and had to be destroyed and another died of a heart attack.

The flames, thrown from barn to barn by winds, drove the horses into stampede, their charges scattered firemen trying to douse the flames and their hooves sent up dust in choking clouds to mingle with the smoke.

Grooms, trainers, and stable hands led others of the some 600 horses to safety, including Devil's Advocate, one of the biggest winners at small tracks.

Twelve horse barns and one feed barn were destroyed by the fire, which started in a tack room of one barn. Track general manager Horace Wade estimated damage to barns at $100,000 but said it could go higher. No figure was available on the value of the horses lost. None was believed to be of great value.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke or heat, or burned slightly, in battling the blaze.

At one time about 250 horses ran loose on the grounds. Those that had to be destroyed injured themselves in terrorized lunges against fences and other obstacles. Some animals got out of the track area and onto nearby streets and highways.

Aussie Tennis Feud Dims Davis Cup Hopes

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The feud between Australia's Lawn Tennis Association and the country's leading players, including international star Roy Emerson, has pinned hopes for regaining the Davis Cup on a trio of second stringers.

The LTAA named Bob Hewitt, John Newcombe and Anthony Roche to the Cup squad Monday. Emerson, Fred Stolle, Ken Fletcher and Martin Mulligan, under suspension for defying an association ban on overseas competition before last April 1, were ignored by the selection committee.

Sports in Brief

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (AP)—A pro-am tuneup today opens the inaugural $5,000 Home Pro Golf Tournament at Gulf Hills Country Club.

Fifty-four holes of medal play will follow the pro-am.

Only professionals who have not competed in more than three PGA-sponsored tournaments in the last 12 months are eligible for the tournament—which is designed especially for club pros.

CHICAGO (AP) — Halfback Ron Bull has signed for his third season with the Chicago Bears, the National Football League champions announced today.

In two seasons with the Bears, the former Baylor star has totaled 1,570 yards—767 rushing, 463 on pass receptions and 340 on kickoff returns.

Small Attendance At Olympic Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest attraction at the World's Fair drew only about 500 spectators Monday night and it was a pity. For Buster Mathis, a 6-foot-3, 298-pounder with surprising sprightliness, outpointed Dick Pettigrew, a mere 205-pounder but an experienced Navy champion, to advance to the semifinals of the Olympic Boxing Trials.

Buster, a 19-year-old sign painter from Grand Rapids Mich., and the AAU champion, will meet Tyrone Hollins, a 196-pound soldier from Coffeyville, Kan., in the feature of the 20-bout semifinals tonight in the 18,000-seat outdoor Singer Bowl.

The winers of the 10 finals Wednesday night will represent Uncle Sam in the Tokyo Olympics Oct. 10-24.

Hollins, a left-hander, upset Al Wilson, the inter-service champion from the Camp Pendleton Marines and McKeesport, Pa., in the other heavyweight bout in the evening.

Despite beautiful, summery weather and the right price—admission is free to all visitors to the Fair once they pay their admission to the grounds—only about 1,000 in all saw the afternoon and night bouts.

London Seeking End of Attacks By Pathet Lao

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today it is seeking Soviet and Red Chinese cooperation to halt attacks by Communist-led Pathet Lao forces in the kingdom of Laos.

A Foreign Office spokesman, reading a prepared statement to newsmen, said:

"We have followed with serious concern developments in Laos resulting from the continued attacks by the Pathet Lao.

"Her Majesty's ambassador in Moscow has already been in touch with the Soviet government and we shall be discussing the matter further both with the Soviet government and the Chinese government. We also, of course, are in close touch with the United States and other interested governments."

Find Explosive On Victoria Span

MONTREAL (AP)—A homemade bomb was found on the Victoria Bridge over the St. Lawrence Seaway early today, after hours of separatist disturbances in Montreal.

Det. Sgt. Leo Plouffe, Montreal police bomb disposal expert, dropped the explosive into the St. Lawrence River, well away from the St. Lambert Locks.

Earlier in the night about 1,000 police battled crowds of youths demanding separation of French-speaking Quebec from the English-speaking Canadian provinces.

Police arrested at least 85 on charges of disturbing the peace.

Two demonstrations at a "patriots' monument" blocked the Jacques - Cartier Bridge across the St. Lawrence. Autos lined up for miles south of the city. Many of the motorists were returning from the long Victoria Day holiday weekend.

The bomb was found on the Victoria Bridge five hours after an anonymous threat was telephoned to the police. Auto and railroad traffic was kept from the bridge during that time.

The bridge connects Montreal and the south shore of the St. Lawrence. Several trains running to the east and to the United States were held up.

Plouffe said the bomb was made from a World War II shell casing apparently filled with an explosive and was wrapped in a plastic bag.

Anchorage Becomes Tense From Quake Aftershocks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Residents of this shattered city, who showed almost no panic in the Alaska earthquake of March 27, have become tense and apprehensive from a steady series of aftershocks.

Their reactions have not been unusual, said doctors, psychiatrists and a psychologist in an Associated Press survey.

"I think everybody reacted quite calmly and adjusted quite well to the disaster," said Dr. William A. Davis, assistant professor of psychology at Alaska Methodist University. "There has been very little maladaptive or maladjusted behavior."

Private physicians said there has been a moderate to heavy increase in the number of persons complaining of nervous problems.

"The earthquake had a sizable impact emotionally," said Dr. J. R. Langdon, a psychiatrist. "But I suspect it will not prove to have been real bad."

Another psychiatrist, Dr. W.J. Rader, said people "rose to the occasion because it was a clear and present danger and they could address themselves to necessities that had to be taken care of."

The earthquake actually helped some emotionally upset persons, said the doctors, because it enabled them to forget their real or imagined personal problems.

There was very little panic in the original quake, they said, because people had no warning, probably didn't realize at first how severe it was, did not witness many casualties and were not in large crowds that generate mass terror.

That the aftershocks have been causing acute anxiety was indicated in a survey of 180 residents by Davis' university classs. Many said they felt panicky.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey at Fairbanks said it appeared that aftershocks strong enough to be felt could be expected for several weeks.

Langdon said that for some residents the quake was followed by excessive sleeping and fatigue.

Residents are becoming angry about the impact of the quake, he said, and probably will become depressed this summer or fall if there is lack of progress in solving problems.

German Youths Leave Following 3-Day Festival

BERLIN (AP) — After three days of singing, parading and listening to Communist propaganda, a half-million East German youths returned to their homes today.

They had come from all over East Germany to attend the first Communist youth festival in East Berlin in 10 years.

Thousands of police, backed by a motorized infantry company, kept watch on Monday night's closing activities to prevent any repetition of violence that broke out Sunday night.

Extra guards also were on duty along the Berlin Wall to prevent escapes. The wall had not been built when the 1954 festival was held, and festival participants could visit West Berlin. Hundreds stayed in the Western sector.

5 Are Arrested For Fighting at Shopping Center

Five men were booked on public intoxication charges after a report to local police Monday at about 7 p. m., that "a large group of men" were involved in "a free-for-all" fight at the rear of Britt's Department Store, Kingston Plaza Shopping Center.

Arrested were Frank P. Miller, 60, Lester S. Purdy, 54, and William Wanser, 50, who said they have no homes; Michael J. Byrnes, 52, who gave his address as Sacramento, Calif., and John J. Harnen, 45, who said he lives on Downs Street, Kingston.

Officers George Barringer, Leon Fitzgerald, Kenneth Radel and Otto Short were dispatched to the area after the fight was reported.

Harnen and Wanser, who had been in court on previous occasions on public intoxication charges, were sentenced to 30 days in jail each and the others were given suspended sentences of 30 days.

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Wesleyan University, which has revised curricula to put more emphasis on individual research and study, is starting a voluntary reading program on a 2½-year trial basis.

SHH! ROBIN AT WORK—Mama Robin took up residence in an evergreen just outside the main entrance to the Port Ewen School several weeks ago and is hatching her brood under the protection of fence and do not disturb signs. Reports from the "nursery" are that one baby bird hatched this morning and more arrivals are expected momentarily. Observing progress at the nest are (l-r) Mrs. Ann Van Bramer, art teacher who made the signs, Robert Graves, principal and fourth graders Cynthia Kirk and Jo-Ann Potter. (Freeman photo)

June 20 Last To Get Pageant Reserved Seats

Area residents are being given the opportunity to support the Miss New York State Pageant held here annually and at the same time be eligible for their choice of reserved seats at this outstanding entertainment.

The pageant ticket committee, headed by Herman G. Rafalowsky, has mailed patron tickets to many area residents and businesses. Patron tickets are being sold at a small increase in price over regular admissions, not only help support this major statewide promotional event, but if redeemed by June 20, entitle the purchaser to their selection of the best reserved seats. The public sale of tickets will start on this date.

Only one patron ticket is being mailed with each letter. Additional tickets may be purchased at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, headquarters for the Miss New York State Pageant.

The Pageant will be held in Kingston July 9, 10 and 11, for the sixth consecutive year at Kingston High School Auditorium. It is the only official statewide preliminary competition for the Miss America Pageant. It is staged by volunteers representing the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. Six are appointed by each organization, but many other volunteers are enlisted to help stage the event.

All seats in the high school auditorium are reserved. The fact that every seat was sold for the Saturday night performance last year, indicates the necessity to purchase and redeem the patron tickets on or before June 20.

The pageant committee believes that Kingston will be awarded the state franchise year after year if the community supports the event sufficiently to stage a worthwhile pageant and gives it adequate promotion. It is a nonprofit venture and any income over necessary expenditures will be used to build up the program.

To Clean Ulster Well Wednesday

Abram Winchell, superintendent of the Town of Ulster Water District, announced today that the town well will be cleaned on Wednesday.

Winchell called on water district users to conserve the consumption of water on that day to facilitate the cleaning project.

"The success of the operation, Winchell pointed out, is "dependent upon the time workers can hold down the pump during the process.'

Realtors to Meet Thursday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Board of Realtors will be held Thursday at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 7:30 p. m.

Alexander Yosman will speak on Urban Renewal and of the latest developments and progress being made in the Urban Renewal Plan to date.

Delegates will be named to attend the 60th meeting of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc., which will be in convention on June 7-10 at Sagamore Hotel, Bolton Landing.

All members and salesmen of the local board are urged to attend the meeting Thursday as matters of importance will be transacted. Plans of Realtor Week will be completed and announced by Vincent Sheridan, chairman.

Rocky Is After More Moderates

HEADS NEW OFFICE— Paolo Cardinal Marella, 69, was named by Pope Paul VI to head a new Vatican secretariat for closer relations with non-Christians throughout the world. (AP Wirephoto)

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rockefeller campaign leaders wooed supporters of other Republican "moderates" today to join the Lodge camp in backing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's presidential primary.

They followed up quickly after leaders of the drive to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination urged his followers to vote for the New York governor in the June 2 primary.

The Rockefeller - Lodge alliance didn't surprise anyone, least of all Sen. Barry Goldwater, in view of Rockefeller's victory in the Oregon primary last week.

Only Rockefeller and Goldwater are competing for California's 86 delegates to the GOP national convention. No write - ins are allowed, and the Lodge people concluded their best bet was to throw in with Rockefeller.

Similar Philosophy

"We are convinced," said a Lodge backer, "that the Rockefeller slate closely parallels the moderate Republican philosophy of Ambassador Lodge.

Rockefeller, in a New York statement before flying out for four days of campaigning here, said he's enthusiastic and optimistic about his chances in California.

Goldwater, winding up a three - day stint in California Monday, said he had been expecting the Lodge forces to get behind his opponent. The Arizona conservative said it was nothing more than a "stop Goldwater movement."

No Deals, He Says

Rockefeller said, "I think the trend already had set in after the Oregon primary, when many of the Lodge people came over. I want to say again I have made no deals, nor will I make any."

Goldwater, who ran third to Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon, said he saw no visible signs of Lodge strength in California.

Paul Grindle of Boston, national campaign director of the Draft Lodge Committee, said followers of the ambassador to South Viet Nam constitute the largest single bloc of voters in California.

Not Giving Up

He emphasized that his group is not giving up hope of winning the nomination for Lodge.

Leonard K. Firestone, Rockefeller's Southern California chairman, indirectly invited supporters of other possible Republican contenders to help Rockefeller in his California battle.

He said Lodge "stands within the mainstream of Republican thinking, as do Gov. Rockefeller, Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, as well as other party leaders."

College officials feel that offering an extensive program is an important responsibility of the college and will provide better service to the community."

Say Cuba on Wartime Footing

Invasion Reports Have Communists Desperate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Refugees from Cuba say the country is on a virtual wartime emergency basis because an exile group announced plans to be fighting on Cuban soil by Wednesday.

Highways Jammed

Exiles arriving here from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship said highways in Cuba were jammed with troop - carrying trucks, tanks and cannon, heading into mountain and coastal areas.

The Castro regime, they said, apparently is taking every possible defensive measure against raids such as that of last week when exile raiders burned a sugar mill in the eastern port of Pilon.

Ramon Espino, one of 48 refugees arriving from Cuba over the weekend, said "invasion jitters have made the Communists desperate."

Widespread arrests of Cubans suspected of anti - Castro leanings were reported by exile sources.

"It appears to be something like the situation which preceded the Bay of Pigs invasion of April 1961," said an anti-Castro leader, quoting underground sources.

The reports led to speculation among refugees that new attacks on the Cuban regime, expected today or Wednesday might be postponed.

Two Leaders Disappear

Manuel Ray, leader of one anti-Castro action group, recently disappeared from his headquarters in San Juan, P.R., and Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, a noted guerrilla fighter, has faded from sight here.

One exile leader said Ray's pledge to be fighting in Cuba before May 20 "would not lead him into any foolhardy attack if the time is not ripe. Likewise, Gutierrez Menoyo, who has no timetable, would judge the situation by facts, rather than on the basis of emotion. Yet I would not say that attacks either today or tomorrow are out of the question."

New Paltz Asking That Rev. Porter Remain to Serve

The New Paltz Village Board of Trustees unanimously passed a resolution Monday night at a special meeting asking for reconsideration of the decision to transfer the Rev. Willett R. Porter, New Paltz Methodist minister to another church.

The board instructed the village clerk to write a letter to Methodist Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke asking for reconsideration in the matter. They pointed out that the Rev. M. Porter has earned the admiration and respect of everyone in the village and emphasized that he has taken an active part in all community activities.

He will be sorely missed, they said, not only by members of his church but by all the citizens of New Paltz.

The letter also emphasized that the New Paltz community is passing through a period of rapid growth with many of the problems which attend such growth. "We feel," the trustees said, "that the Rev. Mr. Porter is needed here at this time."

The Rev. Mr. Porter has served the three churches of the New Paltz Methodist Parish which include Lloyd and Plutarch for the past 13 years, coming directly to this area after ordination. He has been one of the leaders in the migrant ministry program so vital to the farming areas surrounding the village, as well as conducting an active church program for students attending the State University College there.

Through the years he has been a vital force in a variety of community endeavors.

Methodist appointments will be announced officially at the Annual Conference June 9 through 14 at Drew University. Merger of New York and New York East Conferences into the New York Conference will take place at that time.

180 Strike Today At Lehigh Cement Plant in Alsen

A grievance session Monday on undisclosed issues between Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Alsen, Greene County and United Cement, Lime Gypsum Workers of America Local 129, was not resolved and approximately 180 plant workers went on strike at the plant this morning.

Neither management or labor would discuss the issues with the press. However it was reported that the grievance session which brought in Edward Eidt, federal mediator, involved certain fringe benefits.

Talks yesterday were apparently stalemated and no new meeting for further talks has been scheduled.

Union pickets were still patrolling the plant entrance at noon today.

Allen H. Uhler, plant manager and Audin Straub, union business manager were unavailable for comment as the Freeman went to press.

State Advises New Jail Needed to Serve County

No Action Taken on Renovation

Present Building Cost Was $75,000

Renovation of the existing Ulster County jail facilities is not the answer to the present overcrowded conditions at the jail and "serious consideration" should be given to the construction of an entirely new facility. That is the recommendation of the New York State Commission of Correction following an inspection of the jail on March 6, last.

In a report of the inspection submitted by Richard E. Woodward, senior inspector, he commends Sheriff Claude Bell and his staff on the excellent condition of the existing facilities and says:

"The authorities should give serious thought to providing the sheriff with adequate facilities but it is felt that completion of the upper or fourth tier of cells is not the solution to the problem."

New Jail Is Urged

The report states that during the past year the Commission approved preliminary plans for alterations to the present jail, "but there has been no positive action taken on any construction. It is felt that serious consideration should be given to the construction of an entirely new facility as the present jail was built in 1901 and it has been found that alterations and additions to a structure of this age are extremely costly."

Some time ago the board of supervisors authorized a preliminary survey to be made of the old courthouse and jail by Augustus R. Sohrowang Associates, architects.

No Work on Jail

Much of the work on the courthouse has been completed but nothing has been done in regard to renovations or changes in the sheriff's department or jail.

At the last meeting of the board of supervisors the board authorized a study be made by the firm of Augustus R. Schrowang Associates of the courthouse facilities not included in the previous renovation plan. That authorization includes a study of the sheriff's department facilities but no specific mention was made as to the jail.

The report of the March 6 inspection by Senior Inspector Woodward states that at the time of the inspection there were 38 male prisoners confined to the jail, 28 being adults and 10 minors. Due to the limited number of cells it is not possible for the sheriff to comply strictly with the provisions of the Correction Law in regard to the classification, the report notes.

Records In Order

Records are properly kept and in good order and the report notes that there had been a high in jail population of 50 in both January and February and during the past year there were as many as 60 detained in jail at one time. During the past calendar year there were 1,131 prisoners processed and during that period the daily average population was 48.

All areas of the jail were visited by the inspector and safety arrangements were found to be good.

"The present jail was first occupied on January 1, 1901, constructed at a cost of $75,000 and is a wing on the court house. The previous jail which was built in 1818 was also a wing on

Russians Back Up Cambodia

Soviet Critical Of Policy in Asia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union unleashed a sharp attack today on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia at the very outset of debate in the U.N. Security Council on charges of aggression brought by Cambodia against the United States.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko did so in challenging the right of a delegate from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate. But the council overrode his objections and voted 9-2 to let the South Viet Nam representative participate.

Czechs Stand Fast

Only Communist Czechoslovakia supported the Soviet demand.

Fedorenko declared that the United States was responsible for alleged acts of aggression committed against Cambodia.

"It is the United States that sent its troops into the so-called Republic of South Viet Nam," Fedorenko asserted. "No representative of that regime should be seated here."

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said that council rules provide for seating of a representative involved in an issue before it.

Invited to Table

He said the only equitable procedure for the council to follow would be to seat the representative.

P. H. Am Khac Rau, charge d'affaires for South Viet Nam in Washington, was invited to the council table.

The council was called together to consider a Cambodian charge that U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had violated Cambodian territory, killed Cambodian civilians and threatened peace and stability in the area.

Diplomatic sources said the

Mayor Proclaims Eye Bank Day

Mayor John J. Schwenk has proclaimed Wednesday, May 20, as "Hadassah Eye Bank Day," granting permission to the members of the women's Zionist organization to man designated business corners throughout the day for the purpose of collecting funds to fight trachoma, a dread eye disease prevalent in the Middle East.

Noting that Israel is celebrating the 16th anniversary of its independence, the mayor said in his proclamation, "For all the years of its existence, Israel has been regarded by the United States as a truly democratic outpost in the Middle East." He urged local citizens to support Hadassah's effort to "Help Save An Eye" through contributions on "Eye Bank Day."

Hits Obnoxious Amendments

Won't Allow CR Voting This Week, Dixie Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today Southerners had concluded the package of amendments that Senate leaders are backing would make the civil rights bill "even more obnoxious."

He told newsmen also that the Southerners had decided at their weekly caucus to permit no votes on amendments to the bill for the remainder of this week.

Sponsors of the bill had forecast that a vote might be allowed on the pending jury trial amendment after today's Maryland primary.

Not Part of Strategy

Russell said "we are not counting on this in our strategy here" although he conceded the Dixie forces would welcome any psychological boost from a strong showing in Maryland by Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

The Southern caucus was the first to end of three morning closed meetings on the bill.

The other two were Democratic and Republican conferences at which the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was to be explained.

No final decisions are expected, but leaders believe they'll leave the sessions with a pretty good idea of which of the 70 changes are acceptable.

The Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he thinks additional GOP sessions may be necessary.

The assistant Democratic leader, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, told reporters he hopes one session will be enough for his side. But Humphrey said individual conferences with undecided Democrats will be going on for some time.

The amendments are designed to win over some of the senators who are lukewarm or cool to the House-passed bill. If they can be satisfied, the reasoning goes, they will support a move to silence the Southern talkathon that has carried the bill to 59 days of debate.

Machinery Available

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he feels each senator should search his conscience and determine whether the time has arrived for a vote.

After the weekly breakfast of Democratic leaders with President Johnson today, Mansfield said "the machinery for voting is available," an apparent reference to cutting off debate.

"It will soon be up to individual senators to determine whether they want to vote early or continue long and exhausting sessions which would delay not only the passage of

Turnout Spotty For Maryland's Democratic Vote

BALTIMORE (AP)—The early turnout of voters was spotty today for Maryland's Democratic presidential primary enlivened by the civil rights issue and intensive campaigning of Gov. George C. Wallace.

An expected heavy vote did not appear to be materializing in the inconclusive opening hours of primary day. The weather was pleasant — sunny with temperatures in the high 70s.

Brewster Confident

There was some whispering among Democratic leaders that the Alabama governor might win, but Wallace's opponent, Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, said "our side will win."

Brewster filed as a favorite son in an effort to make sure that Maryland's 48 votes in the national nominating convention go to President Johnson. The delegation will be committed to

Favorable Council Action Tonight May Mean Urban Renewal Start by Next Fall

Favorable Common Council action tonight on downtown's Broadway East Urban renewal project, expected because of almost unamious approval at a May 13 hearing, could mean actual start of the project in the fall.

The aldermen, meeting in a recessed session at 7:30 p. m. in the council chamber, City Hall, are due to legislate on urban renewal and on proposed consolidation of city bond issues prior to sale.

First difinite action toward getting a project started here came on Aug. 20, 1959 during the administration of former Mayor Edwin F. Radel, when a contract was approved for preparation of a master plan, an initial requirement before start of urban renewal.

On Oct. 28, 1959, the city received from Raymond & May Associates, local planning consultants, a formal bid for federal aid. Soon after that application was filed with the Housing and Home Finance Agency for $67,000 to be used for preparation of plans.

Prior to above action, however, urban renewal was first introduced to the city in 1955 by the Kingston Housing Authority through efforts of Alexander Yosman, who is now the city's urban renewal advisor, and George E. Yerry Jr., housing authority chairman. That was during the administration of former Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Many phases of legislation have been required since actual start of urban renewal planning here, and as former Seventh Ward Alderman and Council Majority Leader Frank C. Sass noted at the public hearing, the aldermen voted favorably 26 times for various measures dealing with it.

Tonight's legislation will deal largely with general approval, state and federal, and with a report on the feasibility of relocation. A report on the council's action is to be forwarded to the HHFA, which will report beck on its findings.

Proposed forming of a corporation by downtown merchants in support of urban renewal development is under consideration and the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters has indicated interest in construction of an apartment unit or units. UR officials have also reported interest in the project by developers from other cities.

Kingston's downtown and uptown urban renewal projects are under direction of Eric Hamphill, who was recently named UR director. He came here after experience with projects in Philadelphia. Plans for the uptown project are well advanced.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She's been away for two years, but now Hollywood is seeing a lot of Kim Novak. A whole lot.

After a period of picture-making abroad and staying at her Big Sur hideaway, Kim came back to town for "Kiss Me, Stupid," in which she plays a strip teaser. She made her entrance for her first scene in a costume that is little more than a couple of strategic bandannas.

The blonde actress with the passion for purple was feeling effervescent on her return to work, despite an aching back.

"I thought I was just stiff from a pulled muscle," she said. "I had a massage, what was probably the worst thing I could have done for my back. It turned out I had a pinched nerve or something and I had to go to the hospital and remain in traction for a few days.

This is Kim's first movie here since "Boys' Night Out." She spent a large part of last year making and remaking "Of Human Bondage" in Ireland.

Her nonworking time has been spent at her home in the idyllic Big Sur setting south of San Francisco.

"It's a marvelous place," she said, "and I get so much done when I'm there. It seems I don't have enough time to do all I want to. I write and I paint. I'm completely isolated when I'm there. I have a telephone, but only for outgoing calls. The thing I want to hear least when I'm in the middle of painting is a telephone bell.

"Social life? Yes, but it's done on an informal basis. People leave notes at the general store: 'So-and-so, drop by Kim's today.' Nobody has telephones."

Young Airman Is Charged in Deaths Of Four Children

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Police filed murder charges today against a young airman who they said confessed to cutting the brake lines on his car before driving into a river in a plunge in which his four young children drowned.

Charged before Justice of the Peace John Cabanisss was Airman 1.C. Rudy T. Davis, 22, stationed at Connally Air Force Base near this central Texas city. Officers said he was originally from Montesano, Wash.

Police said Davis told them he stopped his station wagon, cut the left front brake line, then drove off a 15-foot bank into the Bosque River seven miles north of here.

Davis earlier claimed the brakes had failed. The children ranged in age from 10 months to 4 years.

Davis said he and his wife, Edith, 22, escaped from the submerged car through an open window. Mrs. Davis was treated for shock and a leg injury.

Location Changed For Cooperstown Trial Over Book

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A judge has ordered a trial away from Cooperstown in a $625,000 suit by a housewife who charges that she was libeled in the paperback novel, "The Sex Cure."

Cooperstown is the setting for the book by Mrs. Isabel Moore, who writes under the pen name of Elaine Dorian.

In granting the author's and publisher's request for a change of venue, Justice Robert O. Brink of State Supreme Court found Monday that a fair and impartial trial might not be held in Otsego County (Cooperstown) because "truthfully or not," the book "allegedly exposes the private mores of some of the local inhabitants."

The appellants had asked that the trial be held here. Brink, however, ordered it moved to Cortland, which is about the same distance from Cooperstown—70 miles—but geographically and traditionally less associated with the historic village than is Binghamton.

The judge gave no reason for his choice of Cortland.

No date was set for the trial. Defense attorneys say Mrs. Moore, who has homes in Cooperstown and New York City, has been ill.

Mrs. Walter Dieterle of Cooperstown filed the suit in December 1962 against Mrs. Moore and the Universal Publishing and Distributing Corp. of New York City. Mrs. Dieterle argued that she had been portrayed in the book and had suffered as a result, including loss of customers in her baby-sitting service.

Coed Is Indicted With Official's Son in Drug Case

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—An Ithaca College coed and the son of a college official are under indictment on charges of possession of marijuana and selling or giving away the drug.

The two were arrested May 13 as the result of what authorities say is a continuing probe of drug traffic in this community, home of Cornell University as well as Ithaca College.

The indictment handed up Monday against the coed, Mona A. Silverman, 20, of The Bronx, contained three felony counts alleging violations of the state penal law and one misdemeanor count under the public health law.

Gordon Light, 23, son of Ben Light, Ithaca College secretary, was charged with one felony count under the penal law and two misdemeanors under the health law.

The indictments were handed up in State Supreme Court, then were referred to Tompkins County Court for trial. No date was set.

The two students are free in bail of $1,000 each.

Memorial Day was originally observed in honor of soldiers killed in the American Civil War. May 30, 1868 was designated as the first Memorial Day, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion."

Court Is Against Taking Away of Citizenship Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a section of the Immigration and Nationality Act that strips naturalized Americans of citizenship if they return to their native land for three years.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-3 decision.

Justice Tom C. Clark wrote a disssenting opinion, in which Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White joined. Justice William J. Brennan took no part.

Validity of the section was attacked by Angelika L. Schneider, who was born in Bavaria, Germany, in 1934. In 1950 she became a naturalized American. Four years later she was graduated from Smith College with a bachelor of arts degree.

In 1959 she returned to Germany to marry Dieter Schneider, a lawyer in Cologne. Three years later the American consulate in Dusseldorf asked her to surrender her naturalization certificate. She did so under protest, then had attorneys begin action in federal courts in this city.

Mrs. Schneider contended the law violated the Constitution by imposing cruel and unusual punishment. A special three-judge court here ruled 2-1 that the challenged section represented a constitutional exercise by Congress of its power to regulate foreign affairs. Her appeal to the Supreme Court argued that the section arbitrarily discriminated against naturalized citizens.

86 Dead, 200 Arrests

Britons Back on Jobs After Bloody Weekend

LONDON (AP)—Britons went back to work today after the three-day Whitsun weekend that left 86 dead on the crowded roads and 200 arrested for teen-age violence.

The traffic deaths were twice last year's figure. The teen-age battles were the worst the country has seen.

Thousands of youngsters in the garb of "Mods" and "Rockers," rival cults, battled on the beaches of resorts along the southern coast, wielding chair legs, knives, bottles and studded belts.

Reinforced police hauled them in by the dozen. At Bournemouth, a resort normally inhabited by retired colonels and aged widows, more than 40 were arrested.

Thus was celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles.

The Rockers ride powerful motorbikes and wear leather jackets, jeans and cowboy boots. The prototype was Marlon Brando in "The Wild One."

The Mods, aggressors in every battle over the weekend, are a home-grown cult.

They dress expensively, ride motor scooters and often are as vain of their appearance as their "birds"—their girls.

Many male Mods use eyebrow pencil, eye shadow, transparent lipstick and even rouge. Hair styles change every week.

On weekends they get "purped up" on a stimulant which enables them to go without food and sleep. The government is drafting a law to outlaw possession of the pills without a prescription.

OUR RESERVES OF FOOD

There has been so much thunder and lightning about burdensome crop surpluses during the past couple of decades that an important fact has been ignored or at best minimized. It does cost money to store surpluses of food and fiber. Too much of a supply is indeed burdensome, in this sense. But is is nevertheless still important to keep a large supply on hand in case of emergency.

Arthur Thompson, director of the grain policy staff of the Agricultural Stablilization and Conservation Service, had something to say about this at Iowa State University's recent seminar on weather and food. His remarks seem worth noting if only to help put the matter of food supply in better perspective.

It is the policy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Thompson said, to maintain a reserve supply of wheat equal to a normal year's consumption. As to feed grains, the policy is to keep about a third of a year's supply on hand. The present wheat reserve is about 600 million bushels, and the feed grain reserve is about 1.6 billion bushels, three fourths of which is corn.

There are several reasons for maintaining such large supplies. One is that bad weather may seriously cripple production, even though farm technology has made such advances. Planning also takes into consideration possible emergency needs, including requirements in war and the demands of other countries that depend on U. S. grain to supplement their own food production.

The problem of surplus grain and other agricultural products remains. But the other side of the coin — the blessing of abundant production — is more readily apparent when one considers the policy of maintaining adequate reserve supplies.

'NEW' COMMUNISM

The man who devised the U. S. postwar policy of "containment" against communism has taken a new look at the Communist world.

George F. Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union, believes, in fact, that it is time we stopped using all-embracing phrases like "Communist world" — indeed, to suspend use of the adjective "Communist" altogether.

In a new book, "On Dealing With the Communist World," Kennan states that while there once may have been a single Communist world, a monolithic entity ruled with an iron hand from Moscow for some 40-odd years, today that world is polycentric.

It is a world of many different Communist nations, a world in flux, with the two great Red powers — Russia and China — competing for leadership and the allegiance of smaller ones.

To Kennan, the great danger for the West is the growth of an attitude that refuses to see the changes that have taken place within world communism. It looks for a simple, uniform solution to a complicated problem, and dreams of the ultimate destruction of communism in one final blow.

In this black-and-white view, Poland seething with intellectual revolt, is the same as primitive, Stalinist Albania. Communist Yugoslavia is no different from Castro Cuba.

Therein, believes Kennan, lie the seeds of mutual nuclear destruction.

Opposing this is the exciting opportunity confronting the West — to take a hand in guiding the evolution of communism by encouraging the liberalizing tides that are beginning to sweep against the rock-ribbed regimes of certain Communist nations, including Russia herself.

It is a time of great troubles in the "Communist world," says Kennan — which is to say, a time of great hope for the West and great challenge to our statesmanship.

SCHOOL PRAYERS IN MARYLAND

The question of overturning the Sureme Court decision on voluntary prayers or Bible readings in public schools is a big issue in Maryland primaries, coming up today. The issue is posed against a background of a concerted effort in the U. S. House of Representatives to approve a new constitutional amendment designed to clarify what should already be the plain fact that our forefathers who wrote the Bill of Rights did not intend that the federal government should interfere with local decisions relating to prayer in educational institutions.

The opponents of a voluntary prayer period in the schools are making much in Maryland of the news that Gerald L. K. Smith, who has been an anti-Semite, is pressuring the U. S. Congress to undo the anti-prayer ruling of the Supreme Court. This, of course, is a not-too-subtle way of imputing guilt by association: if you are for voluntary prayers, you must be an anti-Semite because Gerald L. K. Smith is for prayers, too. This is an almost exact parallel to the tactics used by extremists of the Right when they argue that the push of the Negroes for civil rights must be a Communist plot simply because some Communists have identified themselves with some civil rights organizations. When the Right indulges in such argument, the Left yells "McCarthyism." But Leftists are not above McCarthyism when it serves their own purpose.

A more defensible, but still pretty slippery, tactic used against those who think the Supreme Court made a mistake in its prayer decision is to argue that any questioning of the Court's ability to read plain English is a "plot against the Bill of Rights." The truth is that the language of the First Amendment merely prohibits Congress from making a law respecting the establishment of a religion. The prohibition relates to a federal body, not a state. Under any strict reading of the law, a state or a school board can do as it pleases in the matter of ordaining religious exercises.

That our constitution-writing forefathers did not construe the First Amendment in the same fashion as the Warren Court is proved by Thomas Jefferson's proposed curriculum for the University of Virginia, a tax-supported institution. Jefferson wanted the professor of ethics at the University to present "the proofs of the being of a God . . . the author of all the relations of morality, and of the laws and obligations these infer . . . ." Jefferson, of course, is known as the Father of the Bill of Rights. If he could advocate public school presentation of "the proofs of the being of a God," could he have been against voluntary school prayers?

The pragmatic evidence of 170 years of our national history is that prayers in school have not had the slightest tendency to create an "established" religion. The U. S. has had a vast profusion of sects, both Christian and anti-Christian. It has had its agnostics and village atheists. Its Colonel Robert Ingersoll was, perhaps, the most famous atheist in the world — and Bob Ingersoll lived a perfectly free life, with no attempt on the part of any bishop or prelate or meddling minister to suppress his freedom of speech. During our 170 years of history under the pre-Warren Court interpretation of the First Amendment, the secular weakening of religion steadily increased. Under a different clause of the same First Amendment people in America are free to argue whether this is a good or bad thing. But one thing is certain: the weakening of the hold of the churches on the people is proof positive that prayers in school have been powerless to "establish" a religion.

The argument that one is an "enemy" of the First Amendment if one contests the Warren Court's reading of the religious clause which forbids Congress to establish a church thus falls by the wayside. If it be illegal for a local school body to make provision for voluntary prayers, or for Bible reading as part of education, then it is illegal for the government to print "In God We Trust" on currency, or to open a Congressional or court session with a prayer, or to pay for chaplains in the armed forces, or to ask anyone to take an oath on a Bible.

I don't want to impeach Earl Warren or any of the other justices. I just want to take up a collection to give them a course in remedial reading. The Chief Justice needs it before he swears in the next President of the U. S. on a Bible.

Scarlet Fever Controlled By Penicillin Injections

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My son recently had scarlet fever. No one would come near our home for fear they would get it. In what stage can a person transmit this disease to others? How long does the contagious stage last?

A—Scarlet fever can be transmitted during the period three or four days before the onset of the fever and for about a week after the onset. Prompt treatment with penicillin shortens this period, but unless the antibiotic treatment is continued for 10 days, the victim may become a carrier. Because the disease is so easily controlled with penicillin, quarantine is usually not required unless an epidemic develops.

Q—What causes a person to have a sore mouth and tongue? I read that anemia could cause it but I have had blood counts and am not anemic.

A—The commonest cause of sore mouth and tongue is taking food that is too hot. It may also be caused by eating raw pineapple, by smoking and by trench mouth and other infections. When the cause is found the proper treatment can be prescribed.

Q—If a person recovers from rabbit fever, is he likely to have any after effects in later years? If so, what?

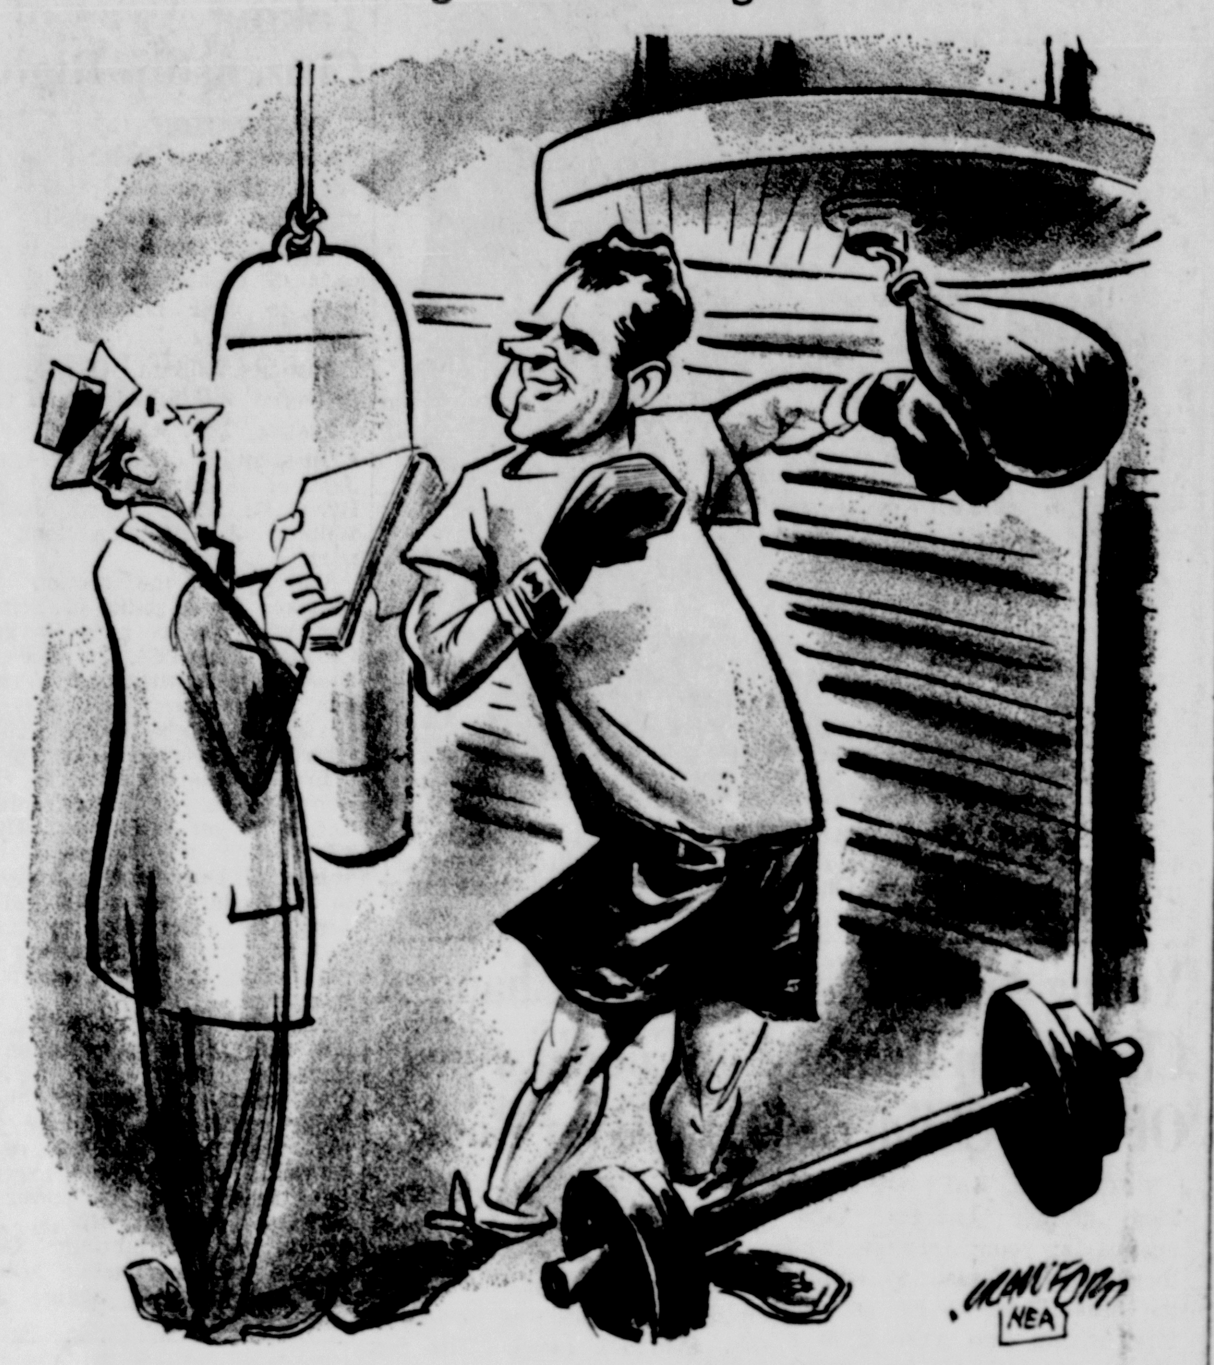
A—Tularemia or rabbit fever is an acute infection. Inadequate treatment is sometimes followed within a week or two by a relapse, but after effects in later years are rare. One attack usually confers permanent immunity.

Q—I am an albino. I have had nearsighted astigmatism, since birth. Doctors tell me nothing can be done to improve my vision. I have tried glasses but they do not help. What causes albinism? What can be done to improve my vision? Is this condition likely to be passed on to future generations?

A—Yours is a recessive hereditary condition that is more common in men than in women. It is passed only if there is some albinism on both sides of the family. Thus it may skip a generation only to reappear in the grandchildren. It is characterized by a lack of pigment throughout the body. For this reason the albino becomes severely sunburned on slight exposure to the sun and will never acquire a tan.

Because the inside of the eyeball lacks the usual protective pigment, even normal daylight makes the albino very uncomfortable. His vision is often poor because of astigmatism and other errors of refraction but these could be corrected were it not for poor development of the central portion of the retina. For this there is no treatment.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.



"Fight? What Fight?"

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some U. S. strategic planners are watching for a blowup in East Germany.

Their agents report increasing signs of discontent.

In Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Hungary, the Communist rulers have been forced to relax their controls a little.

There is more independence in their business and industry, more approaches to the West for closer commercial and diplomatic relations. There has been more freedom to associate with Western peoples in these countries.

Even more important, U. S. diplomats report there has been more freedom of personal speech and action (compared to the past, that is. Freedom, of course, is still slight when compared with the freedoms in Western democracies).

THESE U. S. ANALYSTS see a general weakening of the ability of the Communist governments of the Eastern European countries to handle their people. The American experts expect this weakening to continue. They therefore expect the Soviet Union to keep a huge military force in Eastern Europe, even if Khrushchev cuts back Russia's army overall.

U. S. officials see the posibility that several of the Eastern European countries — Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — may be reaching for a more independent status within the Communist bloc.

The U. S. planners are determined to egg this shift along, through trade, aid and propaganda. These officials are certain they cannot swing these countries away from communism short of a war. But they believe the more they can help to weaken the "monolithic unity" of the Soviet bloc, the better for the United States and the West.

THE SAME PRESSURES for more freedom exist in East Germany. But the East German Red rulers have rigidly held the line.

Says one U.S. official: "Things are happening under the surface in East Germany. The situation is made even more tense because the East Germans know what's happening in the rest of Eastern Europe. They see no reason why they can't get these same relaxations. Something could blow there any time.

"And if it does blow, it would certainly put pressures on the Russians, the West Germans and ourselves.

"We think the Russian troops would put down any uprising hard and ruthlessly. We're not certain the West Germans would stand still for that.

"This would put us through a lot of soul-searching here on what to do."

U.S. PLANNERS haven't made up their minds yet what the United States should do if and when the East Germans do rise up in strikes, street demonstrations or revolts.

To act might lead to war, they say. To not act might lose the United States the faith of peoples in Eastern Europe and around the world who want freedom from Red repression.

It might result in less will to fight the Reds in South Viet Nam, Africa and in Latin America. The planners are still stinging from the reproaches that resulted from U.S. failure to act positively during the Hungarian and East German uprisings several years ago.

The plain and simple fact is that the United States is no more prepared to handle an East German or any other East European uprising today than it was the last time.

But policy men are working on the problem.

Hot War Develops Without United States Congress Act

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress are rubbing their eyes as they awaken to the fact that the United States is engaged in a hot war in Southeast Asia. Yet not a single resolution or law has been passed authorizing the use of America's armed forces in the conflict, 7,000 miles away from our shores.

The Constitution of the United States provides that only Congress can declare war. The executive has occasionally used military forces to safeguard American lives and property in foreign lands. But usually when such an affair takes on large proportions, the Chief Exxecutive asks Congress for specific authority.

Today the Administration is requesting more money under the foreign aid program to assist in achieving its objectives in Viet Nam, but the purpose in reality is to help fight a war.

Perhaps even more striking is the lack of explanation from the Administration as to why American forces are in Viet Nam. More than 200 American lives have been lost there. The Secretary of Defense and the chief of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff periodically visit the South Viet Nam battle zones, but still there is a hesitancy not only to declare a state of war officially but also to tell the American people just who is doing the fighting against the United States. The Assumption is that it is a local war. But certainly the arms and ammunition and supervisory military officers for the North Vietnamese are being provided from outside Viet Nam.

On top of the Viet Nam situation, now comes an attack upon the government in Laos by the Communist forces. In fact, the whole of Southeast Asia appears to be crumbling under the pressure of the Communists. One American military man says that originally the Russians were supplying most of the military and financial aid to Southeast Asia, but that later on they turned the task over to the Red Chinese.

If the Peking government is responsible for the war, surely the American people ought to be told. There are, moreover, areas in which the Red Chinese interests could be made the target for some kind of counter-offensive which would assist the cause of South Viet Nam. There is for example, an army of Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, many of whom would gladly enter the war in Southeast Asia, if the United States furnished arms and supplies.

Certainly the United States is not using all its facilities — including a trade embargo by Western powers — in the battle against the Red Chinese in Viet Nam and Laos.

The United States faces a serious situation also in Thailand, which is supposed to be protected against Communist invasion as a consequence of the 14-nation agreement reached in 1962 in Geneva.

One wonders what the United Nations is doing while all the fighting is going on in South east Asia. For a long time the United Nations has been represented as the instrumentality which can maintain peace in local areas. The experiment in the Congo was acclaimed in many quarters as an example of a successful effort with an internationalized army. The war to repel Communist agression in Korea was under the auspices of the United Nations. But all through that conflict, Russia supplied arms and ammunition to the North Korean forces.

If the United Nations is to be the means through which international peace is to be maintained, then Southeast Asia would seem to be a region in which its influence should be brought to bear. Certainly there should be an investigation as to who is behind the military movements in Southeast Asia so the facts can be disclosed at least for discussion in the General Assembly. Many people in this country do not feel that American boys should be sent to Southeast Asia. But if there were an international expedition, the American government would unquestionably play its part and continue to contribute its share of the cost of the war.

Oddly enough, the whole subject of Southeast Asia has not been brought formally before the United Nations. Possibly this is due to the feeling that action in the Security Council would be blocked by the Soviet government. Even a discussion there, however, would be constructive, because it could mobilize world opinion and would fix the responsibility for war-making clearly on Red China and the Soviet government.

Although the war in Southeast Asia appears at the moment to be local, it could spread. The charter of the United Nations declares, in effect, that it is the function of that organization to intervene in any situation that might develop into a larger war. But the problem in Southeast Asia has not been tackled effectively by the UN, and hence this country is bearing the burden of a hot war against Red China.

The hour if decision now is approaching, and certainly the continued loss of American lives in a war in which the best equipment has not been furnished and military support has not been adequately extended is bound to be an issue in the coming Presidential campaign.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Herman C. Gazlay of Accord, sent me an interesting letter, part of which reads: "Having lived in the Rondout Valley since 1903, so am interested in reading about it, especially about my home town of Accord. After your Friday, April 24th column, the bell did not stop ringing, so this letter . . . " It seems he retired for the third time so now he can enjoy his hobbies and other things.

He writes that he has read in New York papers, in Albany papers, in our local paper, and now in my column, that the Post Office department was given the credit for the naming of Accord, New York. He wrote, that he had heard, that around the 1820's his section was promised a post office. On the D & H Canal the place was also known as Port Jackson, but there was a post office in another Port Jackson of New York state, so this name could not be used.

It seems, according to Mr. Gazlay that a meeting was called at Lewis D. Bevier's home, but the committee arrived before Mr. Bevier had come home, and they started to argue about a name, then Mr. Bevier came home and said: "According to the discord, you have not made progress, why not call it, Accord"? Thus the Accord post office was first opened July 13, 1826, and Lewis D. Bevier was the first postmaster. The question of the location of the first post office at Accord, N. Y., is also a mystery. Mr. Gazlay mentions the John J. Schoonmaker Hotel, a stage coach stop on the Kingston to Ellenville run, (now route 209), the corner of the road which goes to Whitfield.

He mentions, "after several post masters in the 1890's, John J. Schoonmaker was post master, and in 1897, William O. Haines. "It seems Mr. Haines lived on the other side of the Rondout Creek, where he had a Country Store on Main Street. Where the street met the old tow path along the D & H Canal, and so the post office was moved there. In 1907 one of Mr. Haines' assistants became a sister-in-law to Mr. Gazlay.

There is an Accord, Massachusetts, and once while Mr. Gazlay traveled from Boston to Cape Cod they stopped there, and asked how that place was named. They were told that three men were in boats fishing in a small lake nearby, and "were all in one accord."

Mr. Gazlay writes the following on his experiences, "some 30 years ago, a fire broke out in the mountains above Dr. Ford's Sanitarium, south west of Kerhonkson. I took a truckload of fire-fighters to the Sanitarium, and got as near to the fire as we could. In time word came back to the truck that they had control of that section and where to follow the fire line to meet fire fighters from Ellenville who were working on the other end. We were to take sandwiches and ice water and come up the Old Mine Road, which started in at the foot of the Mountain and meet them. The road was so grown over that we could not get very far with the truck, so we carried the ice water and sandwiches up the mountain over the rocks and through the brush the rest of the way." He further describes this mission that he and the men did not have a chance to investigate the lead Mine, for it was the middle of the night and they were all busy working to put out the fires in the mountains, with a guide from the Sanitarium guiding them. This old lead Mine had been mentioned in Mr. Clayton Smith's articles in this column.

Kong Le Digs In for Another Pathet Lao Drive

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Gen. Kong Le dug in today to await a new onslaught by pro-Communist Pathet Lao, who forced him from his command post east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The neutralist commander and his force set up headquarters at Ban Khong, several miles southwest of his former headquarters at Muong Phanh. The latter was overrun by Pathet Lao Monday after a two-day mortar and artillery bombardment.

Orderly Withdrawal

Western military observers who flew to Ban Khong said Kong Le's troops had staged "an orderly withdrawal" to the hilltop village. They said it appeared more defensible by infantry than Muong Phanh.

Chartered American planes airlifted refugees and wounded to Vientiane, 110 miles southwest of the Plaine des Jarres, and flew in medical supplies as Kong Le prepared for a new Red attack.

Ban Khong remained quiet but the rumble of shell fire could be heard in the distance. Western observers said the Pathet Lao and their Viet Minh allies from North Viet Name were consolidating their position at Muong Phanh.

Western military men who visited the scene said they had no idea how big a force faced Kong Le or how many neutralist troops were massed at Ban Khong.

Some Defections

Earlier estimates had said 7,000 neutralist troops were strung out on a 22-mile semicircle of high ground running north and south along the eastern fringe of the strategic plain. It was believed they were outnumbered about 4 to 1 by the Reds.

With the fall of Muong Phanh and nearby Phou Kheng Hill and Kong Le's retreat southward, it appeared that his neutralist force had been split.

Kong Le admitted that some of his troops had gone over to the Pathet Lao, but he denied Communist claims of mass defections.

The Pathet Lao already control two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mountainous jungle and flatland. Apparently they want complete control of the plain to increase their hold on northern Laos. Major communications trails pass across it.

Dedication Slated Wednesday of NYC Water Dept. Lab

Dedication ceremonies will be held Wednesday at the new York City laboratory building at Brown Station when the new laboratory facilities will be dedicated to the memory of the late Benjamin C. Neisen, who for many years was director of the laboratory system.

The new building which was completed some time ago will be occupied by the laboratory and also house the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity offices which for many years were located in the Burgevin Building on Fair Street, here.

Water Commissioner Armand D'Angelo is expected to be present at the ceremonies along with other New York City officials when the building is dedicated to the memory of the late Director Neisen. Prior to the ceremonies Wednesday, the laboratory building has been known as the Catskill Laboratory.

Pays $5 Fine

Vincent J. Mitchell, 20, of 180 Tilden Street, Port Ewen, who is serving in the U. S. Mitchell of 61 Marius Street, Kingston, out of East Main Street in Port Ewen on to Route 9W and struck a pole. He paid a $5 fine when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie of Town of Esopus. Mitchell sustained a nose injury.

Wille New Bank Head

NEW YORK (AP)—The new state superintendent of banks is a 33-year-old bachelor lawyer from New Rochelle, a former aide to Gov. Rockefeller.

Roland Frank Wille was sworn in as superintendent Monday by Rockefeller, who said it was significant that "one of the younger men is taking on additional responsibility."

The post pays $28,875 a year.

Wille had been first assistant counsel to the governor, whose staff he joined in 1960 after practicing law with a Wall Street firm.

He succeeds Oren Root, also a lawyer, who resigned last month to return to private practice.

Gets 9-Month Term

In County Court Monday afternoon County Judge Raymond J. Mino sentenced Ronald S. Sprauve, 327 Broadway, Kingston, to nine months in the county jail on a plea of guilty to illegal possession of a narcotic drug. He was one of several picked up by Kingston police on a possession charge. He had entered a plea of guilty on April 29. Judge Mino allowed credit for time already served in jail. Several arraignments of defendants indicted by the April grand jury and named in a partial report on May 8, were arraigned and moved to future dates. Several cases were set down for July 6 at 2 p. m. and others were moved over until the opening day of the September trial term.

Announce Feature of Legion Show Slated for Saturday

WILLIE MAHONEY

A nationally-known comedian, Willie Mahoney, will headline the 45th annual presentation of Kingston Post 150, American Legion Saturday at Twaalfskill Country Club.

Meyer Kaplan, chairman for this year's program, announced today. "We are presenting a traditionally fine entertainer whose split-second timing and rapid-fire delivery ranks him as a master showman. He is a sure-fire laugh-getter with fresh side-splitting comedy routines. Howlarious audience participation, comedy juggling, funny pantomine, nostalgic dancing and nonsense galore."

Mahoney appeared in many musical shows and revues in leading theatres, supper clubs, hotels and night clubs. He is admired and respected throughout the entertainment world for his unparalleled versatility. In fact, many of his fellow comedians have paid him the dubious tribute by patterning their material after his.

When Billboard Magazine first acclaimed Willie Mahoney as a "one-man show," they set a precedent that critics and reviewers everywhere have followed in their notices year after year.

Born in the tradition of the theatre and dedicated to giving the public a brand of comedy that is clean and wholesome, Mahoney continues as one of the most sought-after and formidable comedy stars of the 1964 season. He has just returned from a successful night club tour of the west including Las Vegas where all standout entertainers are scheduled for appearances. He has made several TV appearances including the Ed Sullivan Show.

Albert O. Sonnenberg, co-chairman of this year's Legion show and dance said more entertainers will be announced this week. He also advises the capacity is limited and ticket sales will be cut off before the end of the week. Sonnenberg made it clear, however, that ticket sales are still permitted outside the Legion membership.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Senate subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency is expected to resume its interest in television's "sex and violence" themes with new hearings within the next few weeks.

Some of the programs which were under sharp scrutiny, if not attack, during the original hearings four seasons back, are still around in syndicated reruns.

Sexual themes have been prominent this season in many of the so-called "social drama" series—the doctor, psychiatrist, nurse, social worker and even social teacher shows.

Almost all the late - evening dramatic shows have dealt rather frankly with subjects traditionally considered too adult for youthful eyes and ears, and so — occasionally — has an early evening program like "Mr. Novak" obviously scheduled for the family audience.

However, it appears to one whose viewing has been fairly concentrated upon this season's output, that the good—or bad—old days when every action-adventure series ended in a long, messy fight in a warehouse are definitely over.

The Emmy Awards pot continues to boil. Today, Herbert Brodkin, head of the production company that turns out "The Defenders" and "The Nurses" for CBS broadcast, followed network policy by saying he would not attend the awards show, an NBC special on May 25. He added that anyone associated with the production company was free to attend "as an individual."

E. G. Marshall, star of "The Defenders," is under NBC contract to appear as East Coast host on the show.

Much more important than Marshall's one-shot appearance, however, is the fact that New York appears to have lost the production of the two television series. Brodkin said that the move to Hollywood, made when a strike—now settled—of a New York scenic designers union closed down production, is for "an indefinite period."

"We have no thought of moving back to New York," he said.

Overmatched by Hippo

MADISON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Theodore C. Sari was double overmatched when his small European car rammed into the rear of a truck on Route 9 Sunday.

The truck was carrying a hippopotamus. Neither the hippo nor the truck driver, Cyril Gorr, 58, Deland, Fla., was injured.

Sari, 48, Old Bridge, was in fair condition.

The hippo, bound for a circus, weighed 1,600 pounds — about the same weight as Sari's automobile.

Dragged to Death

MANSFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Dan Wesley Hughitt Jr., 12, was dragged to death Sunday by a horse on a gravel road near his home.

He apparently fell while riding or leading the horse and became entangled in the lead rope.

'Floating Furnace' Rages

Tug Keeps Vigil, Fear 10 Are Dead

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A tugboat stood by a burning freighter 20 miles off a remote Mexican coast today after a grim night's vigil.

Crewmen awaited a chance to board the ship. There was little hope of finding anyone alive.

Ten persons, including the captain, were unaccounted for from the Norwegian freighter Sandanger, hit by fire and explosions Monday.

Doubt Survival

It was not known if the missing were still aboard, but rescuers doubted they could survive the flames or the choppy seas.

An air and sea search was halted after life rafts were found either empty or overturned, the Coast Guard said.

The body of an unidentified woman was recovered from the sea by a Japanese ship, the Boston Maru.

Forty-five survived the disaster, the Coast Guard said. They were taken aboard the German freighter Bodenstein, which went to the aid of the stricken ship.

The 450 - foot Sandanger was sailing southward en route from Long Beach to Le Havre, France, via the Panama Canal when the ship caught fire off Baja, Calif., 400 miles from Long Beach.

Cause Unknown

The cause of the fire was not known.

None of a half-dozen rescue ships was able to board the Sandanger due to the intensity of the fire, feeding on a cargo of cotton bales and wood pulp.

The tug Sea Eagle reached the Sandanger Monday night and described it as a "floating furnace."

The stricken vessel's agent said seven passengers, all of California, the captain, John Kellmer, and two stewardesses were unaccounted for.

Age Heaping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study at Ohio State University seeks to determine the extent of "age heaping"—the tendency of persons to report an approximate, rather than actual, age—in census figures for non-whites. Prof. Melvin Zelnik is conducting the study under a $13,700 National Science Foundation grant.

"Where do you get your rebozos?"

"The same place I get my cement!"

Many years ago, rebozos (colorful hand-woven shawls) were a major export of Mexico. Today, Mexican exporters are more apt to be offering cement.

Like other nations, Mexico became industrialized and more technically accomplished. Now, Mexico exports more than 1000 manufactured articles ranging from ball bearings to electric toasters.

Half of the imports of our number one Latin American customer are machinery, equipment and supplies to keep production booming.

The tradition of quality synonymous with rebozos is kept alive in today's products. You can still get rebozos—the same place you get your cement.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

U.S. Hopes to Cool Situation in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities say loss of the Plaine des Jarres to pro-Communist forces in Laos would be a psychological setback. They insist it would not by itself alter control of the mountainous Southeast Asian kingdom.

However, if the Red-leaning Pathet Lao should drive onward and threaten positions close to Thailand's Mekong River border, U.S. officials would regard the current offensive as serious.

At this stage, key officials said today, they are trying to evaluate the intentions of the Pathet Lao—to gauge how hard and how far the pro-Reds are likely to push.

Meanwhile, the United States is making a strong diplomatic bid to cool the situation. The effort includes roundabout approaches to Red China.

Any thrust by the pro-Reds toward the administrative capital of Vientiane or Paksane, right across the Mekong from Thailand, might well trigger some U.S. move like that of two years ago.

In 1962, the United States rushed 6,000 soldiers, Marines and airmen to Thailand, supported by Marine and Air Force jets. The infantrymen were posted in northeast Thailand, in position to defend the border against the Pathet Lao, which had broken a truce and driven Royal Laotian troops from northern Laos.

An Air Force spokesman said a squadron of F100 Supersabre fighter-bombers, perhaps 18 planes, has been maintained in Thailand since that 1962 threat. Otherwise, there are no U. S. combat forces in Thailand.

ADA Medicare Opposition Cited 1964 Key Issue

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. James P. Hollers, president of the American Dental Association (ADA), said today that opposition to President Johnson's proposal for a federal social security health care plans is the dental profession's "most important legislative concern for 1964."

Hollers, of San Antonio, Tex., made the statement in a speech prepared for the 96th annual meeting of the Dental Society of the State of New York.

He said the ADA strongly opposes the administration plan—the King-Anderson bill, which is tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee. The bill would provide a health care program for the aged financed through the social security system.

Latest Electronic Techniques

NBC to Provide AP With Vote Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and NBC News entered into an agreement today to provide to Associated Press members "NBC's electronic vote analysis" of elections.

The announcement was made jointly by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president in charge of NBC News, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

Part of Daily Report

The National Broadcasting Co.'s service, called "electronic vote analysis," utilizes a bank of RCA 301 and RCA 3301 computers to furnish extensive data explaining and comparing the results in the presidential election—nationally, and by state—and in all gubernatorial and senatorial races. The material will be used by AP in its daily news report to its 8,000 members and subscribers around the world.

The Associated Press will continue its traditional comprehensive vote tabulations of all races in all states separately from NBC's tabulation.

"Use of our EVA data by the world's foremost wire service is testimony to its effectiveness, as demonstrated in NBC News' coverage of the Oregon primary elections last Friday," McAndrew said.

Supplemental Feature

"This analysis of voting trends and speedy interpretation of returns brings to Associated Press members the advantages of the latest electronic techniques to supplement The Associated Press's basic task of tabulating election results on local and national levels," Gallagher said.

"To gather this information manually would take months of work and tens of thousands of man hours," he added. "By use of electronic vote analysis this information will be available election night."

Although the agreement with The Associated Press is exclusive, NBC News may, at its discretion, provide the same service directly to AP newspaper members.

The analysis is based on a mass of detailed information that has been prestored in the computers, including all vote histories and data on "tag areas." The tag areas are precincts, wards and counties that have been selected by NBC News to represent the political behavior pattern of groups within an electorate.

The computers can provide differential analysis, showing any deviation from the norm, as, for example, that the Eastern states are voting differently from another group of states or the country as a whole. They can compare results in any part of the country with its previous history or with another area.

The data is transmitted by Teletype lines directly from the computers without human intervention. However, key members of the NBC News team are allowed to add news values to the differentials by Teletyping information directly to the computer's memory while it continues to analyze and tabulate.

The computers print out the information in English, as, for example, that one candidate "is running behind in Chicago because of the heavy Negro vote."

Injuries Are Fatal

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Richard Farnham, 25, of Albion, was injured fatally Monday when a flat-bed trailer jarre loose from a truck, rolled over a curb and down a sidewalk and struck him.

Police said the trailer was loosened from the truck when it and a trailer hooked to another truck, sideswiped on Lyell Avenue. The trailer struck two parked automobiles after hitting Farnham, police said.

Drowns in Lake Outlet

PENN YAN, N.Y. (AP)—Harry Butler, 59, of Penn Yan was drowned Monday in the Keuka Lake outlet in this Yates County village.

Butler, an unemployed laborer, apparently fell from the bank into the swift - moving water, police said.

Ulster Kiwanis Will Give Shrubs To Town Library

An offer of dogwood trees and other shrubs for the proposed Town of Ulster Library has been made by the Ulster Kiwanis Club.

The offer, accepted by Edward Crosby on behalf of the library board, said that it was made at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the library by Arne Aho of Kingston Kiwanis Club. Aho, an honorary member of the Ulster group, is project chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee of both the Kingston and Ulster groups.

Will Maintain Items

Aho pointed out that the Ulster Kiwanis Club would plant and maintain the trees and bushes they planted on the library grounds.

Announcement was made at a recent meeting of the library directors that test borings for the type of footings have been made. Meetings also have been held with Leon Karpel, director of the Mid-Hudson Libraries of Poughkeepsie to arrive at plans for a building that would remain attractive and in keeping with other buildings in the area.

Albert E. Milliken, architect for the libraray building, also is planning the town board building on the adjacent lot of the Chambers School property on Morton Boulevard and it has been proposed to have the library and town buildings face each other with a parking area and center planting with a flag pole to serve both buildings.

council would hear a speech by Cambodian Ambassador Voeunsai Sonn and then probably would adjourn until the arrival of a delegation from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate.

South Viet Nam is not a U.N. member. Its observer mission at U.N. headquarters said it did not know when the delegation from Saigon would arrive.

The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, the Communist members of the 11 - nation council, were expected to give strong support to the Cambodian charge.

France already has voiced support of the call by the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, for an international conference to guarantee the independence and neutrality of Cambodia. Sihanouk has praised President Charles de Gaulle as a loyal friend of Cambodia.

Cambodian Charge

The Cambodian complaint before the council charges that South Vietnamese armored vehicles raided a village almost two miles inside Cambodia May 7 and killed seven villagers and that on the following day the same force crossed the border again.

The second day the Cambodians destroyed an armored vehicle, wiped out the crew and captured a wounded soldier, the complaint reports. Cambodia claims U.S. officers took part in both operations.

The United States denied any of its officers had been involved.

Christmas lasts 22 days in Mexico, from Dec. 16 (Holy Family's journey to Bethlehem) to Jan. 6 (Three King's Day).

Welfare Parley Slated on June 4

Representatives of business, industry and social welfare will participate in an all-day meeting of Region VI of the New York State Welfare Conference on Tuesday, June 4 at Singer's Lakeside Manor in Spring Valley, to consider their common stake in the blight of poverty.

Miss Rose Marie Feeney of Ulster County Department of Welfare is the local representative.

Under the general theme, "Business, Industry, Social Welfare: Facing the Challenge of Poverty," more than 200 community leaders of the seven-county region—Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster, Westchester — will discuss the causes and effects of economic and social deprivation and consider ways and means to attack the roots of poverty. The keynote address during the opening session will hear Robert L. Popper, formerly vice president of Dellwood Dairies of Westchester County, on the subject, "A Businessman Looks at the Problems of Poverty."

Workshops will convene, led by representatives of business, industry and social welfare, so that there can be a full discussion of varied points of view. After the luncheon following the workshops Joseph H. Louchein, first deputy commissioner of the Department of Welfare, City of New York, will discuss "Community Action in the War on Poverty."

Three Fail Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—A plumbers union examination chairman says a Negro and two Puerto Ricans—central figures in a civil rights dispute—have failed qualifying tests for union membership.

The results were announced Monday night by William Dalton, chairman of the examining board of Local 2 of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, minutes after the written tests were completed.

Dalton told newsmen the three "weren't even close" to the passing grade of 70 per cent. He said the local never makes the grades public.

Another Puerto Rican involved in the dispute couldn't appear for the test for "personal reasons," it was announced in his behalf.

Utah Teachers Off Again, Court Is Asked for Order

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Most of Utah's 10,000 teachers, faced with possible court action, planned to stay off their jobs again today to decide the next move in their efforts to get more money for education.

Virtually all public schools remained open, as Monday, when the two - day teachers' protest walkout began, and the State Board of Education sought a court order to keep teacher leadership from prolonging the walkout.

The order would prevent Utah Education Association officials from "encouraging teachers or other personnel to breach their contracts or to strike against the state or any of its school districts."

Judge Makes Study

Judge Joseph G. Jeppson of 3rd District Court took the request under advisement.

The UEA planned a statewide meeting for teachers at the State Fairgrounds in Salt Lake City.

The teachers were to discuss at a mass meeting today proposals that included prolonging the walkout and continuing to refuse to sign next year's contracts.

They hope to force the hand of Gov. George D. Clyde and get more school money.

Refuses to Go Along

The walkout was triggered by Clyde's refusal to heed the recommendations of his study committee and call a special legislative session to consider an emergency $6-million appropriation for schools.

The success of the teachers' action was being watched in neighboring Idaho and throughout the nation by teachers not content with local conditions. A walkout by 620 union teachers hit East St. Louis, Ill., Monday.

The walkout drew some student support in Salt Lake City, where demonstrators carried signs reading, "Fair play for the UEA" at the State Capitol.

Clyde told the demonstrators, "Every step is going to be taken that can be taken to see you don't lose your opportunities." He was hanged in effigy by other students at a local high school.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary and leader of the protest action, called Monday's walkout successful.

The UEA had demanded more money for salaries and school facilities. It says Utah teachers' salaries rank 23rd in the nation. They receive between $4,400 and $7,000 a year, with the average $5,900, it said.

The UEA claims it represents 96 per cent of Utah public school teachers.

Policy Experts Sent to Back Up $125 Million Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent top makers of military and foreign policy to Capitol Hill today to support his request for an extra $125 million in aid for South Viet Nam.

"Increased Communist terror requires it," the President said Monday in a special message to Congress asking for an additional $55 million in military aid and $70 million in economic assistance.

Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are likely to go along with Johnson.

Advice From Barry

"This nation should not be penny wise and pound foolish on this thing," said Republican Rep. Robert Barry of New York. "For us to nit-pick at this stage would be most unwise."

Still, to play it safe, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and foreign aid director David E. Bell were sent before the committee.

Would a Watch It

An ardent Republican economizer, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, said the boost would be hard to vote against.

"We want them to have what they say they need," he said. "But by the same token, I don't want it to go down the drain as supplies and everything else have gone down the drain in Viet Nam."

"All I can say is, I want to hear their reasons and it better be good," Gross added.

Frank Rush of Westchester County was elected president of the Volunteer Fire Police Association of the State of New York at the 1964 convention held at New Paltz on Saturday where the State Association held its annual convention on Friday and Saturday.

The convention was sponsored by the Ulster County Volunteer Fire Police Association using the facilities of the New Paltz Fire Department and the New Paltz town hall. A meeting of the board of directors and all committee meetings were held Friday evening and early Saturday.

Other officers elected to serve with President Rush are:

Vice-president, John Ludlow of Ulster County; Secretary, James Curtis of Putnam County; Financial Secretary, Leonard Shanley of Broome County; Treasurer, Arthur Gifford of Rockland County. The convention was called to order at 10 a. m. Saturday by Alvin Beatty, chairman of the convention committee. There were approximately 100 in attendance at the meeting.

After welcoming addresses by Mayor Henry DuBois of New Paltz and Officer Edward Walsh of the New Paltz Fire Department and by Ernest Ahlberg, retired chief of the New Paltz Fire Department the gavel was turned over to Ted Cave, president of the Association.

The first order of business was a memorial service in memory of 16 members who answered their last alarm during the past year. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. R. Porter, chaplain of the New Paltz Fire Department. This service was followed by an address by Lt. A. F. Van Blarcum of the New York State Police. He spoke on the duties of the fire police at the scene of a fire and on other emergencies. He also mentioned sections of the Vehicle and Traffic Law and the Penal Law which Fire Police should know and also the cooperation between Fire Police and other law enforcement officers. The address was followed by an excellent question and answer period.

The convention closed after a heavy schedule of business, including some changes in the bylaws, a lengthy discussion on Section 209-C of the General Municipal Law and a report by Jerome Kornfeld, chairman of the Law Committee.

A banquet was held at Reggie's Inn, New Paltz, Saturday night.

Prior to adjournment the convention adopted a resolution extending its gratitude and appreciation to the merchants of Ulster County who donated financially and with merchandise toward the success of the State Convention which was held in New Paltz.

Po'keepsie Plan On Renewal Is Voted by Council

The Poughkeepsie Common Council passed legislation at a meeting Monday night, authorizing the Greater Neighborhood Urban Renewal Plan, the first phase of the municipal UR program. The project is scheduled to start in the West View area.

In other action, the board heard a discussion on whether there should be a referendum to amend the city charter to provide for a direct mayor-common council type of government or whether the city should retain the city manager form of government. No action was taken by the council.

City Manager Kenneth E. Pearce, in answer to question by the council, told members that he would have a reply "within the next few days" to a council recommendation that George Copans be relieved of his duty as city urban renewal director.

The council also referred to the finance committee and the city manager a letter from City Judge Milton M. Haven asking for more help in the traffic bureau where a backload of 10,480 unpaid parking tickets has accumulated. Judge Haven said the backlog has built up from 1962-63 and since January of this year some 6,400 unpaid tickets have accumulated from "scofflaws" persons who decline to pay the fines, making it "utterly impossible" for traffic clerks to keep up the clerical work involved.

Justice Retains Slim Margin in Harrisburg Race

HARRISBURG (AP) — Justice Michael A. Musmanno today continued to hold a narrow lead in the race for Pennsylvania's Democratic U.S. senatorial nomination while Genevive Blatto sought court action in an effort to win the nomination for herself.

Musmanno, who has taken a leave of absence from the state Supreme Court, led by a bare 163 votes.

The Associated Press figures include the complete vote, with absentees, from 62 counties and unofficial totals from Philadelphia, Lackawanna, Washington, Lawrence and Somerset. Unchallenged absentee ballots from all but Lawrence, however are incorporated in the total.

Official returns were certified by the state for 33 counties Monday. The big change was a gain of 30 votes by Miss Blatt in Northumberland County. This trimmed Musmanno's lead to 157 but he later picked up six votes in a recount of totals from six voting machines in Philadelphia.

In a petition filed Monday in Dauphin County Court, attorneys for Miss Blatt held the door open for a possible challenge when and if Musmanno is certified the winner. The court agreed to accept Miss Blatt's contingency challenge because Monday was the last day for filing protests stemming from the April 28 primary.

In another legal move, Musmanno attorneys asked the Supreme Court to permit the resumption of tabulating absentee ballots in Philadelphia, which had been halted by Blatt forces.

Miss Blatt is the 50-year-old secretary of internal affairs who was the first woman elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania. She has been reelected twice.

Musmanno, a judge in the Nuremberg war crimes trials, was elected to the State Supreme Court in 1951. The 67-year-old bachelor had the endorsement of the state Democratic organization in the primary race with Miss Blatt.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POVERTY — EDUCATION: "The roots of poverty in this country are, simply, lack of education and the deprivation it brings," Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told the National Committee for Support of the Public School Monday night.

Wirtz said a study of 2,500 young men who had failed the Selective Service mental test showed that 80 per cent of them were dropouts, and 40 per cent of the dropouts had stopped school at the eighth grade or below.

RECONNAISSANCE PLANE: The American RB66 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Russians in March took photographs over East Germany without the crew realizing they were in Red territory, the Washington Evening Star reported Monday.

The three men aboard the jet were Capt. David I. Holand of Holland, Minn., the pilot; Capt. Melvin J. kessler of Philadelphia, the check navigator, and Lt. Harold W. Welch of Detroit, the navigator.

RESEARCH URGED: A crash program of research to find new methods of controlling plant and animal pests to replace hazardous chemical pesticides was urged today by the National Agricultural Research Advisory Committee.

Reporting to the Agriculture Department—which created it—the committee said pesticides are essential, at least in the foreseeable future, for efficient production, storage and distribution of foods and other farm products.

THE MAN AMPLIFIER—Why not figure out a way to increase man's physical capabilities by attaching little motors to him and let them provide the muscle power? Good idea, said scientists at the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, N.Y. So they devised an external "skeleton" which can make a superman out of a mere mortal. The motors strapped to the man in the above photo amplify his normal muscular actions so that he can lift and move objects too heavy for circus strong men. These motors aren't powered yet. The scientists are working on it.

Saugerties Board Favors Restoring Local Lighthouse

The possibility that the Saugerties Lighthouse, a 129-year-old village landmark is slated for destruction by a demolition crew shortly, brought various comments from members of Saugerties Village Board at Monday night's meeting.

Members of the board of trustees are expected to inspect the lighthouse tonight.

Mayor William Ziegler said he was optimistic that something could be done to save the lighthouse possibly for the purpose of establishing a museum and park on the 4½-acre island.

He said there were various problems including access to the island by rowboat.

The mayor said the board seemed to favor some sort of cooperative agreement with the town to acquire the property and lighthouse from the federal government. He said if the cost of restoration is not too high some agreement is possible to put the structure in good shape.

Mayor Ziegler said that quite possibly residue from dredging of the mouth of the Esopus could be piled along a route from Lighthouse Drive to the island. The base would have to be rocks or boulders. Such a solution to the access problem is still under discussion.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed a dull decline late this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

General Motors and Ford, however, lost more than a point each. Losses of a point or so were spotted here and there among other key stocks.

The trend among steels, coppers, utilities, drugs and chemicals was generally lower. Rails, tobaccos and aerospace stocks were mixed. Airlines were slightly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 305.2 with industrials off 1.3, rails off .1 and utilities off .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.61 at 818.70.

Sears, Roebuck lost a couple of points despite the company's report that it is now the world leader in retail sales and that a dividend increase is being considered.

A 3-point loss by Xerox also was laid to profit taking on this issue's rise to one high after another.

IBM advanced 5 points as it rebounded in the direction of 1963 peaks far in excess of its current price. Polaroid gained more than 3 in a partial recovery of recent sharp losses. U.S. Smelting, up about 4, and Control Data, ahead 2 or more, also were caught up in technical price swings.

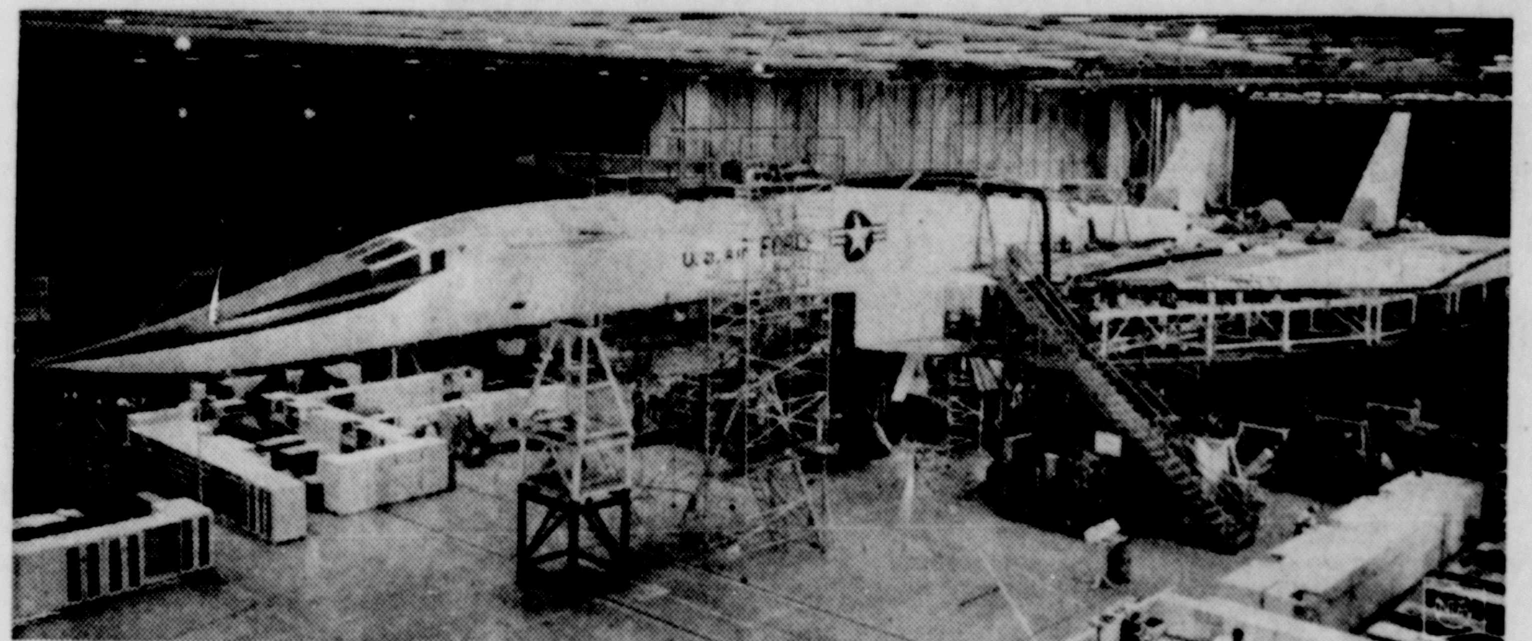
BOMBER'S POWER—The jet bomber XB-70 is shown in recently released photo of it while under construction in Palmdale, Calif. Six jet engines supply the power that allows speeds of up to 2,000 miles an hour. The power produced by the six engines could deafen a man standing 50 feet away with earplugs in his ears.



HOODED LIKE A COBRA—When the XB-70 jet bomber was taken from its hangar in Palmdale, Calif., it was said to look like a hooded cobra—for a reason. The shape allows it to fit into the shock wave produced by its supersonic speeds. It can travel between New York and Los Angeles in 90 minutes.

Ulster Kiwanis Circus to Benefit Scholarship Fund

Members of the Ulster Kiwanis Club were reminded at their regular meeting Monday night at Ang-El's Restaurant that proceeds from the club-sponsored 18th annual Von Brothers (formerly Hunt Bros.) Circus on July 6 will go to the organization's local Scholarship Fund.

Orvil Norman, project chairman for the club, said the club decided to sponsor the three-ring circus "because we feel there are thousands of children and young-hearted adults, who will welcome an opportunity to see America's second largest and greatest - tented circus." He said that the local club receives a high percentage of all tickets sold by the organization and that purchase of tickets on a family basis now would eliminate standing in line on circus day. The Von Bros. show, which have two performances, will include seven black-maned Nubian lions, and performing elephants, liberty horses, llamas, dogs, monkeys and camels.

They said he complained to his wife that he didn't feel well and became unconscious. He died a short while later. Troopers said an autopsy was performed Monday and that they were awaiting the outcome of laboratory reports from Albany.

Nikita Assails 7th Fleet Doings

PORT SAID, EGypt (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev aid today the Arabs would be exposed to great danger if the United States introduced Polaris missile submarines into the Mediterranean.

Listening Posts Cited

The Soviet leader evidently referred to negotiations between the United States and Spain for use of the joint U.S.-Spanish naval and air base at Rota as a headquarters for the missile-firing subs. The U.S. submarine tender Proteus moved to Rota in February.

In an obvious reference to U.S. 6th Fleet operations in the Mediterranean, Khrushchev said the "imperialists use aircraft carriers and warships to lie in wait for nationalist movements."

"They use warships as observation posts and to bring pressure on the policy of nonalignment," he said. "Aircraft carrier imperialism aims at restoring reactionary systems in Asia and Africa."

Standing on an anti-imperialist monument to Egyptian war dead, he condemned the British-French and Israeli attack of 1956 on Suez and said many of the West's politicians have failed to learn the lesson of that defeat.

"Many of the West's politicians are still unable to realize the truth behind this shameful end," he said.

He added that the goal of Britain and France in that attack was "to destroy Egypt's independence." He called Israel "the agent of imperialism."

The Soviet leader paid tribute to this city, saying:

"Port Said is renowned among the world's cities because it is a national bastion before which the dreams of the invaders collapsed."

Appears Rested

Khrushchev said that in the past it was in the power of the big nations "to enslave all of Africa's and Asia's peoples."

"But today the time is gone when the imperialists can commit their brutal crimes."

Catskill Water System of NYC At 70 PC Mark

New York City has entered the summer season with one of the largest water storage supplies in recent years. The Ashokan Reservoir for the first time in several years was full and at the end of the spring thaw was spilling over the Spillway into Esopus Creek. Gilboa Reservoir was also full and spilling over into Schoharie Creek.

The Rondout Reservoir as well as the Pepecton and Neversink Reservoirs, however, are far from full. They were both drawn very low last year and spring thaw and rains failed to fill them.

It is estimated however that the city's Catskill Mountain reservoir system is presently at about 70 per cent of capacity.

Rochester GOP Hears Newcombe

During the regular meeting of the Town of Rochester Republican Club held at Accord Grange Hall, the guest speaker was Lloyd A. Newcombe, Catskill business man, who is a Republican candidate for nomination for the office of State Senator.

Sen. E. Ogden Bush of DeLancey, incumbent, is also seeking the nomination.

Newcombe spoke on several topics of state government as they related to this area of New York state and asked for the support of enrolled Republicans in his campaign to gain the Republican nomination at the June primary.

Franklin Kelder, town supervisor, also spoke briefly about town board activities.

Phillip Davis, chairman of the Town of Rochester Republican committee, said that the next Republican Club meeting will be held Tuesday night, May 26 at the Accord Firehouse and Senator Bush or his representative will be the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by Jean Bollin and a committee from the second election district of the town of Rochester.

Won't Allow

civil rights but of other vital legislation as well," Mansfield said.

He said the package of amendments which has been worked out does not represent everything that individual senators who favor the bill would like to have, "but it does represent complete agreement with Sen. Dirksen and it is a good bill and a strong bill. It deserves to reach the floor of the Senate to be voted up or down on its merits."

Dirksen and Humphrey insist that the proposed amendments would not weaken the bill.

Humphrey said some Democrats told him the amendments go too far. A number of Republicans have complained that the changes do not go far enough to meet this objections.

The amendments originated with Dirksen but were altered considerably in meetings with Humphrey, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others.

The two sections chiefly affected are public accommodations and equal employment opportunity.

The amendments would remove the government's power to file antidiscrimination suits in individual cases, an authority contained in the bill as it came from the House.

They would leave the attorney general the right to go directly into court if he found a pattern of discrimination. Aggrieved individuals would have to file their own suits.

The amendments would give states which have public accommodations and equal employment laws specified periods to handle complaints before federal power could be invoked.

The amendments also contain explicit language banning any federal court orders to bus school children from one district to another in an effort to remove racial imbalances.

Humphrey said that even if the package proves widely acceptable, it is highly unlikely any move will be made to get cloture to shut off the Southerners before June 2.

That is the date for the California Republican presidential primary. Humphrey said he understands Republican senators who back Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona would be unwilling to consider cloture before the primary.

Goldwater has been opposed to the civil rights bill and to cloture, the Senate's procedure for cutting off debate.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am 46 and earn $14,000 per year. However, with seven children, my living expenses are high and I have no savings account or other reserve. I recently inherited 100 General Motors, 30 Jersey Standard, and 6 Madison Fund. I feel I have too much of my assets in General Motors. Do you believe I should sell a major portion of that stock and put the proceeds into a savings account, E bonds, or other shares?" J.S.

A) You are a very fortunate man, both in your family and in a fine heritage.

I agree that your General Motors holding is disproportionate, much as I like that stock.

With your big family, I would sell 60 shares and use the proceeds to build a strong savings reserve — equally divided between E bonds and savings account. All stocks fluctuate, sometimes very widely, and you should never be forced to sell in a down market to meet a sudden contingency.

Q) "I have invested rather poorly some of my hard-earned money as a registered nurse. My husband is on social security, and I am unemployed because of ill health. I have some good stocks such as Pacific Tel. & Tel. The poorly advised ones are Permanente Cement; Colorado Fuel & Iron, Texas Eastern Transmission; Richhold; California Water Service. What should I do about these?" C.H.

A) I offer you my sincere sympathy on your ill health and hope it will not keep you long from your profession.

You're not nearly as bad off financially as you think, I'm pleased to say. The stocks you list as poorly advised issues are not growth stocks, but in most cases they offer safe and liberal income and should be retained.

The only stocks I would switch are Reichold, where the cash dividend has been suspended, and Colorado Fuel, which is a marginal steel producer with erratic earnings and no cash dividends since 1958.

Mother Silent As 5 Children Are Blamed for Thefts

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — A mother stood silently in Union County Juvenile Court as five of her 10 children were arraigned Monday on charges of burglarizing scores of homes.

The five, ranging in age from 12 to 17, admitted taking television sets, radios and cash from the homes, said police, who added that the loot was worth thousands of dollars.

The woman only shook her head when Judge V. William Di Buono asked: "Can you explain this shocking thing, Ma'am?"

Calling the case "deplorable," he sent the youngest child, a 12-year-old girl, to the State Home for Girls in Trenton. Her 15-year-old brother was sent to the Jamesburg State Home for Boys.

Two other boys were placed on probation. The eldest child, a 17-year-old girl, was deprived of her automobile driving privileges.

The judge said that sending the younger children away might help to rehabilitate them.

Many of the stolen items were recovered, police said.

Turnout Spotty

the primary winner for at least one ballot.

State Democratic Chairman Harry Gross conceded Wallace 25 to 30 per cent of the vote, but insisted the governor doesn't have a chance of winning.

Running against Gov. John W. Reynolds last month in Wisconsin, Wallace pulled 33.7 per cent of the Democratic vote. Earlier this month, he got 29.8 per cent in Indiana's primary against Gov. Matthew E. Welsh. Reynolds and Welsh, like Brewster, were favorite sons pledged to Johnson.

Democrats in Wisconsin and Indiana claimed Wallace was helped by Republicans who switched to the Democratic primary in an attempt to embarrass Johnson.

There'll be no cross-over voting in Maryland. Voters are restricted to the primary of their party.

Voters who don't like Wallace or Brewster can vote to send an uninstructed delegation to the convention.

Wallace, a segregationist, based his campaign on opposition to the civil rights bill pending in the U.S. Senate. But long before he arrived on the scene, civil rights was a touchy issue in Maryland, a border state with strong Southern traditions.

Negro demonstrations set off violence last year in Cambridge, a town on the predominantly conservative Eastern Shore. National Guard troops were sent in to stop the fighting. Last week troops used tear gas to break up a Negro demonstration after Wallace had spoken in Cambridge.

A dozen Senate colleagues, including Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the late president, campaigned in Maryland for Brewster.

Officials predicted that half of Maryland's 933,000 registered Democrats would vote. That would be 20 per cent more than normal for a presidential primary.

Rally Falls Short

NEW YORK (AP)—The 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court decision against school segregation was marked across the nation by scattered boycotts of schools and by study-ins and marches.

A New York City rally fell short of civil rights leaders' expectations.

Only 3,000 to 4,000 persons turned out Monday in warm sunshine for a rally at City Hall. Organizers had said they wanted more than the 15,000 who demonstrated March 13 in snow against a plan to bus pupils to improve racial balance.

"Freedom schools" for boycotting pupils were set up in Marin City, Calif., Milwaukee, Wis., Buffalo, N.Y., and other cities.

The 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court ruling was May 17, which fell on Sunday this year.

State Advises

the present court house and in the same general location as the jail structure. When the present cells were installed there were provisions made for expansion by the installation of exercise corridor gratings but no cells, on the fourth or top tier. There are no stairways to this section and no cell work of any description," the report states and then says that while adequate facilities would be provided "it felt that completion of the upper or fourth tier of cells is not the solution to the problems."

"Prisoners, food and supplies would have to be transported up and down three flights of stairs and the number of additional cells would not entirely eliminate the housing difficulty."

The report states that all cells were found to be in clean condition, a spot check indicated no contraband was found. Bedding was good and clean.

Inspection of the kitchens disclosed them clean and food served of good quality.

Commenting on the use of four cells located in the basement of the jail and used by the Kingston Police Department for detention purposes, the report states that it is "problemetical" if this is not a violation of the Correction Law.

Twelve cells located on the two upper floors of the administration building are used for female prisoners. The top floor has not been used in many years but was found to be clean, orderly and ready for occupancy. The women's jail is entered through a barred gate in the corridor and the keys to the gate are in possession of the matron at the jail.

All prisoners are entitled to medical aid by the jail physician and the record shows that since January 1, 1964, to the date of the inspection the jail physcian had made 37 visits to the jail.

Drivers Fined

Three drivers booked on vehicle and traffic charges, were fined $65 in city court today. George Westfall, 19, of 98 Murray Street, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50. He was also charged with driving a vehicle with an inadequate muffler, and a fine of $10 on that was suspended. Eugene Freer, 23, of 199 Greenkill Avenue, charged with passing a flashing red light, paid a $10 fine, and Mark J. Berry, 17, of RD 5, Box 372, Kingston, charged with driving a vehicle with an unsafe tire, was fined $5.

Licensed Practical Nurses

Editor, The Freeman

We have just learned that the Kingston School of Practical Nursing is to be closed next semester. As a class, we feel very badly about this not only for ourselves but also for the students who would have followed us. Many applications have been received to date and some of these applicants have already paid to have their physical examinations in the hope of being able to become Licensed Practical Nurses. As for our class and the class preceding us, we have all worked very hard to become good L.P.N.s in order to be of service to the community. All of the girls of the first class are currently employed locally.

The school is fully equipped with a fine library, hospital beds, linen, etc. A good deal of time and money have been spent to furnish and equip the school and it certainly seems most unfortunate for all concerned to discontinue the course after only two terms of usefulness.

We understand that this move was made in order to cut expenses in the school budget. We feel, however, that this is not the place to cut corners. The need for nurses is great and is increasing steadily. Our local hospitals are expanding or will expand in the near future. The population of Kingston is steadily increasing. Many R. N.'s are employed in a supervisory or an administrative capacity, which increases the need for L.P.N.'s.

It is our fervent hope that the Board of Education will reconsider their decision in order that the Kingston School of Practical Nursing might continue to serve the community.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, May 19th, the 140th day of 1964. There are 226 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1921, Congress passed an act limiting immigration to this country, the first step restricting one of the greatest immigrations in history. It limited immmigration to three per cent of nationalities already here as shown by the 1910 census.

On this date

In 1802, Napoleon Bonaparte created the French Legion of Honor.

In 1942, President Roosevelt conferred the medal of honor upon Lt. Gen. James Doolittle for leading the first aerial attack on Tokyo.

In 1943, Prime Minister Winston Churchill addressed a joint session of the U.S. Congress.

In 1944, American Fortresses and Liberators bombed Berlin.

In 1945, American planes made a bombing run on Tokyo.

Ten years ago . . . Defense Mobilization Director Arthur Fleming reported the United States had stockpiled more than four billion dollars worth of strategic and critical materials.

Five years ago . . . The Senate Commerce Committee recommended the confirmation of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce after lengthy hearings produced considerable opposition.

One year ago . . . Air Force Maj. Leory Gordon Cooper received a tumultuous welcome at Cape Canaveral, the blast-off point of his epochal space flight.

The U.S. post office at Penasse, Minn., was the northernmost in the United States before Alaska's admission to the Union.

Why We Say..
MORTGAGE

DEATH PLEDGE: When we buy a house with just a down payment, we might sign a mortgage. The word is actually derived from the Latin word "Mort" death, and Old French "gage" for pledge. Originally when an older son wanted to borrow money, he would sign a pledge to pay when he inherited his estate, which was after the death of his father.

Difficult to Figure

This Year's Primaries Are As Dizzy as Any in History

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1964 presidential primaries are as dizzy as any in memory.

Some voters like best the man they know least. For some non-candidates hope is their oxygen tent. Actual candidates get rebuffed and rehabilitated.

Take Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. He's been running in Democratic primaries without a chance for his party's nomination which at this point belongs entirely to President Johnson.

Wallace said last March: "I have no illusions about becoming president." He said he was just running to express opposition to Johnson's civil rights program.

Changes His Mind

But after he got 33 per cent of the Democratic vote in the Wisconsin primary and 29 per cent in Indiana, he switched to: "I am a serious candidate." Today he was running in the Maryland primary against a stand-in for Johnson.

Then there's former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the 960 presidential contest and the race for the governorship of California in 1962. He said that was "my last campaign for public office."

As if to show he meant it, he moved to New York and said "under no circumstances" would he accept a draft. Came 1964 when the political sap stirred in the states' presidential primaries.

Without setting foot in New Hampshire, he got 17 per cent of the vote there, finishing behind Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Becomes Willing

Now he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides" although still insisting he was not seeking the nomination.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton, who has won some modest votes in state primaries and did well in his own state, repeats he's not a candidate while refraining from saying he won't accept the nomination.

Lodge was the stunner in more ways than one. He ran unsuccessfully for the vice presidency in 1960 but has been out of politics since. Now, 3½ years later, probably few voters know what he stands for.

Yet, while in Viet Nam, never saying anything, he beat Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon in New Hampshire with a write - in vote, although the first two had actively campaigned there.

There was only one conclusion: Even though the voters there knew very little about Lodge they preferred him to the ones they had seen and listened to.

Before Oregonians cast their ballots last week polls indicated Lodge would wind up the No. 1 man there, too, even though Rockefeller and Goldwater were actively running there and he wasn't.

Fresh Life for Rocky

Rockefeller campaigned the state. Goldwater, smelling defeat, stayed away. Rockefeller came in first, Lodge second, Goldwater third, Nixon fourth. This was fresh life for Rockefeller. He hadn't been doing well.

His divorce and remarriage were expected to ruin him and professional Republican politicians, not the sentimental type, stayed away from him. Goldwater was their boy. He looked like the winner in the end.

But the Oregon results gave everyone second thoughts, for the very important California primary was coming up June 2. Rockefeller and Goldwater are on the ballot there, but not Lodge, and write-ins are not permitted.

Monday, the Lodge people, hoping to stop Goldwater, threw their California support to Rockefeller, not because they want him to get the nomination but because they think that if Goldwater loses in California maybe Lodge can get the nomination at the Republican convention in July.

Curiously, the bidding and play went the same at both tables. West opened his singelton spade. East cashed the ace and king and continued with a small spade. South ruffed with the nine of trumps and both West players overruffed. This gave the defense the first three tricks, but they could only add one more, so that both declarers made three diamonds doubled.

Really inspired defense will beat the hand one trick. West must discard a club on the second spade and another club when South ruffs in with the nine of diamonds. Once he makes these two plays there will be no way for declarer to keep the defense from getting three trump tricks.

He will have plenty of ways to try to make his contract, but they will all fail because of the fact that he will have to play one trump in order to get rid of East's eight spot.

Snapped Cable Cuts Radio, Phone Service

LITTLE VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) —A snapped aerial cable cut off radio, telephone and teletype service for 11 hours Saturday in a three-county area of Western New York before repairmen could restore service.

The cable was cut by a back hoe, a ditch-digging implement attached to the rear of a truck, said Wesley Vanderhorst, commercial manager of the New York Telephone Co. office at Olean. The cable was 18 feet in the air and was cut when the back hoe was raised, he said.

Crews restored service to Cattaraugus, Chautauqua and Allegeny counties early Sunday.

Long - distance telephone operations between Buffalo and Olean, Wellsville and Salamanca were disrupted. Emergency calls were rerouted. Local telephone service in the communities was not affected. officials said.

State Police at Troop A in Batavia said teletype and ground radio communications with substations in the three-county area were affected.

Dear Abby . . .

A Salute to Alaska!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I write with compulsion tonight. I can no longer contain my pride in my town, my state, my nation. Where do I start? I have seen people who have lost dear ones. People who have lost only some of their worldly possessions, and people who have lost everything. But no backs are bowed. The cooperation and organization is astounding! From teen-agers who offer to baby-sit for their neighbors so that they may salvage what they can from their wrecked homes, to engineers and survey crews already working to rebuild. Restoration of transportation, mail service, water, newspapers, power, has begun, and even the corner grocery store is swept up, mopped up, and sometimes propped up, but open for business. What a heroic job our radio hams did, working night and day to relay messages to loved ones. And the American Red Cross! And the generosity of our sister states! I could go on and on. Let no man say that we are "soft," that we Americans are weak. I have seen our strength and I am overwhelmed.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: This is for the cocktail waitress who complained because she had to wear a short, low-cut, sexy-looking uniform on her job: A decent girl wouldn't go out in public that way. Girls who show off their bodies in the line of duty, such as strippers and models, have no shame or modesty, and would just as soon stand naked in a department store window as say "How do you do?" Any woman who would be ashamed to have her child go into the place where she is working and say, "There is MY mother!" should change jobs. And if she is standing there with most of her front exposed, and half her of behind sticking out, I mean HER!

FOR DECENCY IN N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: You advised that short-skirted cocktail waitress who complained about her hours and the men customers making passes at her to go get a job with shorter hours and longer skirts. That is easier said than done. Six years ago my husband walked out and left me with five children under ten years of age. I had never worked a day in my life and was trained for nothing. I took a job as a short-skirted cocktail waitress. It wasn't easy, but it beat charity. I have been able to support my family and provide insurance for their future educations. If men customers get rough, I tell them in a nice way that I have five children to support and a scene could cost me my job. They never give me any trouble after that. I work five days a week from 7 p. m. until 2 a. m. and take home about $160 a week. I am a P-TA president, Cub Scout den mother, blood donor and a one-day-a-week hospital volunteer. I am also—

A SHORT-SKIRTED WAITRESS

DEAR SHORT-SKIRTED: You are also a far-sighted woman. And justifiably proud.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am graduating from eighth grade in June and all the girls in my class are wearing white dresses. My older sister was graduated from eighth grade two years ago and my mother wants me to wear the same dress SHE wore. I am afraid everybody will remember it and know that I am wearing my sister's old dress. We haven't got the money for a new dress and my sister's is very pretty and as good as new, but I still feel funny about it. I hate to hurt my mother's feelings but I would sure like a new dress. What should I do?

HAND-ME-DOWNS

DEAR GIRL GRADUATE: Wear the dress, honey, and don't give it a second thought. It is the way a person wears a garment that makes it lovely. And chances are, not one person will remember having seen it before.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If those yokels who accuse you of using an old picture with your column had any sense they could see that you have a 1964 hair style! Sincerely,

SMITTE IN MILL VALLEY

Will Urge Strict Regulations

To Consider Report Blaming Senate and Not Bobby Baker

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee investigating Bobby Baker goes behind closed doors Wednesday to consider a proposed report that blames the Senate for putting Baker and others in places of responsibility without imposing "enforceable standards of honesty."

To remedy the situation, it urges a strict set of ethical regulations for Senate employes and senators.

The report, submitted to the Rules Committee by its special counsel, L. P. McLendon, alleges that as a Senate employe Baker was guilty of gross improprieties but holds he was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Baker, 36, resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority Oct. 7 after conflict-of-interest allegations.

The proposed report said disclosures in the Senate investigation "convincingly prove the existence of a breeding ground of practices inimical to the public interest."

Criticism of Senate

"No amount of sophistry," it said, "can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it.

"The Senate, as a body, and senators individually have suffered the loss of much respect and prestige because of conditions this investigation has brought to light."

To put the situation to right, McLendon's report urges:

1. A system of compulsory public disclosure of the identity of the financial interests of all senators, officers and employes.

2. Compulsory prohibition "of all associations by senators, officers and employes with persons and organizations outside the Senate who are engaged in conducting business with the government or have business before the government officers or agents."

3. A requirement by "the Senate, as a matter of permanent policy, that all senators respond to requests from any of its committees to appear and testify about any knowledge they have of a subject under investigation.

The report was submitted to the committee 10 days ago and was leaked to newsmen Monday. Wednesday's closed meeting is for members to go over the draft and offer suggestions.

Expects Some Changes

Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., has said he expects the committee to make some changes in the proposed report before submitting it to the Senate.

The committee's Republican minority, which has attacked the Democrats' handling of the investigation, was reported drawing up a separate report.

Dismissing 75 Teachers

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — A packed hearing was told Monday night that 75 teachers from the Vancouver school district are being dismissed because voters in the area defeated a $1.3-million levy proposal twice.

Robert Simpson, assistant superintendent of the school district said the dismissals have nothing to do with the teachers' qualifications.

School Leader Is Fined $50 on Conduct Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The superintendent of public schools in Geneva has been fined $50 after pleading guilty to a disorderly conduct charge.

Melvin C. Livingston, 60, of Geneva, was arrested here Monday and arraigned in City Court.

Livingston said he was in Syracuse to attend a meeting of school officials. He has been superintendent of schools in Geneva since 1957.

Police said Livingston allegedly made improper advances to a male member of the Syracuse police vice squad.

Livingston resigned as superintendent Sept. 27, 1963. The resignation is effective July 1 of this year. He had been superintendent at Geneva for seven years.

Previously Livingston served in various capacities at schools in Valley Falls, Peru, Schroon Lake, Mechanicville and Garden City.

Service Award Goes For Saving Duck Farms

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Agriculture Department said today that a Superior Service award to its Farm Products Promotion Section was the first ever given outside of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The U.S. department makes the award on recommendation of a committee of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture.

The New York department said the award was given to the promotion section for "overcoming a disastrous marketing situation which faced the Long Island duck industry."

"From a dying Long Island industry, Long Island duck farming was transformed into one of the state's most vigorous agricultural enterprises," the state department said.

Trucks, Pipes Are Death of Small Railroad

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — One of the nation's smallest railroads—12 miles long—is closing down because of pipeline and truck competition.

W. J. Winkle, vice president, said the Okmulgee Northern Railway received authorization Monday from the Interstate Commerce Commission to end operations.

The line, which has two diesel engines, 10 employes and assets estimated at $237,751, connects this eastern Oklahoma town to a Kansas, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad junction. The little line was one of the few that operated at a profit during the depression years. It was built in 1916 to serve two oil refineries.

Grows in Role Every Day

Lady Bird Is Most Active First Lady Since Eleanor

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — In just six months, Lady Bird Johnson has become the most active First Lady since the late Eleanor Roosevelt.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson says she has "an unashamed love affair with" the American people. She is making no secret of her affection for them and they are making no secret of theirs for her."

Ease, Grace, Zest

Mrs. Johnson has pitched in to join her husband in every endeavor from outright politicking to polite and formal entertaining at the White House. She does it all with ease, grace and zest.

Crowds in one state after another have shown their enthusiasm for Mrs. Johnson on appearances with the President and on her own. They found her "charming," "prettier than her pictures," "a real Southern lady."

And every month, her calendar, issued by her press secretary, seems to get longer.

It's no secret she plans to start downright campaigning before long. But not now, Lady Bird says only wait until Johnson gets nominated.

Every day, the petite, dark-haired Mrs. Johnson is growing in her role, finding more assurance as a speaker, planning to say more in support of her husband's declarations against poverty and prejudice.

'Shot in Arm to Women'

Watching the 51-year-old First Lady in action, Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg, wife of the Supreme Court justice, commented that "Mrs. Johnson has been such a shot in the arm to women in their middle years by being so active and attractive."

She is proving, says Mrs. Goldberg, that women don't have to go on the shelf, but can "keep being forward - looking and inquiring."

In the first tragic days in the White House after President John F. Kennedy's assassination Mrs. Johnson said she felt her own role "must emerge in deeds, not words."

She has since been referred to as "vice president to the president."

She does just about everything from holding Johnson's Texas hat while he speaks, to watching the clock for him.

Almost from the start, Mrs. Johnson has been compared to Mrs. Roosevelt who traveled widely and was deeply interested in social and economic problems.

Embarrassed by Comparison

At a recent luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation in New York, Mrs. Johnson found herself given the mission by Stevenson to "carry forward the imperishable work of Eleanor Roosevelt.'"

Far from seeking such an inheritance, Mrs. Johnson is somewhat embarrassed by the comparison to the wife of the World War II president, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

One great similarity to Mrs. Roosevelt, however, lies in Mrs. Johnson's early decision to make trips and speeches on her own.

She started the personal inspection tours of poverty areas when she traveled to the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Pa., area in January.

While her husband has been pushing a policy of getting qualified women into top government posts, Mrs. Johnson has launched small, informal monthly luncheons at the White House to spotlight the contributions of "women-doers" in a variety of fields.

When she went along on Johnson's six-state Appalachia, tour, Lady Bird spoke everywhere he did.

But Mrs. Johnson was not always so ready to speak before crowds and had to take a course in public speaking to overcome severe "stage fright."

But since becoming First Lady she has graduated from brief "thank you" remarks to making 20-minute speeches.

All Her 'Friends'

From steelworkers to League of Women Voters, she addresses audiences as "friends."

Her Southern drawl and sometimes sugary delivery have not always been assets. But, Lady Bird is working on that too. She's been calling on her speech teacher, Hazel Beall Provensen, to hear her read speeches and give advice.

She is working now on what she considers an important speech, a baccalaureate address to Radcliffe College next month.

First Ladies in recent years haven't had speech writers of their own and Lady Bird has become "a brain-picker," asking for suggestions from experts and counting on her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, a veteran newspaperwoman, for help.

"Mrs. Johnson is a great one to weigh every word," says "Liz" Carpenter, "and she does not want to say anything that isn't her own belief."

In one of his poverty-area talks, the President jestingly noted that his own wife is "unemployed," but then added that she's far from out of a job.

He told a news conference she was forced to give up her longtime job of operating KTBC, the Austin, Tex., radio and television station she is credited with building into a million-dollar enterprise. It has been placed in the hands of trustees while the Johnsons are in the White House.

A spokesman for the First Lady said she used to draw a salary in five figures as chairman of the board of KTBC. Now, she's finding there are no public funds for a wife anxious to do a job in the White House.

When Lady Bird makes her frequent speech-making trips, for appearances at universities, the Huntsville, Ala., space center, the YWCA and the Cleveland housing project for the elderly, she pays her own way.

When she invites wives of Congress members to go along, White House staffers report with some embarrassment the guests are advised to expect to foot their own bill.

Stamp Group Meets

Kingston Area youths interested in stamp collecting as a hobby have organized a group called the Stamptraders.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, June 6 at 2 p. m. in the new Britt Department Store Community Room. A sponsor is being sought to cover the costs of a meeting place. Anyone under high school age may attend.

More About Veterans

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Gilroy, a prize-winning playwright two-season ago with his first play off-Broadway, continues to be concerned with the problems of Army veterans. "The Subject Was Roses," a new work being presented at the Royale, concerns a mother, father and a son just returned from service.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The big spurt in industrial production this spring may be borrowing from the future—the future in this case being the second half of the year.

Output leaped ahead impressively in April to cheer the majority believing that the economy is heading onward and upward as far as the eye of the prognosticator can see.

Push From Cars, Steel

But the big push that carried the Federal Reserve Board's industrial production index in April a full point above the March level came largely from autos and steel. And there are signs that both are crowding more of their annual production than usual into the first half of the year.

If so, any big gain in the fall would have to be sparked by other segments of production, such as consumer goods. And this will depend on the consumer himself.

In compiling its index, the Federal Reserve gives automotive products a weight of only 3 per cent. But the industry carries a bigger weight in actuality because when it is booming so are many producers of supplies and materials, from metals to glass, from textiles to rubber. The suspicion that the auto industry is producing more just now than it normally would arises from two factors: 1. Statistically, it is now turning out cars at an annual rate of around 8.7 million, although its estimates for the year's total average 8 million; 2. The labor negotiations this summer are expected to be unusually rough, and auto management may be loading up dealers with cars ahead of time, both to ease its own bargaining position and to hedge against any possibility of a strike.

Has Big Orders

Steel is getting its big orders from autos, construction, makers of machinery and business equipment. But steelmen also are predicting total output this year considerably lower than the present annual rate would call for. A summer slowdown is expected. A fall upturn is anticipated, but many think the rate of increase will be much slower than this spring's strong spurt.

Primary and fabricated metals account for 12 per cent of the Federal Reserve's index. And a thriving steel industry also aids others, such as transportation.

So the steel and auto industries between them can swing the index considerably.

Gossip Barometer Tells All

BY RUTH MILLETT Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

How can you tell on short acquaintance whether or not another woman is a gossip? Well, beware of such phrases as these:

"If you repeat this to anyone don't dare say I told you!"

"Promise you won't tell this to a soul because it was told to me in the strictest confidence."

"I feel so sorry for so-and-so; you know about the trouble she's having, don't you "

"There may not be a word of truth in it, but everyone is saying that. . ."

"So-and-so is such a gossip. Just wait until you hear all the stories she told me in a telephone conversation this morning. The first bit of news was . ."

"I don't like to believe the worst of anybody, but . . ."

"Don't you know ANY news at all—about anybody we know?"

"I can't wait to tell you about so-and-so. It's a long, long story."

"I wouldn't tell this to another soul, but I know you won't repeat it."

"I can't tell you who told me this, but it is someone who knows the Smiths intimately—and SHE said . . ."

"I'm not one to gossip about my neighbors, but . . ."

"I certainly didn't intend to eavesdrop, but I couldn't help overhearing . . ."

Those are all phrases dear to the heart of a born gossip. After all, a gossip has to have some way of introducing her subject—and these phrases are the ones most frequently used by gossips to launch a choice tidbit.

BEHAVIOR AT A WAKE

Q: Unfortunately, I have to attend many wakes and every time I go to one I am appalled at the behavior of some of the people. Other than the immediate family and a few close relatives of the deceased, the visitors behave as though they were present at a social event. They gather in groups talking quite audibly and laughing. Maybe I'm an old prude but I think such behavior in very bad taste. Will you please be good enough to print something in your column on the proper conduct of visitors at a wake?

A: I agree with you thoroughly. In fact, I can't imagine anything more ill-bred. Those going to a wake should conduct themselves with quiet dignity and reserve. To turn this very sad occasion into a gay social gathering is not only shocking but heartless as well.

Flowers for the Altar

Q: Are all white flowers the only correct ones to use as decoration at a church wedding? The altar of our church (a very beautiful one) is all white marble and I'm afraid white flowers will scarcely be visible against it. Would colored flowers be in good taste I was thinking of using them.

A: Although white flowers are usual, it would be quite all right to use colored ones to decorate the altar. As a suggestion, should you decide on white flowers after all, if you add a generous amount of greens as a background, it will make the flowers stand out.

Selecting Place for Wedding Reception

Q: Is it necessary to ask the bridegroom's mother to go along when selecting a place for the reception. My fiance's mother is making quite a fuss because she was not asked to accompany my mother and me when we went to look for a place.

A: The bridegroom's mother neither contributes toward the expenses of the reception nor has she anything to say about where it is to be held or how large it is to be.

Baptists Focus Attention on Racial Question

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The nation's Baptists focused on the racial issue today as they began meetings which will culminate in a joint celebration of the 150th anniversary of Baptist work in America.

Northern and Southern Baptists are meeting separately. About 40,000 Baptists are expected for activities this week, including joint meetings of seven U.S. Baptist groups.

The American (Northern) Baptist Convention, which has taken strong stands against racial discrimination in the past, gets down to work today.

The group will be addressed tonight and Wednesday by two leaders in the civil rights movement, the Rev. Dr. Ralph Abernathy and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., both of Atlanta.

The racial issue likely will hit the Southern Baptist Convention floor Thursday when the Christian Life Commission makes its report. There have been indications that an effort will be made to get endorsement for a strong Southern stand against segregation.

Harold E. Stassen, president of the American Baptist Convention, called Monday night for a middle-of-the-road policy on civil rights.

"Segregation or discrimination on the basis of race or color is clearly wrong; on the other hand the forceful insistence upon complete fulfillment of rights as individually interpreted is not sustained by our religious principles as I see it," said Stassen.

Apportionment Approach Topic For State LWV

The president of the Woodstock League of Women Voters, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, announced today the report of the delegates to the State Council held at Utica May 12-13, as follows: For the past year we have been studying, "Evaluation of Methods of assuring equitable apportionment among New York state legislative and congressional districts."

At the council sessions all delegates were asked to express their membership feeling on the study item.

After evaluating the feeling of all the leagues in the state the following statement was expressed: "The League of Women Voters recognizes that the primary importance of population as a factor of representation in the state legislature, but agrees some other factors in addition must be considered.

We believe that population should be the only basis of representation in one house. In the second house population should be a factor, but we have not as yet determined what weight should be given it nor what other factors should be included." Out of this evaluation has emerged the direction for our study in the following year.

The League derives all positions from independent studies and discussions, taking into account all points of view and does not support any party or candidate.

Portable Pump Exercise Proves Major Success

Questions concerning the possible output of a portable pump supplying a fire engine pumping at near capacity were answered Sunday morning as the four units of the Woodstock Fire Department held a drill on Yerry Hill Road in Bearsville.

Line officers of the department, including the captains of the four fire companies, planned the drill to foster better cooperative effort on the part of the firemen of the township.

Portable pumps from Woodstock and Lake Hill were utilized to pump water from the creek into the thousand gallon portable tank owned by the village unit. From this tank the engine from Wittenberg drafted water which was relayed up Yerry Hill to a second pumper from the village, which in turn pumped water onto a mythical fire. The pumper from Zena was also in use at the drill.

Officials of the fire department expressed satisfaction with the performance, noting that recent additions to the town's equipment was making it possible to cope with fires which in the past had been found extremely difficult due to lack of available water.

Police Checking Local Burglary

Woodstock police were checking out leads yesterday in connection with the burglary at the Gulf gas station operated by William Weigel of Yerry Hill Road.

The gas station, located across from the Grand Union, was entered some time after 10:30 p. m. Saturday night. Entrance was made through a rear, side window.

The cigaret machine was rifled and damaged and cash loss of $17.00 was reported. A desk drawer was also jammed.

About 2:30 a. m. Sunday, Officers Snyder and Reynolds were patrolling the Rock City Road area when they became suspicious of a car in that area. They sought to check the car but the driver raced from the scene at high speed and eluded the partol on the Glasco Turnpike.

The local police would not speculate on a possible tie in between the gas station burglary and the suspicious car, but reported they had a lead on the car and were checking it out.

3-Run Sixth Decides Tilt; Bach Is Winner

Keeping their DUSO flag hopes alive, Kingston High players scored three runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock and defeat Middletown, 5-2, yesterday at the losers' diamond.

In the other circuit game, Pete Petrillo fired a two-hitter as Newburgh blanked Poughkeepsie, 7-0.

Brian Bach went the distance for coach Al Gruner's nine, spacing four hits. He was touched for a first inning home run by Dennis George and a pair of singles in the third. Aside from those mild threats, the sophomore was in complete command of the situation.

The locals nipped loser Fran (Butch) Warnke for a run in the third when Lou Perry walked with two outs and came home on successive singles by Nick Berardi and Paul Gruner.

Hits by Bach, Berardi and Gruner knotted the count in the fifth.

Warnke's defense deserted him in the sixth. John Eccleston began the frame with a single. Gary Johnson reached first on an error. A walk to Bach and two more errors accounted for the three winning runs.

Kingston has a 4-2 league mark and is 7-3 for the season. The Maroon players will host Newburgh Thursday in a DUSO attraction.

Valley Chess Championship At Deanie's in Woodstock

Deanie's in Woodstock will be the scene of the 1964 Hudson Valley Chess League championship tournament, June 12-13-14, it was announced today.

This is the biggest event of the year for chess fans throughout the Hudson Valley. Appearing will be players from Albany, Schenectady, Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Yorktown Heights. The performances will be judged by the U. S. Chess Federation, and national ratings will be awarded the individual competitors.

A special feature will be a dinner June 13 honoring last year's championship team, Yorktown Heights. This will be held in the evening after the third round of play, at which time trophies will be awarded.

Last year's league champion Don Schultz and runner-up Phil Steiner, both of Poughkeepsie, are scheduled to meet again this year. The 1963 tourney wound up in a dead heat between these two players and Schultz won the ensuing three game playoff by a score of 2-1. The rematch promises to be exciting.

The Kings Knight Chess Club of Kingston will host the event. The local club has entered 14 players, among them are club champion John Sowa, 1962's outstanding league player John Meyer, and 14-year-old Eugene Meyer, who will be the youngest player to compete this year.

This tournament has always aroused great interest and arrangements have been made as usual for the expected crowd of fans and well-wishers.

Phils 1st After 4-0 Decision

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson.

The Colts got nary a one.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning proved most ungentlemanly to the ladies and the Colts Monday night, ruining a "Runs for Johnson" promotion by allowing Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

The Colts staged the promotion in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-luck knuckleballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record. In the three losing efforts, including a no-hitter, the Colts had managed only two runs for Johnson.

The gimmick was simple: All ladies who arrived at the ball park with runs in their nylons were to be admitted at a reduced rate. Of the 5,284 people on hand, 186 were ladies with mashed mesh.

The result also was simple: Not only were the Colts unable to get a run, they had difficulty getting men on base. Only two reached first, Nellie Fox when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning and Jim Wynn, who lashed a ground single over third base leading off the fifth inning.

Mauch Watches

Otherwise Bunning was untouchable, bringing his record to 5-1 with his second shutout while Manager Gene Mauch watched from the stands. Mauch had been fined $150 and suspended for two days following a run-in with umpire Lee Weyer in Sunday night's game.

Mauch's suspension will last through tonight's game against the Giants at San Francisco. The Giants, beaten by the New York Mets 4-2, are in second place, 10 percentage points behind the Phillies.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Steve Blass won his first major league start with a seven-hitter as Pittsburgh ended Don Dyrsdale's five-game winning streak by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2.

Detroit edged Washington 7-6 in the only American League game scheduled.

Bunning got the only run he needed in the fourth inning when Johnson was touched for singles by Wes Covington, John Herrnstein and Bobby Wine. The Phillies added two runs in the fifth when Richie Allen doubled, John Callison singled and Tony Gonzalez doubled. Gonzalez doubled in another run in the seventh after Allen singled.

Johnson struck out nine and allowed nine hits before being replaced in the eighth inning.

The Mets had been unable to score against San Francisco pitching for 31 innings and trailed 1-0 in the eighth when Bob Taylor singled, Rod Kanehl beat out an infield hit and George Altman homered. That provided Galen Cisco with the victory and tagged Bob Shaw with the defeat.

Mays Down to .407

The Giants used Willie Mays as a defensive replacement in the eighth inning. Mays got to bat only once, flied out and had his average trimmed another four points to .407.

Trailing 2-0, the Pirates struck for three runs in the sixth. A double by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon's single scored the first run off Drysdale in 17 innings. A single by Roberto Clemente and a walk that filled the bases chased Drysdale. With Ron Perranoski pitching, Gene Freese hit a sacrifice fly and Donn Clendenon stroked a single to push the other runs across.

The Tigers defeated the Senators despite two homers and four runs batted in by Don Lock. Gates Brown and Norm Cash each collected three RBI for Detroit. Brown doubled home the tying runs in the ninth before Cash doubled home the clincher.

G.G.'s Rest scored 15 runs in the first inning and beat the 35 Club, 17-0 in a City Softball league game.

Palmer Rallies To Win Tourney

By NORMAN ROWLAND
Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "When did you know you had it won, Arnie?" someone asked Arnold Palmer.

"When he stepped off the plane," Ernie Vossler interjected.

Actually, it wasn't that simple for the four-times Masters champion.

Palmer trailed Lionel Hebert by three strokes going into the final round of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Monday, then put together one of his typically brazen, blistering finishes for a two-stroke triumph.

Palmer, boldly going to his driver at every opportunity, whipped over the 7,042-yard Quail Creek Country Club course in a final-round five-under-par 67 for a winning 277, including birdies on the last two holes.

"I've been playing pretty well from tee to green," Arnie said. "The difference was in the putting. I was rolling in some of the little ones I haven't been getting lately."

He also got a little help from the weather.

The tourney start was delayed by two days of rain. On one of those days, Thursday, Palmer had shot a 75 before it was washed off the boards. When the first round was finally played Saturday, he had a 72, added a 69 Sunday and had another 69 on the first 18 holes of Monday's 36-hole windup.

It was his first tourney victory since he picked up his fourth Masters title at Augusta, Ga., earlier this year. The $5,800 first-place money increased $44,298.

Hebert, who shared the halfway lead with George Bayer and was in sole control after 54 holes, blew his lead with bogies on the second and third holes of the final round.

Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead to stay with another birdie on the sixth hole. Hebert never caught up, but he, Jack McGowan, South Africa's Bob Verwey and Mike Souchak stayed in contention until Palmer charged home with two closing birdies.

Hebert finished with a par 72 for 279 and $3,500 second-place money.

Verwey had a closing 70 for 281 and third place, his best PGA tour finish. McGowan, 73, and Souchak, 72, tied for fourth at 282. Dave Marr had a closing 68 for 283 and sixth place.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall on Friday, the 19th of June, 1964, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, commence selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1962 for 1963 and Kingston Consolidated School District taxes for the year 1963-64 on properties outside the City limits, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the rights of persons in the military service as defined and established by section 500 of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act as amended October 7, 1942, and all subsequent amendments, thereto.

Innocent Pleas Given by Millers In Price-Fix Case

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Innocent pleas to charges of conspiring to fix prices of flour purchased by commercial bakeries have been entered in federal court by a dozen flour-milling companies and six officers of some of the companies.

The pleas were entered Monday when the defendants appeared before Judge John O. Henderson of Federal Court.

A federal grand jury returned an indictment April 28 accusing the companies and officers of subjecting commercial buyers of flour to artificially high and non-competitive prices.

The companies do a total annual business of $305 million and produce 65 per cent of the bakery flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains.

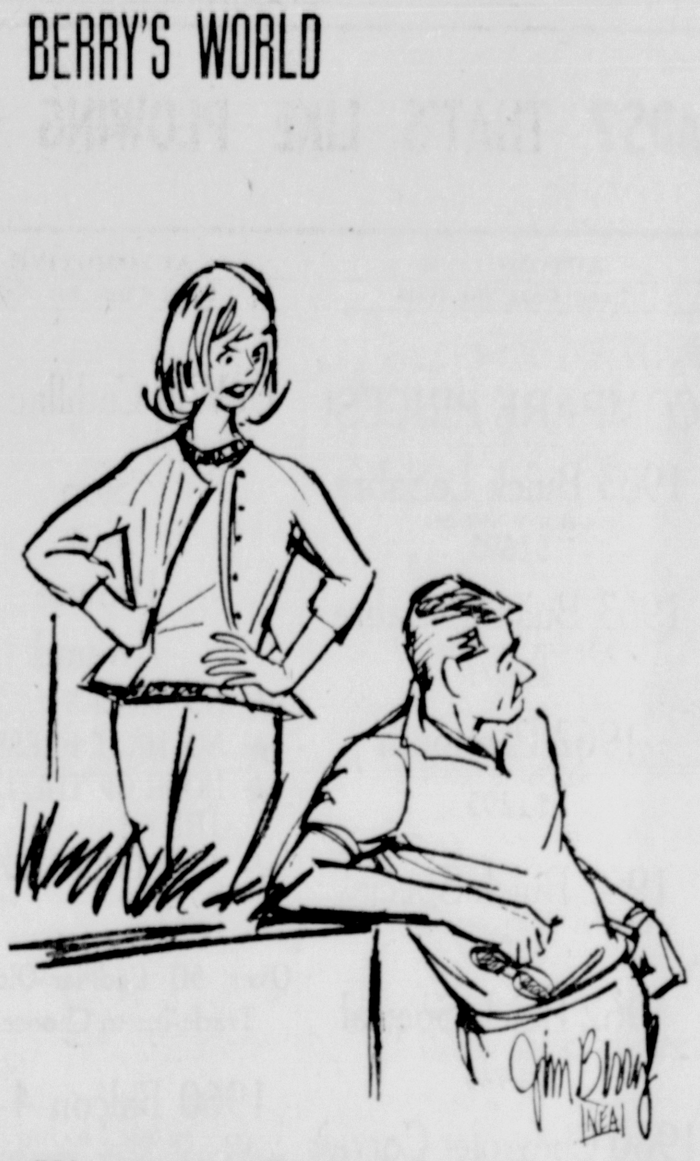
An 18-month investigation into the pricing, purchasing and sales policies of most of the nation's largest milling companies was conducted by the grand jury.

The industry's two largest firms, General Mills and the Pillsbury Co. both of Minneapolis, were among those indicted.

Worker Burns Toes, Disrupts City Power

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.m(AP) — Julian Salazar, 29, suffered small burns on each of his big toes Monday when he made accidental contact with a 138,000-volt power line. The mishap knocked out electrical power in a large section of San Antonio for 20 minutes.

Salazar told investigators he was working at a City Public Service Board substation when a steel reinforcement rod he held touched the power line.



"Of course, you realize that by buying this moderately priced American-made 'sports car'—you've pegged us!"

Bids Dems Seek More School Aid On U. S. Platform

NEW CITY, N.Y. (AP) — An official of the State Democratic Committee says more federal aid to education should be sought, to take some of the tax burden from suburban homeowners.

Mrs. Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the committee, urged such a plank for the party's national platform at a hearing in this Rockland County community Monday.

She said property taxes "have reached the saturation point."

"Today, many who have moved with their children to suburbia are returning to New York City because they cannot cope with local taxes," she said.

The hearing was the first of a series throughout the state to tap grass roots sentiment. The next will be in New York City Wednesday.

Missing Whistle Back, Sent to Retired Dean

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The mystery of Georgia Tech's missing steam whistle is over.

Polished and mounted on a base, the whistle was delivered to the residence of retiring Dean George C. Griffin bearing this inscription:

"In behalf of all Tech men, this silenced memento is presented in the spirit of infamous Tech traditions to: Dean George C. Griffin, who has contributed so much to the legend of Georgia Tech."

Sent "to Mr. Georgia Tech," it was signed, "From the magnificent seven."

The heavy, 2-foot brass whistle was stolen Oct. 31, 1963, from atop a campus building.

Three Men Die In Fiery Crash

MONTOUR FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Three men were killed early today in the fiery collision of an automobile and a tractor-trailer on Route 224 in this Schuyler County community.

Sheriff's deputies identifed the dead, all occupants of the car, as:

Joseph J. Barber, 20, of Montour Falls; Curtis R. Baker, about 20, of Port Allegheny, Pa.; and William Wolverton, 62, of Dundee.

Authorities said the car went out of control, crossed the highway and collided headon with the truck. Explosion of the truck's gas tanks wrapped the car in flames.

Ernest Parker, 38, of Batavia, the truck driver, escaped with minor injuries, deputies reported.

It was not determined immediately whether the fire or the crash had caused the deaths of the three.

AX-OGENERIAN — Most 87-year-old women are content with crocheting or reading, but Mrs. Leona Lykins of Nashville, Mich., enters wood chopping contests. The winner of this contest held during a spring festival in Vermontville, Mich., cut through a six-inch log in 34 seconds. Mrs. Lykins took considerably more time, but the crowd gave her the biggest hand.

Think Woman Swept To Death Over Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A Canadian woman was "most likely" swept to her death over the falls Monday, police in Niagara Falls, Ont., report.

The body of Mrs. Erica Foxman, 40, of Downsview, in suburban Toronto, was recovered along the Canadian shore of the lower Niagara River near the Maid of the Mist tour boat landing.

A verdict on the cause of the death was not issued pending further investigation, police said.

Mrs. Foxman and her husband, Louis, had been visiting here and were staying at a hotel, police said.

Murder Charge Dropped; Stirs Religious Faith

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — "It caused me to become a true Christian ...," says a 49-year-old man, who has been cleared of a first-degree murder charge after spending five years in prison, including 1½ years in the death house at Sing Sing.

Ernest Jackson expressed himself Monday in a letter to Judge Jacob A. Latona of Erie County Court, who had been one of three judges in Jackson's case.

Jackson, who still is being held on a fugitive from justice warrant issued by Illinois authorities, wrote from his Erie County Jail cell, "I want your honor to know (from) my heart how it does forever thank you for the sentence of my natural life in Attica (State) Prison over five years ago in which the final result gave me my freedom."

Sentenced to Life

Latona sentenced Jackson to life imprisonment at Attica State Prison following his conviction on charges of first-degree murder in the April 19, 1959 holdup-slaying of Henry Duscher, a delicatessen owner.

Jackson and Willie J. Robinson, 38, who also had been sentenced to life imprisonment, filed appeals in the case after they reached Attica. Alfonso Williams, 30, also sentenced to life imprisonment, did not appeal.

The convictions were set aside and new trials ordered. Jackson and Robinson were returned to Erie County, stood trial a second time and again were found guilty of first-degree murder.

Judge William J. Regan of Erie County Court sentenced the men to die in the electric chair.

Taken to Death House

They were taken to the death house at Sing Sing Prison at Ossining in July, 1962. The Court of Appeals, after reviewing the case, ordered new trials.

Earlier this year, Jackson and Robinson returned to Buffalo. On April 13, the murder indictment against Jackson was dismissed by Judge William W. Serra of Allegeny County Court, presiding in Erie County Court, because of "no competent proof" presented to the county grand jury that would connect Jackson with the crime.

A first-degree murder indictment still is pending against Robinson.

Poodle Adopts Three Small Mocking Birds

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "It's more the dog wanting them to be puppies than the birds wanting to be puppies."

That's the way Mrs. Orbun T. Moore described relations between her white female poodle, Shalley, and the three young mocking birds the dog has adopted.

Shalley took the fledglings to raise two weeks ago when they were about a week old. Their real mother had abandoned them.

Fed a diet of soft-scrambled eggs, egg yolk, ground meat and bread soaked in milk, they flourished. Shalley, who has never been a mother, took care of them as if they were puppies.

Williams Asks Stay of Order To Raze Lighthouse Station

Action has been taken to stay the razing of the 129-year-old Saugerties lighthouse at the mouth of the Esopus on the Hudson River.

In letters mailed Monday night to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of this district and Capt. G. R. Boyce Jr., chief of operations of U.S. Coast Guard, Supervisor Peter M. Williams has asked for a stay of execution of the orders to demolish the landmark and start construction of a steel tower for a beacon light.

New York Senators Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating will also be contacted in order to present a solid front against any action to dynamite the lighthouse.

Supervisor Williams asked for sufficient time to permit further study by the village and town to acquire property. The building contains about 10 rooms and the lighthouse is situated on about 4½ acres of land.

It had been suggested by the supervisor that a small park could be established at the lighthouse site and the building could be restored for a marine museum.

Supervisor Williams said he had inspected the place with carpenters, contractors and other members of the building trades to determine if the structure is worth saving and if restoration could be made at small cost.

Preliminary estimate indicate it would cost about $5,000 to restore the building and make it safe for occupancy. As no such amount is available in either town or village budget, the projects must be paid for by subscription of the public.

Members of the Village Board of Trustees inspected the site Monday night prior to the regular board meeting.

VFW Auxiliary Sets Installation, Lists Activities

Installation of new officers, the coming antique show and sale, and the setting of the memorial services were the highlights of last week's session of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW.

Twelve exhibitors will display on Friday and Saturday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day in the Post Home. Monies realized will be used in the hospital and rehabilitation work.

Memorial Day, May 30, will start with the Post and Auxiliary attending the annual Gold Star Mother's Mass in St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, at 8 a. m., after which the Rev. Archibald Damm conducts services at their monument. VFW services at the Post Home will follow. The members will then join the Legion in their services at the Legion monument, John Street, and march in the Legion parade and observances at the Main Street School. At the conclusion of these services, the VFW members will conduct memorial tributes at the Maine Monument, Malden. All Auxiliary and Post members are expected to attend all the days observances.

Mrs. Mary Bonack, rehabilitation chairman, reported that 18 corsages had been sent to the Gold Star Mothers on Mothers Day. Mrs. Arold stated that 76 bed pads were made, and six johnny coats totaling 25 hours and $107 value.

Sincere thanks was extended to the Auxiliary members who helped to promote the Loyalty Day program by the co-chairman, Mrs. Isabel DeCelle, who stated that the ladies gave their fullest cooperation in order to make the events so successful.

The Community Service chairman, Mrs. Ethel Jehle, received notice from the Department of New York that Saugerties Post and Auxiliary placed 10th in more than 400 Auxiliaries in the state in its community service work. Mrs. Jehle received a standing vote of thanks from the membership for her work in compiling the scrap book. A certificate will be presented to her at the Department Convention in June.

A mother-daughter tea sponsored by the Junior Unit of the Auxiliary is slated for Sunday, June 7, at the hall, according to the group's organizer, Mrs. Marie Sheehan. The girls now meet the first Thursday of each month from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. New members are welcome.

The bus trip to the New York World's Fair has been temporarily postponed until the fall.

Local DAR Hears Washington, D. C. ConferenceReport

A report of the 73rd Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held recently in Washington, D. C., was presented at a meeting of Saugerties Chapter held at the home of Mrs. Charles Abbott.

Mrs. Daniel Lamouree, regent, was unable to attend, but she read a report sent to her by the other local delegate Miss Helen Vrooman.

Following are excerpts from the complete report:

The theme was "The People Who Know Their God Shall Stand Firm and Take Action," Book of Daniel XI:32. A stirring address was given by Harry Flood Byrd, United States Senator from Virginia. The subject was, "Today's Challenge." Sen. Byrd criticized the foreign aid policy with particular reference to the amount of money expended, especially amounts going to Communist countries. He also criticized the usurpation of power by the Supreme Court with reference to religious practices, state sovereignity, executive power and the powers of Congress.

Reports were heard from the national officers. A presentation of the United States Treasury Citation to the National Society Daughter of the American Revolution was made by Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, chairman National Women's Committee for U. S. Savings Bonds.

About 200 top officers of the DAR were entertained by Mrs. Johnson "The First Lady" at a tea held in the state dining room of the White House.

A resolution to expand the facilities of the DAR Library by renovation of the balcony section, which had previously been approved by the delegates was passed.

After another session by special arrangements, a courtesy tour of the National Gallery was made available to interested delegates.

The results of a poll conducted by the DAR in seven key states was reported by Mrs. Joseph Janowski, vice chairman of public relations. The seven states selected were California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia. Eight categories selected for the poll were newspapers, teachers, students, clergy, business, club women, salaried persons and friends of the DAR pollsters. The five questions posed to the public for simple yes, no don't know answers were:

Do you know what the initials DAR mean?

Do you know why DAR was organized?

Do you think DAR patriotic aims benefit you?

Do you approve of DAR policies?

The national average showed that 94 per cent knew what the initials DAR represented. 50 per cent thought DAR patriotic aims benefited them. Illinois with the largest DAR state membership (9,781) made the poorest showing —only 35 per cent knew why DAR was organized and what the DAR does. The most favorable public opinion came from South Carolina.

In Indiana the highest rate of DAR policies approval was the newspapers with 70 per cent agreement. In Texas and Virginia the lowest rate of DAR approval came from the clergy.

Approximately 3,000 delegates were present at the Congress, 1000 of whom wished to attend "DAR Day" at the Worlds Fair in New York. A luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel officially closed the congress.

Sally R. Brinnier, publicity chairman, announces June 13 is the last meeting for the summer. The topic will be Flag Day. This will be a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. William Young, Lighthouse Drive.

Faculty Help Is Cited on Teacher Recognition Day

In observance this week of Teacher Recognition Day, Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association wishes to acknowledge the support and assistance to the organization of the faculty members of the Saugerties Central Schools.

Ever since the establishment of the Parent-Teacher Association in Saugerties, faculty members have been active as committee members and officers. They have assisted with the planning and presentation of programs, with the raising of funds for scholarships and other purposes, with conducting membership drives, with preparation of publicity materials, and with working on many other activities of the organization.

Almost half of the former presidents of Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association have been members of the faculty. Considering the proportion of parents and teachers who have been members, this has been an unusually high percentage of presidents to have been elected from among the teachers.

The newly-elected president, William Provost, is a Fourth Grade teacher in the Glasco School.

For their outstanding leadership and contributions, several faculty members have been honored by being chosen as life members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Among honored who are presently members of the faculty or who have recently retired and are residing in Saugerties are Mrs. Sam Adams, Patrick Buonfiglio, Mrs. Maurice Clements, Miss May Evans, Miss A Frances Larned, Miss M. Elinor Lente, and Dr. Grant D. Morse.

There is still time to enter the annual Page One Queen contest for young ladies in Ulster County in the 16 to 24 age bracket. The Kingston Newspaper Guild's queen and two attendants will be chosen Sunday 3:30 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties.

The Page One Queen and her attendants will preside at the annual Page One Ball of area newsmen on Saturday, June 6 at Wiltwyck Country Club.

The winners are chosen by a panel of judges on the basis of poise, personality and charm. Entrants will compete in gowns or fancy ensembles. There is no judging in bathing suits.

Those wishing to enter the contest may contact Miss Rose Bruno, P. O. Box 153, Rondout Station, Kingston. The most recent girl chosen was Miss Sara Imhoff of Mt. Airy.

Many Horses Die In Kentucky Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Officials hoped to determine today exactly how many thoroughbred horses died from fire that turned Miles Park Race Track into a blistered arena of panic-stricken animals.

As best as could be determined Monday night, 17 thoroughbreds perished in the flames Monday afternoon, five more were injured and had to be destroyed and another died of a heart attack.

The flames, thrown from barn to barn by winds, drove the horses into stampede, their charges scattered firemen trying to douse the flames and their hooves sent up dust in choking clouds to mingle with the smoke.

Grooms, trainers, and stable hands led others of the some 600 horses to safety, including Devil's Advocate, one of the biggest winners at small tracks.

Twelve horse barns and one feed barn were destroyed by the fire, which started in a tack room of one barn. Track general manager Horace Wade estimated damage to barns at $100,000 but said it could go higher. No figure was available on the value of the horses lost. None was believed to be of great value.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke or heat, or burned slightly, in battling the blaze.

At one time about 250 horses ran loose on the grounds. Those that had to be destroyed injured themselves in terrorized lunges against fences and other obstacles. Some animals got out of the track area and onto nearby streets and highways.

Aussie Tennis Feud Dims Davis Cup Hopes

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The feud between Australia's Lawn Tennis Association and the country's leading players, including international star Roy Emerson, has pinned hopes for regaining the Davis Cup on a trio of second stringers.

The LTAA named Bob Hewitt, John Newcombe and Anthony Roche to the Cup squad Monday. Emerson, Fred Stolle, Ken Fletcher and Martin Mulligan, under suspension for defying an association ban on overseas competition before last April 1, were ignored by the selection committee.

Sports in Brief

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (AP)—A pro-am tuneup today opens the inaugural $5,000 Home Pro Golf Tournament at Gulf Hills Country Club.

Fifty-four holes of medal play will follow the pro-am.

Only professionals who have not competed in more than three PGA-sponsored tournaments in the last 12 months are eligible for the tournament—which is designed especially for club pros.

CHICAGO (AP) — Halfback Ron Bull has signed for his third season with the Chicago Bears, the National Football League champions announced today.

Small Attendance At Olympic Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest attraction at the World's Fair drew only about 500 spectators Monday night and it was a pity. For Buster Mathis, a 6-foot-3, 298-pounder with surprising sprightliness, outpointed Dick Pettigrew, a mere 205-pounder but an experienced Navy champion, to advance to the semifinals of the Olympic Boxing Trials.

Buster, a 19-year-old sign painter from Grand Rapids Mich., and the AAU champion, will meet Tyrone Hollins, a 196-pound soldier from Coffeyville, Kan., in the feature of the 20-bout semifinals tonight in the 18,000-seat outdoor Singer Bowl.

The winers of the 10 finals Wednesday night will represent Uncle Sam in the Tokyo Olympics Oct. 10-24.

Hollins, a left-hander, upset Al Wilson, the inter-service champion from the Camp Pendleton Marines and McKeesport, Pa., in the other heavyweight bout in the evening.

Despite beautiful, summery weather and the right price—admission is free to all visitors to the Fair once they pay their admission to the grounds—only about 1,000 in all saw the afternoon and night bouts.

London Seeking End of Attacks By Pathet Lao

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today it is seeking Soviet and Red Chinese cooperation to halt attacks by Communist-led Pathet Lao forces in the kingdom of Laos.

A Foreign Office spokesman, reading a prepared statement to newsmen, said:

"We have followed with serious concern developments in Laos resulting from the continued attacks by the Pathet Lao.

"Her Majesty's ambassador in Moscow has already been in touch with the Soviet government and we shall be discussing the matter further both with the Soviet government and the Chinese government. We also, of course, are in close touch with the United States and other interested governments."

Find Explosive On Victoria Span

MONTREAL (AP)—A homemade bomb was found on the Victoria Bridge over the St. Lawrence Seaway early today, after hours of separatist disturbances in Montreal.

Det. Sgt. Leo Plouffe, Montreal police bomb disposal expert, dropped the explosive into the St. Lawrence River, well away from the St. Lambert Locks.

Earlier in the night about 1,000 police battled crowds of youths demanding separation of French-speaking Quebec from the English-speaking Canadian provinces.

Police arrested at least 85 on charges of disturbing the peace.

Two demonstrations at a "patriots' monument" blocked the Jacques - Cartier Bridge across the St. Lawrence. Autos lined up for miles south of the city. Many of the motorists were returning from the long Victoria Day holiday weekend.

The bomb was found on the Victoria Bridge five hours after an anonymous threat was telephoned to the police. Auto and railroad traffic was kept from the bridge during that time.

The bridge connects Montreal and the south shore of the St. Lawrence. Several trains running to the east and to the United States were held up.

Plouffe said the bomb was made from a World War II shell casing apparently filled with an explosive and was wrapped in a plastic bag.

Anchorage Becomes Tense From Quake Aftershocks

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Residents of this shattered city, who showed almost no panic in the Alaska earthquake of March 27, have become tense and apprehensive from a steady series of aftershocks.

Their reactions have not been unusual, said doctors, psychiatrists and a psychologist in an Associated Press survey.

"I think everybody reacted quite calmly and adjusted quite well to the disaster," said Dr. William A. Davis, assistant professor of psychology at Alaska Methodist University. "There has been very little maladaptive or maladjusted behavior."

Private physicians said there has been a moderate to heavy increase in the number of persons complaining of nervous problems.

"The earthquake had a sizable impact emotionally," said Dr. J. R. Langdon, a psychiatrist. "But I suspect it will not prove to have been real bad."

Another psychiatrist, Dr. W.J. Rader, said people "rose to the occasion because it was a clear and present danger and they could address themselves to necessities that had to be taken care of."

The earthquake actually helped some emotionally upset persons, said the doctors, because it enabled them to forget their real or imagined personal problems.

There was very little panic in the original quake, they said, because people had no warning, probably didn't realize at first how severe it was, did not witness many casualties and were not in large crowds that generate mass terror.

That the aftershocks have been causing acute anxiety was indicated in a survey of 180 residents by Davis' university classs. Many said they felt panicky.

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey at Fairbanks said it appeared that aftershocks strong enough to be felt could be expected for several weeks.

Langdon said that for some residents the quake was followed by excessive sleeping and fatigue.

Residents are becoming angry about the impact of the quake, he said, and probably will become depressed this summer or fall if there is lack of progress in solving problems.

German Youths Leave Following 3-Day Festival

BERLIN (AP) — After three days of singing, parading and listening to Communist propaganda, a half-million East German youths returned to their homes today.

They had come from all over East Germany to attend the first Communist youth festival in East Berlin in 10 years.

Thousands of police, backed by a motorized infantry company, kept watch on Monday night's closing activities to prevent any repetition of violence that broke out Sunday night.

Extra guards also were on duty along the Berlin Wall to prevent escapes. The wall had not been built when the 1954 festival was held, and festival participants could visit West Berlin. Hundreds stayed in the Western sector.

5 Are Arrested For Fighting at Shopping Center

Five men were booked on public intoxication charges after a report to local police Monday at about 7 p. m., that "a large group of men" were involved in "a free-for-all" fight at the rear of Britt's Department Store, Kingston Plaza Shopping Center.

Arrested were Frank P. Miller, 60, Lester S. Purdy, 54, and William Wanser, 50, who said they have no homes; Michael J. Byrnes, 52, who gave his address as Sacramento, Calif., and John J. Harnen, 45, who said he lives on Downs Street, Kingston.

Officers George Barringer, Leon Fitzgerald, Kenneth Radel and Otto Short were dispatched to the area after the fight was reported.

Harnen and Wanser, who had been in court on previous occasions on public intoxication charges, were sentenced to 30 days in jail each and the others were given suspended sentences of 30 days.

Reading Program

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Wesleyan University, which has revised curricula to put more emphasis on individual research and study, is starting a voluntary reading program on a 2½-year trial basis.

SHH! ROBIN AT WORK—Mama Robin took up residence in an evergreen just outside the main entrance to the Port Ewen School several weeks ago and is hatching her brood under the protection of fence and do not disturb signs. Reports from the "nursery" are that one baby bird hatched this morning and more arrivals are expected momentarily. Observing progress at the nest are (l-r) Mrs. Ann Van Bramer, art teacher who made the signs, Robert Graves, principal and fourth graders Cynthia Kirk and Jo-Ann Potter. (Freeman photo)

June 20 Last To Get Pageant Reserved Seats

Area residents are being given the opportunity to support the Miss New York State Pageant held here annually and at the same time be eligible for their choice of reserved seats at this outstanding entertainment.

The pageant ticket committee, headed by Herman G. Rafalowsky, has mailed patron tickets to many area residents and businesses. Patron tickets are being sold at a small increase in price over regular admissions, not only help support this major statewide promotional event, but if redeemed by June 20, entitle the purchaser to their selection of the best reserved seats. The public sale of tickets will start on this date.

Only one patron ticket is being mailed with each letter. Additional tickets may be purchased at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, headquarters for the Miss New York State Pageant.

The Pageant will be held in Kingston July 9, 10 and 11, for the sixth consecutive year at Kingston High School Auditorium. It is the only official statewide preliminary competition for the Miss America Pageant. It is staged by volunteers representing the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. Six are appointed by each organization, but many other volunteers are enlisted to help stage the event.

All seats in the high school auditorium are reserved. The fact that every seat was sold for the Saturday night performance last year, indicates the necessity to purchase and redeem the patron tickets on or before June 20.

The pageant committee believes that Kingston will be awarded the state franchise year after year if the community supports the event sufficiently to stage a worthwhile pageant and gives it adequate promotion. It is a nonprofit venture and any income over necessary expenditures will be used to build up the program.

To Clean Ulster Well Wednesday

Abram Winchell, superintendent of the Town of Ulster Water District, announced today that the town well will be cleaned on Wednesday.

Winchell called on water district users to conserve the consumption of water on that day to facilitate the cleaning project.

Realtors to Meet Thursday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Board of Realtors will be held Thursday at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 7:30 p. m.

Alexander Yosman will speak on Urban Renewal and of the latest developments and progress being made in the Urban Renewal Plan to date.

Delegates will be named to attend the 60th meeting of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc., which will be in convention on June 7-10 at Sagamore Hotel, Bolton Landing.

All members and salesmen of the local board are urged to attend the meeting Thursday as matters of importance will be transacted. Plans of Realtor Week will be completed and announced by Vincent Sheridan, chairman.
